Democratic Mayoralty Candidates Show Sane and Friendly Spirit

Pledge Themselves to Work for the Party's Success at the Polls—No Personalities in Any of the Speeches

The unusual spectacle of two rival mayoralty candidates entering arm in arm at a public reception was noted at Associate hall, last evening, when Messrs. O'Donnell and Daly arrived at the reception tendered to Bishop Anderson by the Knights of Columbus. It gave evidence of the clean conduct of the campaign on the part not only of these two candidates but of all, for in all the speeches made last evening the most exacting critic could find nothing that savored of a personal nature or a reflection on any opposing candidate, and the prospect for a united party behind the nominee, whoever he may be, is most encouraging. With the democrats united and the apathy of the republican party there can be little doubt of the ultimate result.

Daly in Centralville
John W. Daly devoted the early part of the evening to a rally in Odd Fellows hall, where he was greeted by a large and friendly audience. Mr. Daly confined his remarks to his attitude on the important question of charter revision and the needs of Lowell in this respect. Through his experience in both branches of the city council Mr. Daly is decidedly well informed on this subject, and set forth his ideas on the matter in a most interesting and convincing manner. He stated his confidence in his ability to win at the polls but assured the voters if the nomination went to another candidate he would still work as hard as he could for the election of the party nominee.

Meehan in Belvidere
Rep. John K. Meehan addressed two large gatherings at the corner of Fayette and East Merrimack streets, and at the corner of Sherman and Concord streets, many republican residents of Belvidere being noted among the large gathering of democrats. Mr. Meehan it that the poor and needy at the city farm were not being starved for economy's sake. He said that any one of the candidates for mayor on the democratic ticket was vastly more competent to fill the position than is the present incumbent.

Mr. Crowley said that since Mr. Howe's exposure 300 pounds of meat have been restored to the unfortunate at that institution. "If I am elected mayor," he said, "my first official act will be the removal of the charity board."

In conclusion Mr. Crowley said that should another candidate win the nomination at the primaries, he would work as hard for his success as he would for his own.

Laboring men, be present at the Lyon street school, ward 4, tonight at 8 o'clock, and hear your genuine friend, James E. O'Donnell, speak.

TO AID THE POOR

Rep. White Would Have State Buy Land for Them

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Two plans by which persons living in congested city districts may be assisted in securing homes of their own in the open country were presented to the House today by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Orlando D. Norcross of Worcester. Both plans were very similar, except in their minor details.

Representative White suggested that the state buy as much land as is necessary properly to try the experiment, and that this land be plotted out in such sizes as to furnish a comfortable home for each family desiring to secure it. He suggested that applicants should pay for this land just as insurance is now paid for, the yearly rates depending upon the age and expectancy of life of the applicant, in order that the state might average to get its money back, and that at the death of the purchaser the property be given to his estate, irrespective of the amount paid in.

Such a plan, he thought, would provide ample opportunity for men with small means to own their homes, and it would be a benefit to the state as well, as the thrift which would necessarily follow such an opportunity, together with the benefit to be derived from the open air, would greatly decrease the number annually sent to state institutions, particularly to those treating tuberculosis.

He would accept as applicants only men of limited income, and would make it impossible for anyone having an income above a given amount to get such a home.

Asked by Chairman Bemis if this would not lead to paternalism, Representative White answered that paternalism exists today to an extent little realized; the natural tendency of government is that way, and it is only natural.

Chairman Bemis then asked: "Do you think paternalism means socialism?" Representative White's answer to this was an expression of his belief that the best way to combat socialism was the answer. "Will you take the pledge if I give you another chance?" "Sure thing." "Where will you go?" "Why I'll go to any clergyman who will do the job," was Kivel's answer. Judge Hadley gave Kivel the name of a clergyman and told him that after having a talk with the probation officer to make his way to the place mentioned and take the pledge and keep it. Kivel was then sentenced to four months in jail, sentence was suspended, and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

IN POLICE COURT

Candid Offender Relieves the Monotony

The monotony of the regular police court session was broken this morning during the trial of Michael Kivel, who was charged with being a common drunkard. Kivel is a well known character about town and so far as can be learned is his own worst enemy. He has a thirst for drink and when he wants it he generally manages to get it.

When he was asked to plead to the complaint charging him with being a common drunkard, he said he did not know what to plead. He said: "I suppose if my woman says that I am that I am, but I guess I'll not say not guilty."

Coming to the fact that several witnesses who were named by the complainant were not present the court decided to let the matter go over until tomorrow, he being held under $200 bonds for his appearance.

Kivel did not like the continuance business and grew rather fidgety. Just before the closing of the session he called Supt. Welch over to the cage within which he was confined and said: "Say, I'll die if I am locked up over night. Will I plead guilty?" "Do you wish to change your plea of not guilty?" asked the superintendent. "Well, will I?"

"I will not advise you," said Supt. Welch; "it is for you and not for me to say whether you plead guilty or not guilty."

"Well, tell this honor that I will plead guilty."

Supt. Welch informed the court and the only witness, the man's wife, who was also the complainant, was called. She was notified that she did not have to testify against her husband if she did not wish to do so. She admitted that she was sorry for making the complaint against him, but said that he was drunk every other day.

Kivel denied the allegation and said: "No man ever saw me drunk on Broadway."

"Did they ever see you drunk on any other way?" asked the court. "Well, I don't know," was the answer.

Kivel said that he had been working on the sewer and if given a chance to go on probation he would allow his wife to go to city hall and draw his pay on Friday.

"You will do that, will you?" asked the court. "Sure," was the reply.

"Well, that is very kind of you," "Yes," continued Kivel. "If it was not for the fact that I was arrested and in court this morning I could have got a job at the brewery."

"What was your intention; to drink up everything there?" asked Judge Hadley. "No, I never thought of that."

"Well, I think that the best thing for you to do is to continue with your work on the sewer and keep away from the brewery," said the court. "Do you think that you can get your work on the sewer again?" continued the court. "Why, I can get a job anywhere,"

WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST AT HOULTON, ME.

Smuggler at the New Brunswick Maine boundary last night resulted in the injury of the officers and the capture of the man for whom they had been searching.

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 17.—A fight between two officers and an alleged smuggler at the New Brunswick Maine boundary last night resulted in the injury of the officers and the capture of the man for whom they had been searching. The man arrested is Wm. J. Kelley, 50 years old, of Richmond, N. B. The officers, Deputy U. S. Marshal Stevens of Portland and Deputy Collector Peters, were badly bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Since the night of April 17, 1902, when he is alleged to have beaten Frank Burns of Fort Fairfield, a deputy collector of customs, so severely with a sled stake that Burns lay almost at the point of death for six months, the Maine authorities have been trying to take Kelley into custody. For this attack he was indicted on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Last night Deputy Marshal Stevens and Deputy Collector Peters stopped him just after he had crossed the line into East Hodgdon with a wagonload of turkeys and chickens. He was taken to Portland today and will be arraigned in the federal court tomorrow.

drunk, but when he was asked to plead he started to make a complaint about the police taking his property away from him. The man's condition was such that the court felt warranted in sending him downstairs until he could sober off.

Fred Dufort, who it was alleged got drunk in Chelmsford, will spend the next 20 days in jail.

Patrick Beecher, released from the Taunton jail a few days ago, was before the court on a complaint charging him with being drunk. He was sentenced to the state farm and entered an appeal.

William H. Dever was also sentenced to the state farm and appealed.

Patrick J. Kane was sentenced to four months in jail. Gregg Reay was fined $5 and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

BISHOP ANDERSON

Tendered Reception by the Knights of Columbus

Gathering of 1500 Greeted the Youngest Catholic Bishop in This Country — Addresses by Bishop Anderson and Rev. W. George Mullin

The members of Lowell Council, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Boston and the youngest prelate in the country, in association to Monsignor Joseph Anderson, Associate hall, last evening with a large and representative attendance. Bishop Anderson was accompanied from Boston by Rev. James Supple of St. Francis de Sales church, Charlestown, state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus and among the other clergymen noted on the stage were Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. of St. Patrick's, Rev. John J. Shaw of St. Michael's, Rev. George Nolan, O. M. I. of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Fr. Vland, O. M. I. of Notre Dame de Lourdes; Rev. Dr. Keleher, of St. Peter's; Rev. T. W. Smith, O. M. I. and Rev. L. F. Tighe, O. M. I. Sacred Heart; Rev. T. A. Walsh of Collinsville; Rev. Frederick Gorman of Wintthrop; Rev. Frederick Delaney of the Holy Ghost hospital; Rev. Edmund T. Schofield of St. John's, North Chelmsford; Rev. Francis Mullin, Rev. John T. O'Brien; Rev. John F. Burns, Rev. W. George Mullin and Rev. James Fitzgerald.

The clergymen gathered in the parlors of the Knights' apartments and at 8 o'clock proceeded to the hall below escorted by the members of the Fourth Degree. The stage was prettily decorated in the national colors and from behind a hedge of greenery in the rear the young women of St. Peter's Adolfin club, directed by Prof. William Hovey, rendered a most acceptable selection. About every seat in the hall was taken, about 1500 being present.

The ushers were: Dr. William M. Collins, Roger J. Lang, John J. Inder, Dr. F. R. Mahony, William F. Cawley and Walter S. Flynn. The exercises opened with the selection "Merry Musicians" by the Mandonlin club which made a fine impression on the large audience.

Grand Knight Andrew Molloy then briefly welcomed the guest and the gathering, after which James E. Donnelly sang "The New Born King."

Fr. Mullin's Remarks
Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell council, was then introduced and he addressed the guest of honor in part as follows:

"The Catholic traditions of Lowell bid fair to be lengthened and perpetuated by the recurrence of a celebration like unto this. Such a cordial and brilliant gathering as this is ample proof of the deep abiding spirit of faith in your heart and a splendid tribute to your affection for a recognized superior."

"The privilege of according a reception to a bishop by the city of Lowell may be justly claimed as its right; a city which has been received so well and loved so keenly by such men as Fr. O'Brien, Fr. Garin, Fr. Joyce and dear Fr. Ronan of respected memory; a city that can boast of such churches as we have; a city that has been termed the home of bishops, has given to the church such men as the loving Allen, the scholarly Garrigan, Bishop Delaney of sainted memory, and finally our own archbishop, William H. O'Connell."

"Gladly do we then accept the occasion to show our love and esteem for our distinguished and reverend guest of the evening. To you, Right Reverend Bishop, I bring the greeting of a devoted clergy, a loyal council of Knights of Columbus, and respectful and sincere Catholic people. We wish to assure you that it is with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation of your presence that we greet you, honor you and pledge you our loyal aid as dutiful children. Speaking for the Lowell council may I say that you will ever find them willing and generous co-workers, ever ready to enlist in the cause of Catholicity, and ready to raise the Catholic Standard higher and higher. The members have been noted for the respect for the priesthood and authority, and it would seem as though the success they have attained has been a blessing from on high in return. So that today in all Boston archdiocese, not a better council can be found, one that is ready to do its duty to you and authority, than Lowell council, Knights of Columbus."

"We congratulate you on your elevation and distinction. We rejoice with you in the honor you have received as a marked tribute to your efficiency, worth, and we pledge through you, to our archbishop, loyalty, obedience and respect."

"We only ask that a career such as yours, young in years, but filled with work and rich in the honors of the church, may continue for many years to come. May we ask as we tonight place the few grains of incense and respect and loyalty upon the glowing coals of the fire of love burning in the center of your heart, that the fire may ever burn and the clouds of incense ever roll and rise to heaven as symbolic of our one continual and mutual prayer for each other, and may the fragrance emitted and wafted on the air ever serve to attract us to each other and to remind us of the night when the Catholic people of Lowell assembled to do honor to the youngest, though no less beloved bishop of the archdiocese of Boston, Right Reverend Joseph Anderson."

ANDREW MOLLOY,
Grand Knight, K. of C.

Bishop Anderson's Remarks

The guest of the evening, Rt. Rev. Joseph Anderson, was then introduced and he addressed the gathering informally. He said in part: "I gratefully appreciate the kind greeting accorded me by the members of this council and the Catholics of Lowell. These words of kindly feeling and hearty greeting I take as an expression of your loyalty and devotion to the church and as a mark of your respect and reverence for the high office conferred on me by the Holy Father. You have already shown this mark of respect to others before me and in these days of irreligion it is most gratifying to have Catholic societies give expression in public manner of their faith and loyalty by such demonstrations as these, as they are a means of offsetting the antagonistic spirit of the age."

The religious conditions in Europe give evidence of this terrible spirit of irreligion and are a warning note to us to be prepared to meet this spirit in our own country. The spirit of anarchy and extreme socialism that is abroad in Europe has caused renegade Catholics to form what is known as the Anti-Clerical party which is opposed to religion and society. They have spread their doctrine among the laboring people and have so stirred them as to make them believe that the church is their enemy. The church stands for law and authority and in Germany and Belgium has triumphed over these warring forces who she has re-established herself with renewed strength. How sad are the conditions in France at the present time. The religious have been driven out with the apparent purpose of rooting out Christianity itself. It needs only the slightest effort to fan into anarchy and violence a movement of this kind."

In coming to accept your kind invitation tonight I have brought a message to you to make you realize your duty as a Catholic organization. These elements are at work in this country and the Catholic organizations must be awake and realize that there is something else besides being concerned about social enjoyment. The time has arrived for the Catholic duty to show itself. The opportunity is rich. Already the Knights of Columbus have done excellent work along charitable lines and in the care of Catholic children, but another duty now confronts the order, and it is the beginning of what I might call "social work." We cannot allow these false doctrines to gain the ascendancy. It is a selfish age, but if we are to be actuated by Catholic principles the question is not "Am I my brother's keeper?" There is an obligation on us on behalf of our fellow man. He is our brother. We should be concerned about his social work. You have the knowledge of what to do and the right methods to pursue. There is need of your realizing your duty as citizens. A civic duty is a Christian duty. The welfare of society and government alike should be given your consideration. That is my message to you this evening. I wish again to thank you for your greeting and also to wish you God's blessing."

The exercises in Associate hall closed with the singing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," by the audience of which all reported to the K. of C. clergymen where an informal reception was held.

MANY ASPIRANTS

For Mayoralty Honors in the City of Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—With a wealth of aspirants for mayoralty honors at the city election in January, the first under the provisions of the recently adopted new city charter which eliminates party designations, a committee of citizens is having considerable difficulty in uniting upon a leader who will represent and receive the support of the best interests of the city. The matter will be acted upon at a meeting of a non-partisan committee of 150 citizens tonight and it is reported that a smaller committee which has been investigating the qualifications of several candidates is divided between Jas. J. Storow, president of the chamber of commerce, and former United States Sub-Treasurer Joseph H. O'Neill.

Within a few hours after the voters had decided two weeks ago that in the future there should be no political conventions for municipal officers and that each candidate should be placed in nomination through the endorsement of five thousand citizens, half a dozen well known men had sprung into the field and were actively at work securing the necessary number of names.

Among these were former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, as well as his successful opponent, George Hibbard, the present mayor; Frederick J. Brand, chairman of the board of aldermen, and N. H. Taylor, a journalist.

A number of the business men and heavy taxpayers, believing that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office, held a meeting at which all political parties were represented and the matter was placed in charge of a committee of 150. This committee appointed two smaller bodies of nine each, one to select a candidate for mayor and the other a candidate for the school committee. These committees will report tonight and with the decision by the large committee the municipal campaign will probably begin.

YACHT WRECKED

All on Board but One Were Saved

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Eugene Higgins' yacht Varuna lies today a total wreck on the northwest coast of the island of Madeira. While the vessel is pounding in a storm on a rocky shore and is reported as likely to break up at any moment all on board of her with possibly one exception have been saved.

This information was received in this city today by the board of marine underwriters in a cablegram from its agent at Funchal, Madeira. According to today's advices the Varuna, one of the largest of American steam yachts, although in an upright position, is full of water. With the change of the wind to the westward the Varuna has practically no chance of escaping and will pound on the rocks in the vicinity. The wind is blowing hard. No particulars as to the manner in which those aboard got clear of the vessel have been received. It was stated, however, that the majority of the yacht's passengers and crew had arrived safely at different villages on the north coast of the island.

The Varuna was on her 28th trip across the Atlantic. At Mr. Higgins' offices here it was said today that although the make-up of his yachting party was not known it was believed that he took several friends with him when the yacht sailed from Marselles which was her last known port of call. Mr. Higgins is a multi-millionaire and a member of many yacht clubs.

Y. M. C. I. MET

AND DECIDED TO ORGANIZE AN EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held last night. There was a large attendance of members and considerable business was transacted. Vice President James Tully occupied the chair. Nine new members were admitted and a committee of three was appointed to organize an educational club for the benefit of the members. This class will prepare applicants for the civil service examinations to be held in the future. There is considerable interest in the bowling league, and every Monday evening a knockout tournament is held with suitable prizes. A tournament will be held soon with ten teams entered. The society will hold its second ladies' night this evening in the hall in Backside street. The literary committee has charge of the evening's program, and it is expected that a large attendance will be present. Refreshments will be served.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—The laymen's missionary movement for the evangelization of the world which began in Baltimore convention with a big banquet at Fifth Regiment armory last night, continued its session today at Albright's theatre. At the forenoon session addresses were delivered by Dr. Purker, president of the Anglo-Chinese college, Shanghai; Dr. J. C. McNaughton of Smyrna, and Dr. Ray of Richmond, Va.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Samuel H. Hines lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held last night. At the conclusion of the business meeting C. C. Jordan called P. C. Robert J. Fullerton, president of the eighth district committee to the chair, who in an appropriate speech welcomed the committee on behalf of the lodge.

Grand Master of Exchequer, W. F. Beaman, of Somerville, spoke interestingly and he was followed by the P. C. Isaac W. McArthur, deputy grand chancellor of S. H. Hines lodge, who

WARRIORS OF YALE AND HARVARD WHO WILL CLASH IN CAMBRIDGE, NOV. 20

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—The annual clash between Yale and Harvard in the stadium at Cambridge, Mass., should furnish a fitting climax for one of the most successful seasons of football history. The two great rival colleges have seldom shown eleven of such promise. Neither has met defeat despite a long schedule, and no opposition has been as yet able to score on the Bulldogs. Harvard, playing perhaps slightly stronger colleges, does not enjoy a clean slate. But Percy Haughton's followers have never been pushed to the limit of their resources and, like Yale, have retained their trumps for the struggle that will mark the season's close. Yale is the logical favorite. The fact that old Eli had so easily disposed of all comers so far is bound to make Coach Jones' eleven the long end of the wagering. The results of the games that the two eleven engaged in justify such speculation. Yale beat Princeton 17 to 0, eased up in a measure in the second half. Dartmouth fell before Harvard, but the Green and White was able to score a field goal for three points against the Crimson's dozen. Dartmouth held the Tigers to a tie a week earlier and even to the minds of most critics outplayed the jungle aggregation. The work of Yale against Princeton was undoubtedly the more impressive. Harvard was fought to a standstill by Dartmouth in the first half. The Crimson did not have things much easier in the second period, for it was then that all the scoring was done. Yale scored in both sections against Princeton. One of the most peculiar things about the history of Yale-Harvard football is that never since the two teams played their first game in 1876 has Harvard been able to win two successive games from Yale. Several times Harvard has badly beaten Yale, but for some reason or other Yale never permitted her great foe to turn the trick twice in succession. This is a precedent that Harvard hopes to overthrow Nov. 20 and that Yale is determined she shall not. There is every incentive to Harvard to play desperately football this year. This is due to the fact that of the twenty-seven games which Yale and Harvard have played the Crimson has won but four to nineteen for Yale. There have been four tie games with 0-0 scores, and five years the two teams have not met. Last season Vic Kennard's toe beat Yale by a score of 4 to 0. The probable lineup of the eleven is as follows: Harvard—Brown, left end; McKay, left tackle; L. Withington, left guard; P. Withington, center; Fisher, right guard; Fish, right tackle; L. Smith, right end; O'Flaherty, quarterback; Corbett, left halfback; P. Smith, right halfback; Minot, fullback. Yale—Kilpatrick, left end; Hobbs, left tackle; Andrus, left guard; Cooney, center; Goebel, right guard; Lilley, right tackle; Vaughan, right end; Howe, quarterback; Philbin, left half back; Francis, right half back; Coy, fullback. Remarkable picture caught by camera man during recent Yale-Princeton struggle shows Cooney, Eli's giant center, breaking through the Tigers' line in first half of game.

Some Exciting Contests on the Alleys

There were some close and exciting contests on the alleys last night, nearly all of the local leagues having games scheduled. In the Manufacturers' league the Merrimacks defeated the Boot team and the Shaws trounced the Massachusetts.

The game between the Burkes and St. Peter's in the Catholic league resulted in a victory for the former team. In the Odd Fellows league, Merrimack Valley won their game, while the latter put it all over Excelsior lodge.

The Rapids defeated the Preferreds in the Lamson league and the Electric Light league. The scores:

FOOTBALL NOTES

Unbeaten eleven in the football

The Princetonians closed their season with opponents having practically one-half as many points as the Tigers themselves. 10 to 50 being the exact figures. That is an unusual record for a team of Princeton's standing. It looks like pronounced defensive weakness, when, in reality, it was offensively that the Tigers fell down badly this year. Nearly half of their 101 points were made against one team, Stevens. One team, Vermont, has the same figure on each side of the ledger, 33 for and against opponents.

Total scores to date are as follows: Harvard, 143-9 (eight games); Yale, 201-0 (nine games); Princeton, 101-

50 (nine games); Pennsylvania, 129-23 (nine games); Cornell, 66-18 (seven games); New York university, 100-23 (seven games); Dartmouth, 38-18 (eight games); Brown, 75-47 (eight games); Lafayette, 150-12 (six games); Carlisle, 203-73 (ten games); Fordham, 75-12 (six games); New York university, 94-18 (six games); Syracuse, 77-76 (eight games); Williams, 90-23 (seven games); Pennsylvania State, 161-11 (five games); Amherst, 17-37 (seven games); Wesleyan, 33-14 (eight games); Virginia, 72-11 (five games); Gettysburg, 40-38 (five games); Pittsburg, 77-37 (six games); Lohigh, 77-51 (seven games); Colgate, 133-45 (seven games); Villanova, 80-27 (six games); Bowdoin, 65-50 (eight games); Holy Cross, 30-34 (seven games); Georgetown, 59-31 (six games); Maine, 43-17 (eight games); Washington and Jefferson, 100-23 (six games); Franklin and Marshall, 136-16 (seven games); Stevens, 12-126 (five games); Vermont, 33-38 (seven games); Trinity, 112-49 (seven games); Tufts, 33-61 (seven games); Minnesota, 153-12 (six games); Chicago, 121-35 (six games); Michigan, 100-22 (six games).

Accounts of the Cornell-Chicago game told of one play which had readers guessing. It was the play in which Cornell was said to have lost the ball on downs because there wasn't a sufficient part of the pignish over the Chicago goal line. As the players untangled the crowd awaited the verdict of a player is declared dead by the referee, any part of it being on, above or behind the opponent's goal line, it was evident that either the referee or the historians were wrong. Here is what really happened, as narrated by Walter Eckersall:

"Referee Hackett, realizing the importance of the play, ferreted into the tangled bunch and got his hands on the ball as Simson was trying to shove it over the goal line. As the players untangled the crowd awaited the verdict with breathless expectancy. The players rose from the heap one by one, and when the last one got up the ball reeled within six inches of the goal line and the day was saved for Chicago."

There was all sorts of discussion at New Haven as to whether a touchdown or a safety had been made following the final blocked kick, yet there couldn't have been a play in which it would have been easier to tell which was which. Either way, the referee decided whatever which side the impetus came from, and there would have been about as much sense in arguing that a touchdown had been made as in calling it a goal from the field. Nine out of ten safeties result from blocked kicks under precisely the same circumstances as Princeton made this safety.

Brown wants to smear the Indians in order to make up some ground lost by successive defeats at the hands of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale, and the Indians want to trim Brown in order to regain some vanished prestige. That's one motive in common which the rivals will have when they bump into each other at the Polo Grounds next Saturday.

Capt. Reed of the Vermont team congratulated Capt. Rogers of Brown last Saturday and told the latter that Brown was the best team the Vermonters had played this season. That observation should make food for reflection for Dartmouth folks. Vermont played Dartmouth early in the season, holding the Hanoverians to a 0 to 0 score, but of course Capt. Reed might have had reason to revise his opinion had his team met Dartmouth late in the year.

That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural sewers of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The bile is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the imposition. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. LOWELL'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

EDWIN I. ANDERSON

the Customs Frauds

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A new figure was introduced last night into the controversy surrounding the investigation of frauds charged in the American Sugar Refining Co., when Edwin I. Anderson, a former superintendent of docks for the company and a close personal friend of the late Theodore O. Havemeyer, announced through his attorneys that he is the man referred to by James B. Reynolds, former assistant secretary of the treasury, as the one who gave the department first specific information concerning the frauds.

Anderson has filed claims with the customs authorities for compensation, which he estimates will reach $1,000,000. For the past two years, he says, he has been engaged in furnishing evidence to the government and it was through him, he asserts, that Richard Parr, who now figures so prominently in the case, gained his information.

Anderson absolves Mr. Reynolds of any attempt to check the investigation, declaring that the former assistant secretary was at all times enthusiastic in his desire for prosecution. In fact, the first activity came as the result of encouragement which Mr. Reynolds gave him, he says.

Reviewing the case, both by means of affidavits which were made several days ago, and by verbal statements last night, Anderson says that the American Sugar Refining Co. requested his resignation after Mr. Havemeyer's death in 1903, on the theory that "he knew too much." Up to that time, he had been in the company's employ for 32 years. At that time, he says, he had no positive knowledge that frauds were being committed but he suspected it and as a result of investigations which he then undertook, he came into possession of what he calls positive proof that the government was being defrauded of at least $500,000 a year at the single refinery where he had been employed.

When he laid his evidence before the authorities at Washington, Anderson continued, the matter was at once taken up. He made several trips to Washington, meeting Colonel Gerry, chief of the customs department of the treasury; Beekman Winthrop, an assistant secretary and others. Both Col. Gerry and Mr. Winthrop promised him, he says, that his claim for compensation should be allowed, and he accordingly went ahead with his investigations.

As does Parr, Anderson says that while his investigations were in progress he was constantly shadowed by detectives and was so far convinced that he was in danger of attack and possibly assassination that a special secret service agent was assigned to act as his bodyguard.

Discrediting Parr's claims to a share in the reward for furnishing this information, Anderson asserted that the latter has obtained was secured, not from Anderson or from Anderson's friends and assistants.

In his affidavits, Anderson quotes Parr as saying in one of their daily conferences during the month of November, 1907:

"The government places a high valuation upon your services in this matter, and you will get under the law, between 25 and 35 per cent. of all the moneys recovered through this investigation." Parr added, according to Anderson:

"This is a big case. It is the kind of a case that President Roosevelt likes and you will get your full share of it. The proceeds for you came around first of all with the information."

A letter indicating Anderson's conviction that the frauds would be found to involve many government employees at the new York customs house, was included among the exhibits attached to the affidavits. Anderson's first letter offering his services to the treasury department, Acting Secretary Reynolds had suggested that the matter be taken up with the New York customs authorities. In reply Anderson said that he would rather drop the matter altogether than try to take it up through the New York customs offices "with all their probability of immediate leaks." He added pointedly:

"I am of the opinion that one might as well take the importers themselves into his confidence as to lay the matter before the customs house officials of this city."

OUT ON STRIKE

Their Places

BARRRE, Vt., Nov. 17.—A complete paralysis threatens the granite industry in Vermont unless an adjustment of differences between the Manufacturers' Association and the Cutters' Union is reached within the next fortnight. Yesterday 4000 cutters in Barre, East Barre, Montpelier, Willamstown and Waterbury struck because of trouble in the sheds at Northfield, where a pneumatic bush hammer was objected to on the ground that it emitted so much dust that the cutters were unable to perform their work under conditions satisfactory to them.

The strike of the cutters in the places mentioned threw 2000 polishers and tool-sharpeners out of work. The quarries and several other classes of employees are still at work, but if the trouble is not settled within a short time the 6000 now idle will be joined by thousands of other employees.

The cutters' union in Barre has communicated with James Duncan, of Quincy, Mass., secretary of the National Civic association, who is in Toronto, attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, of which he is vice president. If Mr. Duncan decides that the cutters shall return to work and agree to submit their case to a board of arbitration, it is thought the difficulty will be adjusted before it reaches greater proportions.

The manufacturers claim that the cutters in Northfield violated a three-year agreement and that the trouble in that town is of a trivial nature.

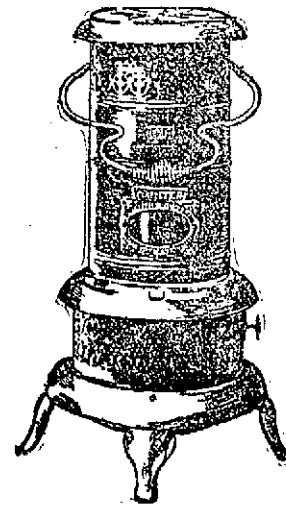

Last Friday 200 cutters in Northfield struck as a protest against the pneumatic bush hammer, which they claim should be set up in a separate building. They claim that the bush hammer causes so much dust that it endangers their health and also impedes their work. The manufacturers say that under the agreement with the union that this grievance should have been referred to a committee and then it not settled, to a board of arbitration.

In this city there is a feeling that the granite sheds will be shut down until the new year, as at this season work is usually slack and a suspension of two weeks in December occurs annually.

NATIONAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Pleas for the government regulation of natural monopolies were voiced last night before the joint convention of the National Municipal League and the American Civic association by former Secretary of the Interior James B. Garfield and President Emeritus Charles V. Eliot of Harvard university. Both spoke of the conservation of natural resources and both declared that it was imperative that the government take immediate steps towards that end.

Congressman William S. Bennett of New York, who was the only speaker of the evening session, delivered an address on "The effect of the immigrant on municipal politics."

MRS. STETSON

Again Before Directors
of the Church

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Twenty hours: ten Monday and ten yesterday, Mrs. Augustus E. Stetson of New York, accused of "mental malpractice," completed last night a close and secret conference with the board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the inner council rooms of the mother church.

As secret and uncommunicative as the doors and gates of the mother church, which remained locked and grated and barred, no word was vouchsafed throughout the day as to the meaning of the conference by Mrs. Stetson, the directors, or the Christian Science publications.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, as Monday morning, Mrs. Stetson, accompanied by her secretary, Mrs. Dunn, appeared at the corner entrance of the mother church on Falmouth street. Following a short scolding of the photographers by her secretary, Mrs. Stetson, gowned in gray and her face enveloped in a purple automobile veil, hurried across the walk into the church. A man, said to be Haynes Davis, a New York reader, who is believed to be looking after Mrs. Stetson's interests, entered the church soon after. They came the board of five who Monday were also present at the hearing: Archibald McLellan, chairman; Stephen A. Chase, treasurer; John V. Dillemore, secretary; Addison V. Stewart and Ira D. Knapp, trustees.

Except for three of the members of the board who left the church for half an hour at 2 o'clock, no one was seen to leave or enter the church until 7 o'clock last night. If dinner was served in the church building it was not seen to be carried in, unless boxes which were thought to have been a prepared lunch taken into the building building next door about noon were for the conferees. In this event it was taken to the church building or some other means than the generally known entrances and exits of the church.

Complete ignorance still prevails as to the status of the relations between the directors and Mrs. Stetson, but it is generally believed that she is attempting to vindicate herself from the charges brought against her and which have recently resulted in her being deposed as a reader with the right to practice, for three years.

The only information concerning the hearing which anyone has been able to secure from the directors was given last night, when one of the board stated that the directors would continue their session at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and that it was presumed Mrs. Stetson would be in attendance.

Late last night the following signed statement was sent out by Mrs. Augustus E. Stetson through her secretary, Miss Ella Dunn:

"Our beloved leader, Mary Baker Eddy, has requested us all to unite with those in our church who are supporting the mother church directors. Today I have received a copy of her letter addressed to the trustees of the church."

"For twenty-five years I have gladly obeyed her leadership in every question. I have always found that by doing this I drew nearer to God. My students know that I have taught them to do likewise, without questioning her wisdom; therefore, they do not now need any word from me in addition to what our beloved leader has said to guide them at this hour. They will know that it is right for them to unite with those who supported the mother church directors in the judgment rendered against me. I myself have been obeying that judgment, and I shall continue to do so. I shall furthermore obey my leader by uniting with those who felt it was right to condemn me in their testimony. My leader's letter induces me to believe that I have been wrong where I felt that I was absolutely right."

"For 25 years I have watched and prayed for guidance and strength in correcting every error revealed to me by God and by my leader, or by any of my brethren."

The mother general of the Sisters of the Assumption, Rev. Sister Sainte-Monique, of the mother house at Niagara, Que., is expected soon in this city by the local house of the order, whose members have charge of St. Louis' parochial school. She is coming on her annual tour of the American houses of the order.

HE TOOK POISON

Hand

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 17.—Frederick H. Thompson, aged about 60, one of the best out-of-door photographers in the country, and proprietor of a restaurant, committed suicide Monday night by taking poison at his rooms attached to the gallery of the Thompson Art company, 273 Middle street.

The exact time when he took the poison is not known, but as he asked a friend to open his door at 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning, it is supposed that it was about midnight.

Mr. Thompson had been pressed to meet his bills, and had recently renewed a mortgage for $1000. He said to a friend Monday that he could see no way out of his difficulties and expected to be forced to take his own life.

The friend tried to cheer him and went to a third man, a friend of both, who said, "He can have all the money he wants and I will have it ready for him in the morning."

Yesterday his friend called to tell Mr.

Thompson the good news, but it was too late.

Mr. Thompson was the proprietor of a restaurant on Congress street, but was most generally known as an out-of-door photographer, many of his pictures appearing in newspapers and magazines. He was universally liked and had the respect of all who knew him. He worried over his financial troubles and, until it was too late, did not take his friends into his confidence. He was the friend of all the artists here, and they regarded him as one of their fraternity, even if he used the camera instead of the brush.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

JIM FLYNN

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan of Cambridge easily won the decision over Jim Flynn of Boston in a 12-round bout before the Armory Athletic association last night. The local boxer was no match for his skillful opponent and was sent to the floor five times.

The semi-final fight between Kid Sullivan of Newburyport and Walter Alteri of the navy, went eight rounds to a draw. The men are heavyweights. Tommy Furey of Attleboro knocked out his opponent, Young Sheeha of Manchester, N. H., in the first round.

ACCUSE MILLERS

Of Having Prepared
Flour to be Seized

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 17.—Charging that the millers had manufactured a lot of flour knowing that it would be seized and that they had not used as much adulterant in it as they ordinarily use, Pierce Butler of St. Paul caused Judge McPherson in the U. S. district court yesterday to express surprise and to declare that the matter would be fully investigated.

Judge McPherson ordered released 946 sacks of flour seized last summer, but specified that samples be retained for use when the case goes to trial at Council Bluffs on Jan. 15.

Mr. Butler, who was named by Atty. Gen. Wickersham to represent the government at the hearing, entered a protest against the court's action and made the declaration that the flour had been specially prepared to meet an expected test.

C. N. CRITTENTON

FOUNDER OF HOME FOR GIRLS IS DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Charles

Crittenton of New York, widely known as the founder of the Florence Crittenton rescue homes for girls, died last night of pneumonia. He had been ill less than a week. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Crittenton founded seventy-three rescue homes in this country and several in Japan and China, which he named in memory of his daughter Florence, at whose dying request he entered mission work.

Mr. Crittenton was on a tour visiting the many rescue homes throughout the country and arrived in San Francisco ten days ago.

FRANK MARSHALL LOST

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—Frank J. Marshall of Brooklyn, N. Y., yesterday lost his first game to J. W. Showalter of Georgetown, Ky., in the series for the chess championship of the United States. Marshall withdrew after the 24th move. Marshall has won three, Showalter one, and there has been one draw game. Today the champions will play here again.

SULLIVAN ELECTED COLONEL

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Lieutenant Colonel John J. Sullivan of Boston was last night elected colonel of the Ninth regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, succeeding Colonel William H. ## The New Woman is one who enjoys perfect health, who is capable of doing her work, whether at the loom or in the kitchen, in the counting-house or taking her part at a social event, with unimpaired vim and vigor. That's the kind of women the nation needs.

Unfortunately, many women are physical wrecks, constantly under the cloud of ill-health, often the victims of high-strung nerves. The cause is not hard to find. Errors of diet, haste in eating, lack of exercise and inattention to certain bodily functions, all play their part. Once the germ of disease finds its lodgment, if left to do its work, it will quickly undermine the entire fabric of bodily tissue. Prevention is better than cure. Whoever has used Beecham's Pills

THE BEEF SUPPLY.

The meat barons of America may soon experience a drop in their trade with England. American meat sells cheaper in England than it does here, and yet we are told that it is the high price of grain and other causes that make the price of meat so very high in this country. The beef trust can send live cattle over to England and sell the beef there much cheaper than in this country. But the English markets are beginning to purchase their beef cattle from the Argentine Republic. The prospect is, that in a short time they may drop the American importation of beef altogether. That would be a serious blow to the beef trust, but it might help to reduce the prices in this country.

FACTORY DINING ROOMS DESIRABLE.

The factory or workshop is not as a rule the place to dine, yet thousands of those who carry their dinners to the mills eat where they work all day. This is not calculated to promote the health of the operatives for, as a rule, the air is filled with dust or else charged with certain gases that are not likely to help the appetite.

Some factories have provided large dining rooms for such operatives as do not go home to dinner. These rooms are plainly furnished to be sure, but they are clean and inviting. The air is also more pure than that in the factory where the machinery is whirling during the day. These rooms, too, are provided with reading matter on which the employees can use their spare moments on something intellectual. It would add greatly to the comfort of the employees in the large factories if some such place were provided by each to be used as a dining room during the noon hour.

THE MINE DISASTER IN ILLINOIS.

It seems that there is great need of more security for miners. Every little while the country is shocked by a fearful mine disaster in which hundreds are entombed.

The holocaust at the St. Paul coal mine, Cherry, Illinois, is an example of what happens far too often, leaving hundreds of men entombed victims of fire and probably buried under thousands of tons of earth, while their widows and orphans are cast helpless and penniless upon the world.

The inspection of mines, we presume, is like the inspection of banks. The work is entrusted to men who take it for granted that everything is all right. Somebody is responsible for these disasters, and the government is not doing its duty if it does not have steps taken to prevent the almost regular occurrence of such holocausts.

DEMOCRATS MAKE YE NO MISTAKE.

In the approaching caucuses the democrats should remember that they are not to vote for the mayor of the city, but they are merely to select from the list of candidates the one who, they have reason to believe, will be the strongest at the polls and, therefore, the most likely to defeat his republican opponent.

In this light voters are liable to be misled by the number of candidates and to vote for some candidate who if nominated would stand no chance of election. Votes given to such a candidate are merely thrown away.

When colleges are to enter an athletic meet in which they are to contest for honors with other institutions, they always try out their men and pick the very best. So it is with nations; when they send representatives to uphold their honor in any contest they make sure to send their best men, the men most likely to win the victory. To do anything else would be to invite defeat. And so should the democrats do in selecting a candidate for mayor.

That you have known Candidate A., B., or C. for a number of years and found him a pretty good fellow does not justify you in voting for him at the caucuses unless after due consideration of all the candidates you honestly believe him to be the strongest politically to set up against the republican candidate.

It is utterly useless for any voter to support a second, third or fourth rate candidate. Find out who is strongest politically, not alone with democrats but with the citizens at large, vote for that candidate, and you will have the pleasure of seeing him elected mayor of Lowell.

Voters who support a weak candidate because he belongs in their ward are deliberately inflicting an injury on the party, because they are throwing away their votes on an impossibility, whereas by voting intelligently they might assist in selecting a man who can be elected. This is one of the great reasons why the democratic party suffers so many defeats—because the voters consider the candidacy of men who can never be elected instead of picking out the strongest man, politically speaking, to pit against the republican nominee.

It seems that in the past democrats have been voting very blindly and very foolishly at the caucuses as in many instances they have nominated men whose defeat was a certainty from the minute their selection was announced. In such instances the democrats betray their party and pave the way for a republican victory. Will they do that this year or will they examine the several candidates calmly, carefully, intelligently and decide conscientiously which one will make the strongest man, not only with his own party but the citizens generally on election day?

A large number of citizens look to the democrats this year to select a candidate who will appeal to the voters of both parties as honest, upright and fully capable from training and experience to give the city a safe, progressive and economic administration of affairs.

Remember, then, when you go to the polls you are not going to vote for a man for mayor but to help your party pick the strongest of all the candidates, the man who will most certainly score a victory on election day by defeating his opponent.

SEEN AND HEARD

A man is lucky not to have any worse luck than he has.

People seldom talk to much unless they know too little.

Vainly endeavoring a man to convince himself that he isn't vain.

Many a girl who is fond of jewelry has no use for a rolling-pin.

A man whose wife is blind says her sense of touch keeps him broke.

Occasionally a man discovers that he has a friend who really is his friend.

When painted the new iron fence on the canal in Anne street will look fine and dandy.

It doesn't make any difference whether a fellow is a "bonehead" or if he has a cranium of "solid ivory" sooner or later he is made to realize that chickens come home to roost. It is well that it is so.

The new sign that adorns the La Scala and Voyons theatres is being very favorably commented upon. The new sign tells of the Brunswick rollaway and billiard and pool gardens which but goes to show that Messrs. Bunker & Honnessy continue to add to the attractiveness of their establishment.

DO IT TODAY

"Forever and ever the train goes by—The train of the marching years—Sunshine, and starbeam, and cloud in the sky.

And under them smiles and tears; Never a pause, but on and on, The grave years pass along, With their battles lost and their victories won.

And their mighty, motley throng.

"We stand on the place To-day has given,

To make or to mar our lot; We may fill it up to the brim with heaven.

Or blur it with stain and blot, Bravely may toll for the good and true, Earnestly strive and pray;

But the good or the ill we all may do, Must be done in the span of To-day."

He was a suburbanite and had gone to the depot early as usual, and obtained a seat in one of the coaches of the 6 o'clock train. He was, as he always did, in a state of clothing that gave him the appearance of a dandy. And his suit matched his suit. Just as the train was about to pull out an old farmer fought his way into the overcrowded coach. He squirmed and squeezed himself down the aisle until he arrived at a point beside the well-dressed suburbanite. The men were related from a business standpoint. One was customer and the other was milkman. They spoke, the one somewhat haughtily, the other formally. The seated man felt obliged to make some remark. He noticed that the milkman carried a parcel. He noticed further that it bore a label indicating that it contained milk. "I see you have some milk there," the customer said. "Yes," said the milkman. The customer gazed at the package for several seconds and then his countenance suddenly lighted up. It was apparent that he had come into the possession of an idea. "I see," he said, in a rather loud tone of voice, at the same time winking at a passenger who sat opposite him, "chalk for milk, eh?" The passengers laughed, but the farmer didn't. "No, not exactly," he replied slowly. "You see I've done so much chalking up for milk up at your house lately that I had to by another box."

Thomas Nelson Page, in his biography of General Robert E. Lee, tells of the many offers of positions of honor that were made to the soldier at the conclusion of the war between the north and south. He refused them all, except that of the presidency of Washington college, which he took at a very small salary. One of the positions that he declined was that of president of an insurance company. It was proposed, according to the biographer, that General Lee should receive a salary of $50,000 a year, which was a much larger salary two decades ago than it is today. The general declined this offer on the ground that he was not at all familiar with the insurance business. Then the representative of the company showed his hand. "But general," he said in his most persuasive manner, "you would not be expected to do any work. What we wish is the use of your name. General Lee shook his head. "Do you not think," he asked, "that if my name is worth $50,000 a year, I ought to be very careful about taking care of it?" That ended the interview.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The production of "The House of a Thousand Handles" by Miss Irene Gray and her company at the Opera House last evening proved a decided surprise. It is not often that a company appearing at popular prices follows an organization that has presented the same at high rates of admission. Yet it is still more rare that the cheaper organization makes a much more decided hit than the original one. Such was the case last evening. The rendition of that odd drama was most pleasing. There was a life and animation about the four acts that held the audience enthralled while the attention to detail was marked and appreciated. Miss Gray made an ideal heroine, Mr. Harris a dignified Bates while John Edmunds and J. Sydney played scored heavily in their respective roles.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower" which will be given this evening, has been attracting special attention. This delightful romantic play is well known hereabouts as one of the most enchanting and entertaining offerings of its kind. Miss Gray is said to be most winsome and bewitching as the vixenish heroine, while the stage setting and costumes are said to be rich and magnificent. "The Secret Orchard" tomorrow afternoon will be found an interesting play of Parisian life in the higher circles. "The Devil" tomorrow night is one of those dramatic sensations that has attracted attention the world over.

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE," at the Lowell Opera House Monday night, the famous "Dr. Jeekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented with Frederick W. Pierce, in the leading role, supported by Marie Rostell. His work is said to be excellent, and he has received some very complimentary notices by both press and public.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD," That perennial favorite, Denman Thompson's charming drama of New England rustic life, "The Old Homestead," is playing its 24th season, and will shortly be seen here. There seems to be no abatement in the interest manifested by the theatregoers of today in this old New England play. Until Denman Thompson gave us this natural and original picture, the Yankee farmer of the stage was a mere buffoon, far removed from nature. An elaborate scenic production has been provided for this season. Among those in the cast are Earl Redding, Fred Clark, Charles Clarke, Gus Kammerling, Maggie Sawyer, Anita Fowler, besides a number of the old favorites. The famous double quartet of farm hands, and the Grace church choir of 20 voices are still the musical features of the performance. "The Old Homestead" comes to the Opera House next Wednesday, Nov. 24. Matinee and night.

"EAST LYNN," Lovers of the emotional drama, and their names are legion, will be pleased to learn that the "greatest of all emotional dramas," "East Lynn," will be at the Opera House next Thursday, Nov. 25. Lady Isabel, as depicted by Miss Arden in the lighter scenes of this play, is most effective and charming, while the depth and variety of her ripened art renders her scenes in the more sombre portions of the drama models of intensity and passion.

When Elsie Janis and the company which supports Charles Dillingham's youthful star in "The Fair Co-Ed" set forth on a brief New England tour the players will travel in a special train, while Miss Janis will go over the highways and byways by auto. Miss Janis comes to the Opera House soon.

ELSIE JANIS

HATHAWAY THEATRE

"Uncle Charles of Charleston" is a decided novelty in the way of a one-act play at Hathaway's theatre, this week. The most delicious burlesque is introduced into the action of the piece, and when the piece is finished, one really feels that he isn't so bad after all. James R. McCann plays the part of the second-story worker imitatively and his supporting company is equal to the tasks imposed.

Louigi Marabini, the Italian ice sculptor, does some remarkably interesting work with huge cakes of ice. Marabini first modelled in dough, at a noted Viennese hotel. Later he made images out of candy, and finally, in London carved from ice. There vaudeville agents snapped him up and took him to this country.

The remainder of the bill is lively. The acts are: McDavitt & Keller, eccentric dancers; Mabelle Adams, cypariss violinist; Farrell-Taylor, trio, comedians; Sam Doty, comedian; Morgan and Chester, in a farce, and the HathawayScope, with brand new films.

Performances will be given every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats at the matinees for women.

STAR THEATRE

The last opportunity to see the great Detello, female impersonator, and Miller and Princeton's big musical act will be tonight, as two new vaudeville acts will be presented tomorrow, including Turner Bros., the smallest and funniest acrobats in the world, and Gertrude Lamont, singing comedienne. New pictures will be shown Friday. It is amazing to the hundreds of patrons how such a big show can be presented for five cents, which allows a seat. The theatre is always warm, clean and cozy.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today will be the last of the showing of the excellent bill at the Theatre Voyons, the big hit of which is the duet "In the Gloaming" sung by Jack Manchester and Mrs. Hales. "The Flight of M. Vallette" and the other numbers on the picture bill please all and the variety is great. Tomorrow afternoon (the last evening) will be made of Pathe's film of "Rigoletto."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There will be another good amateur show at the Academy of Music tonight. The feature biograph picture is entitled "The Light That Came," a charming love romance between a blind musician and a poor working

Germes In Her System

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it falls to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Rexall Mucuo-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Rexall Mucuo-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Rexall Mucuo-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Lowell only at our store.—The Rexall Store, Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack street.

SPURNED SISTER

Threw Herself in Front of Electric Car

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—With the words, "God bless my baby" on her lips, Mrs. Helen Burns, spurned wife and sister, died last night as a result of injuries received when she threw herself in front of a street car. Mrs. Burns was 24 years old. She was married four years ago to Charles Burns, a manufacturer of New York. Burns was a divorced man, but shortly after a baby came to him, and his new wife became reconciled to the first wife and secured a second divorce. The cost-off wife made her way here a short time ago, leaving her baby with the father.

Last night a tragic sequel to this broken romance was enacted on the street in front of the home of Mrs. Burns' mother. Mrs. Burns' mother, it appears, was willing to have her daughter live with her, but the brother, Walter Penders, refused, saying he could not support them. The girl walked into the street and leaped beneath a moving car and was crushed to death.

MORE MONEY VOTED To City Departments by Appropriations Committee

The committee on appropriations met last night to consider the requests of departments for more money. The committee was also confronted with the proposition to add 15 men to the fire department and the committee voted to recommend the appropriation of $1875 for salaries for the new firemen for December.

The committee voted $1000 for the health yard labor and $1400 for soldiers' relief. Transfers of $6000 from the street department to the general treasury fund and $500 from the park department labor to park department sundries were also voted.

Sup't. Newell F. Putnam of the street department had a number of transfer bills bearing on the Middlesex and Merrimack streets paving. These transfers amount to about $12,000.

A high compliment was paid Sup't. Putnam of the street department for the manner in which he kept down expenses in his department.

It was voted to recommend the transfer.

The order introduced by Alderman Adams for $1875 for 15 extra firemen came before the committee. This amount is for salaries in December.

Chief Hosmer gave the committee information as to his plans. In the event of new firemen being placed on the pay roll, he said he wanted five men for the hose company in Centralville and either three or four for the truck, while either two or three would do for the protective.

The committee discussed the proposition at some length. As to the condition of the general treasury fund, it was said that there was over $5000 available from the state corporation tax, which together with $6000 to be turned back by the street department and $500, coming back from "Little Canada" park appropriation, would make $11,500. Against this, however, was an over-estimate by the committee of about $3000 for liquor license revenue, and the net total general treasury fund visible to the naked eye was about $8500.

After further discussion the question came to a vote, and there were four in favor and three against, as follows: Yes—Aldermen Dexter, Gray, Councilman Davis. No—Aldermen Stevens, Councilmen Qua and Jewett.

The park department's request for a transfer of $500 from labor to sundries was considered. Hon. John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission, was present, as was Sup't. Whitely of the department to give information to the committee. The officials presented figures showing the expenditures from 1904 to 1908 inclusive, on park improvements. During these years the sum of $20,006.54 has been expended in improvements out of the department's maintenance fund. Fort Hill has had $4736.77 expended upon it, while the South common has benefited to the ex-

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me. I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

SHOOTS TO KILL Boston Man Attempted Suicide in Street

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Michael W. Donovan, 28, of 11 Walk Hill street, Forest Hills, attempted suicide by shooting himself in his wife's presence in front of 116 Hyde Park avenue last night.

He was taken to the City hospital with a bullet wound in his head, and his condition is reported as critical.

Donovan has been married but three years, and according to the story given to the police last night, by his wife, had been acting strangely all day.

Just before 6 o'clock he left the house in such a mood that his wife, fearing that something might happen to him, followed him, at times begging him to return home with her. This he refused to do, and when he reached Hyde Park avenue, he drew the revolver, placed it to his head before Mrs. Donovan could intervene and pulled the trigger. The man fell prone upon the sidewalk following the report, and many persons who had heard the sound of the shot hurried up, finding the wife weeping pitifully over the prostrate form.

The heart-broken woman was cared for by Adella Franklin and Anna Whittemore of 2 Walk Hill St., and John McDonald of 14 Elm street, West Roxbury, notified the police.

After Mrs. Donovan had somewhat recovered from the shock she followed the ambulance which bore her husband to the City hospital, but the surgeons there could give her little comfort, as they found that the bullet had entered the brain, and that the man's condition was such that they placed his name on the dangerous list.

GIRL SUES CITY Because She Was Ex- pelled From School

FITCHBURG, Nov. 17.—Margaret Pauline Jones, 14, through her father, William Jones, is suing the city of Fitchburg on account of her expulsion from school. The suit is for $5000.

It is said to be the first case of the kind ever tried in this state. The trial opened yesterday before Judge Wm. H. Dana in the Worcester county superior court in this city.

In the spring of 1908 the Jones girl was a pupil at the Ashburnham street school in the eighth grade. The principal was George F. Hopkins, who established in the school a miniature city, with a mayor, board of aldermen, etc., chosen from among the pupils.

The Jones girl was one of the pupils. One day a towel was stolen. She was one of those held responsible. As a result the little girl refused to act longer as policeman and the principal sent her home. Her parents took the matter to the school board, which after a hearing, told her that she could go back to school if she would go what the principal told her to do.

She returned to school, but the principal refused to grant her request that she be excused from service as a policeman and she was expelled.

Probably the trial will last two or three days. City Solicitor John P. McGrath appears for the city and Attorney David I. Walsh represents the Jones girl.

PASS BAD DIMES Thousands of Them Cir- culated in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Counterfeit dimes of fine workmanship, bearing the date of 1908, are finding free circulation in Boston. Thousands of them have been passed, it is believed.

The discovery of the bad money was first made by the Boston Elevated a week ago.

One of the employees in the treasury department noticed an almost imperceptible difference in the weight of two 10 cent pieces, one bearing the date of 1908, the other that of 1907.

The handwork of each was so similar that the fine details could not be detected with the naked eye. They were put under a microscope, however, and it was found that the 1908 coin lacked the fine detail of the scroll work in the later one, although the lettering and figuring were almost identical.

Orders were issued to each employee of the elevated to be on the lookout for 1908 dimes. As late as Monday one conductor is known to have taken 15 of the bad dimes, and many of them were passed on other conductors.

It is believed that the coins are being made in Boston, as this is the first city to have discovered the counterfeits, but so cleverly have they been handled out that their origin is a mystery.

The coin is made of silver and some other metal lighter than is regularly used. They appear nearly as bright as those of the date of 1907. They compare exactly in size and thickness with the genuine, while the lettering is perfect. The head design and scroll work cannot be told from that of the regular 10-cent piece by the naked eye.

MINISTERS' UNION MET AND ELECTED OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

At a meeting of the Lowell Ministers' union held Monday at the Y. M. C. A., considerable important business was transacted, including the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Following the election of Mr. Reynolds, the gospel singer at Calvary meetings rendered two selections and Mr. Starr, the evangelist, gave an address upon "How to Make Our Preaching Effective."

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D.; vice president, Rev. S. W. Cummings, D. D.; secretary-treasurer, Rev. J. E. Gage.

AGENT WHO BARED SUGAR FRAUDS; DOCKS WHERE FALSE SCALES WERE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Following in connection with the weighing frauds in New York were arranged before the special cabinet meeting at which the president discussed the sugar trust scandals it was announced in Washington that a sweeping investigation was to be made and that no power, political or otherwise, could turn the federal departments from their purpose of punishing the men "higher up" who are believed to have been directly responsible with the cabinet meeting men indicted, weighing was perpetrated.

WOMAN SENTENCED On Charge of Attempting to Obtain a Diamond

LAWRENCE, Nov. 17.—Dora Cronin, alias Mme. Pearl Lincoln, 50 years old, was sentenced in police court yesterday to three months in the house of correction on the charge of attempting to obtain a diamond under false pretenses from Mrs. Susan A. Porter. An appeal was taken and sureties fixed at $300.

The defendant represented, it is alleged, that she was a clairvoyant, and by her occult power could find a diamond brooch and two diamond ear jewels, valued at $700, which Mrs. Porter had lost. She produced the property all right, but the police were skeptical as to the way in which she came in possession of it and placed her under arrest, after she had said that she found the jewels underneath a mat in the hall.

In consideration of her efforts in restoring the jewels an agreement had been made by Mrs. Porter, it is claimed, by which one of the diamonds of the brooch should be reset into a ring for "madame."

Asked by Inspector Thompson, who was with Inspector Woodcock when the arrest was made, why she placed a chain to which a watch was attached about Mrs. Porter's neck and also turned a clock toward the wall, with instructions not to disturb either, as the spell would be broken, she said that this was "part of the business."

She had come to Mrs. Porter's home, 262 Essex street, for the ostensible purpose of engaging a room. She soon detected a "troubled look" on Mrs. Porter's face, and inquiring the cause learned that a loss had been sustained. She divined that the loss had been "something bright" and in turn was told that diamonds were gone.

NOTE OF WARNING

Sec'y Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Schemes to defraud the farmer and the would-be farmer, meaning the city man who is attracted to the country by specious advertisements, are receiving the attention of the department of agriculture, and it is probable that Secretary Wilson in his forthcoming annual report will sound a note of warning to the over-credulous.

Vast tracts of almost pure sand left after the cutting of the pine trees are being advertised as farming lands of the finest description. Undrained swamps are described as priceless possessions and all sorts of inducements are held out to attract purchasers of these alleged worthless lands. A favorite device is to set many thousands of slips or cuttings of fruit trees on common range lands incapable of producing anything better than sage brush and another is to offer to the unwary seeds or bulbs of some remarkable hybrid plant that will produce thousands of dollars an acre.

The real character of these lands, agricultural department officials state, might easily be ascertained by inquiry of the state authorities.

NEW HAIR TREATMENT

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and diseased germs, which get into your hair. There is a natural oil on your head that holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one thing needed. Tonics, renewers, invigorators, and hair growers do not and can not remove the dirt that causes the trouble. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. This will put the hair and scalp in a healthy natural condition, so that faded, lifeless hair resumes its natural color. There is no alcohol or ammonia in it, as they are said to make hair turn gray prematurely. Birt's Head Wash is made of Refined Soap, Cocaine, Coconut Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp, and any doctor will tell you so if you ask him. Don't use common soaps and shampoos. They often contain too much alkali, and that is one of the most harmful things you can put on your head.

LYMAN J. GAGE

Wealthy Widow

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The mystery of the $25,000 home that Lyman J. Gage, ex-secretary of the treasury, is building at Point Loma, Cal., the home of the Katherine Tingley Theosophical society, was partly solved when it was announced that on Thanksgiving day he was to marry Mrs. F. A. Ballou, she is the daughter of a wealthy merchant of San Diego and declares she was converted into theosophy by Mr. Gage. The former cabinet member is now seventy-three years old and this will be his third marriage. His first wife was Sarah Etheridge of Hastings, Minn., and they were married in 1864. ## QUALITY

It is natural—at all events it is common—in advertising groceries to mention "low prices" as the chief inducement, but Quality should not be lost sight of, in fact it is vastly more important. The policy of this concern for years has been, and is today, QUALITY FIRST.

BEATEN BY MOB

Italian Roughly Used After He Had Shot a Man

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Michel Constant, 35, of 111 Franklin street, East Boston, was taken to the East Boston Relief hospital last night suffering from severe body and head wounds after he had shot down James Mullen of 254 Chelsea street, at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets, and had himself been pursued and borne down by the blows of an infuriated group of men who had witnessed the attempted homicide.

The shooting took place at about 20 minutes of 3. That more men were not hit by the flying bullets is remarkable, and largely due to the prompt action of Policeman Tallon, who succeeded in landing both prisoner and victim at the Relief hospital on Porter street in time for a winning struggle to be commenced to save their lives.

Mullen will live. The Italian was badly used by the bystanders, who rushed upon him just after the fracas, and badly beat him.

As near as can be learned, Mullen, Constantine and one or two others were engaged in a rather heated argu-

Some one will win the $400 Piano offered in the piano contest on page 5 of this paper, and it might as well be you.

If you believe in honesty, sincerity and courage, go to ward 4, Lyon street, schoolhouse, tonight at 8 o'clock, and listen to a man who has said—who is not afraid to die—who is not afraid to make good his word. Officer Tallon will be there to restore order and take the two men to the hospital in the ambulance from station 7.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desires to thank all those who by words of consolation, acts of kindness and floral offerings endeavored to lighten her sorrow in the hour of her bereavement on the death of her beloved mother, Mrs. Johanna Sullivan. To each and all she extends her heartfelt thanks and will ever remember their sympathetic kindness.

Mrs. William Quinn

the care of State's Attorney. Before yesterday and the troops were sent for. All night they did guard duty about the mine and railroad cars containing mine inspectors and nurses and the private coach of President Harding of the St. Paul road. During the night lions of water were forced down in the burning mine through the hoist shaft. Fire Chief Rosen and Captain Kenney with engine 49 and a squad of Chicago firemen are in charge of this work.

The thoroughness of the persons directing the relief will make physical hardship and suffering improbable if sufficient funds are received. A card index system is employed by St. C. Ramsey, superintendent of the united charities of Chicago, and E. P. Blackwell, director of the National Red Cross. The following cases are typical ones these men will have charge of:

Louis Colletto, 49, his two brothers and his oldest son, John, 18, also were among the victims. Louis leaves a widow, who is a chronic invalid and six dependent children, the youngest five years old.

Joe Zankle, 35, perished. He leaves a widow and seven children, the oldest of whom is Annie, aged 12.

SIR THOS. LIPTON

Will Challenge for Race for the America's Cup

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge for a race for the America's cup to be sailed in 1911. Sir Thomas made this statement just before sailing for Europe today on the steamer Lusitania.

Sir Thomas has been here for several weeks to learn the attitude of the members of the New York Yacht club on the question of modification of the rules governing the America's cup. It is not known whether he obtained assurance from the club's members that a challenge would be received under the present racing rules of the New York Yacht club under which the Irish yachtsman desires to contest.

A number of yachtsmen were at the pier to bid Sir Thomas a safe voyage home. Before sailing Sir Thomas said: "I will challenge for a race in 1911. I cannot, of course, tell what attitude the New York Yacht club will take in the matter. It is up to them. I am sure the club will give the question full consideration. I believe they are just as anxious as anybody else for a race. They are good sportsmen and I am fully aware that they will do the right thing."

"I would have challenged for a race next summer, but it would have been impossible to get a boat ready for next season."

"If the New York yachtsmen insist on a challenge under the present rules for the international cup races I would stand no chance to win and that would not be sport. I shall issue my challenge with the largest type of boat."

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court, by John F. McGee, who claims that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor thereof named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the first day of November, A. D. 1909, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

to conform as far as possible with their ideas. I have been very kindly treated here by the people I have met and they have been very hospitable to me."

Members of the New York Yacht club said today that until Sir Thomas' challenge had been formally laid before them no definite statement could be made regarding its acceptance. Leading members of the club held the opinion that the old racing rules should govern contests for the America's cup.

ALL IN HARMONY

Democratic Mayoralty Candidates Show Sane and Friendly SpiritPledge Themselves to Work for the Party's Success at the Polls —No Personalities in Any of the Speeches

The unusual spectacle of two rival mayoralty candidates entering arm in arm at a public reception was noted at Associate hall, last evening, when Messrs. O'Donnell and Daly arrived at the reception tendered to Bishop Anderson by the Knights of Columbus. It gave evidence of the clean conduct of the campaign on the part not only of these two candidates but of all, for in all the speeches made last evening the most exacting critic could find nothing that savored of a personal nature or a reflection on any opposing candidate, and the prospect for a united party behind the nominee, whoever he may be, is most encouraging. With the democrats united and the sympathy of the republican party there can be little doubt of the ultimate result.

Daly in Centralville

John W. Daly devoted the early part of the evening to a rally in Odd Fellows hall, where he was greeted by a large and friendly audience. Mr. Daly confined his remarks to his attitude on the important question of charter revision and the needs of Lowell in this respect. Through his experience in both branches of the city council, Mr. Daly is decidedly well informed on this subject, and set forth his ideas on the matter in a most interesting and convincing manner. He stated his confidence in his ability to win at the polls but assured the voters if the nomination went to another candidate he would still work as hard as he could for the election of the party nominee.

Meehan in Belvidere

Rep. John F. Meehan addressed two large gatherings at the corner of Fayette and East Merrimack streets, and at the corner of Sherman and Concord streets, many republican residents of Belvidere being noted among the large gathering of democrats. Mr. Meehan it that the poor and needy at the city farm were not being starved for economy's sake. He said that any one of the candidates for mayor on the democratic ticket was vastly more competent to fill the position than is the present incumbent.

Mr. Crowley said that since Mr. Howe's exposure 300 pounds of meat have been restored to the infirmaries at that institution. "If I am elected mayor," he said, "my first official act will be the removal of the charity board."

In conclusion Mr. Crowley said that should another candidate win the nomination at the primaries, he would work as hard for his success as he would for his own.

EMBEZZLEMENT

Clergyman

DOVER, N. H., Nov. 17.—Malcolm C. MacLennan, formerly a Presbyterian clergyman and later the Halifax manager of an insurance company, was arrested here today charged with the embezzlement of $3000 of the company's funds. MacLennan said that he would return to Halifax without extradition papers.

MacLennan disappeared from Halifax a few weeks ago. Last week he appeared in this city and opened an insurance office. He was recognized through a circular sent here by the Halifax police and his arrest followed. The Halifax police were notified of the arrest and an officer of that city will come here at once for the fugitive.

HOLY NAME

OF ST. PETER'S TO ATTEND MASS
FOR FR. RONAN

The regular monthly meeting of St. Peter's Holy Name society will be held in the Fair hall tomorrow evening and there is much business of an important nature to be considered.

A solemn mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Peter's on Thanksgiving day for the repose of the soul of the late pastor, Rev. Michael Ronan. The holding of the mass has been purposely deferred until Thanksgiving, as it is the wish of Rev. Fr. Burns that the members attend the service in a body. Accordingly arrangements for the service will be made tomorrow evening. The committee appointed to conduct a minstrel show is looking up a date and Mr. Thornton, the director, has a few novelties in minstrelsy that he will introduce at the performance.

THE SOPHOMORES

MAY RESUME THEIR WORK UN-DER SUSPENDED SENTENCE

ORONO, Me., Nov. 17.—The seven university of Maine sophomores who were suspended for hazing may resume their work immediately under suspended sentence, according to an announcement made today by the faculty. The statement was in reply to a communication on Nov. 15th by the students and was in part as follows:

"The faculty regret that rash action by the undergraduate body at the time the suspensions were announced made impossible at that time consideration of any amelioration of the sentence. The faculty is unable to grant the petition but in consideration of the statement that you willingly abandon all forms of hazing and because its members desire to deal as leniently as possible with those students who were suspended for hazing the committee on discipline has voted that the execution of the remainder of the sentence against the remainder of the sophomores be suspended. This action is subject to the approval of the board of trustees at its approaching meeting. The effect of this vote is that the seven suspended sophomores may resume their work immediately under suspended sentence."

THE WEIGHING FRAUDS

Reports That Several Indictments
Have Been Found

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Although no official confirmation could be had today either from customs officials or from United States Dist. Atty. Wise, the report is persistent that indictments have been found against a number of government weighers whom Special Attorney General Henry L. Stimson has connected with the weighing frauds perpetrated by the American Sugar Refining Co. at its Williamsburgh docks.

The report from Washington that a list of 22 assistant weighers had been furnished to the United States civil service commission by the collector at New York of men implicated in the frauds was confirmed by Deputy Surveyor Richard Parr. Mr. Parr admitted that a list of "undesirables" had been prepared by him and forwarded to the secretary of the treasury. He limited, however, that this list was much longer than that referred by the United States civil service commission and that when the final "shake-up" came a considerably greater number than 22 would be dropped.

The belief is becoming general that a congressional investigation of the New York custom house will be ordered. Col. Edward S. Fowler, former collector of the port, declared himself in favor of such an investigation today.

Deputy Surveyor Parr modified today his earlier declaration, that he had discovered fraud in the importation of sugar at Philadelphia, by saying that possibly the discrepancies discovered by him could be ascribed to natural causes such as shrinkage and moisture. At the headquarters of the American Sugar Refining Co., President Thomas issued a denial of a report that he intended to resign. A report that C. H. Senff had resigned as director was also denied. It being explained that Mr. Senff had merely declined a re-election.

MAN COMMITTED SUICIDE

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—A man, believed from papers in his state-room to be William Buckley, a Nova Scotian, committed suicide by shooting on the steamer Providence of the Fall River line while the Providence was on her way down the sound for this city during last night. The man was seen to mount the guard rail of the steamer, stand there a moment and then send a bullet into his head. The body fell over into the waters of the sound and was not recovered.

GERMANY BECOMING SNOWBOUND

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Germany is fast becoming snow bound by a great snow storm that is sweeping over the whole country today. Nearly all the telephone and telegraph wires were down this afternoon. It is impossible to get through domestic messages.

TELEPHONE DEAL

More Color Lent to the Report

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The report that the controlling interest in the Western Union Telegraph Co. obtained by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. would lead to a closer community of interest between those companies and the Postal Telegraph Co. and probably an ultimate merger of the three companies was given more color today when officials of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. frankly said that the Postal company was the largest single stockholder in their company.

President Theodore Vail of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is in Boston today; it was said, conferring with other high officials of the company and just what the future plans of the new combination are in regard to the Postal's interest and other matters could not be learned in his absence.

Despite the renewed statement today of officials of the postal company that their company was not affected by the transfer of the Gould Western Union interests to the Telephone company and would conduct its business on an independent basis as heretofore, it is believed by many in financial circles that the announced merger is but the first step toward the final consolidation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the Postal Telegraph Co., the Commercial Cable Co., and the Western Union Telegraph Co. There was a report current today that special Assistant Attorney General Wade, Ellis and Harrison would come to this city to investigate the merger of the Telephone company with the Western Union. No information concerning the reported arrival here of the Washington officials was obtainable at the offices of United States Dist. Atty. Wise.

It is known, however, that the government has, since May, 1908, been investigating the telegraph and telephone companies in accordance with a resolution adopted by the United States senate.

TARIFF BOARD

Presented at the White House Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh called at the White House today and formally presented to the president the members of the new tariff commission. These are: James B. Reynolds, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury, 1904, Emory of Yale, who is chairman of the board, and Alvin H. Sanders of Chicago.

Secretary MacVeagh and the members of the board discussed with the president the work of the new board in some detail. It was the first time the president had met the members since their appointment last summer.

Before leaving the conference Mr. Reynolds took up with the president some details of the sugar trust frauds in New York insofar as the charges against him by Assistant Surveyor Parr were concerned.

Mr. Reynolds explained briefly his connection with the case as he has already outlined it in a formal statement given out several days ago.

tally Injured

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 17.—Mrs. James Edmunds of Washington county is alleged to have deserted her home recently, taking with her the household effects and five head of cattle, and leaving behind an old mule. JAMES MANTIR.

The Mullins Murder Case Concluded Just Before Noon

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 17.—After two weeks of evidence and argument the jury in the Mullins trial filed out of the courtroom shortly before noon today to decide on the guilt or innocence of James Mantir of Manchester, N. H. and Peter Delorey of Somerville. The evidence was concluded Monday noon and the remainder of that day and all yesterday was consumed in the address of the counsel and the district attorney. As soon as the judges had learned today that neither of the youthful defendants desired to add to the statements which they had already made on the witness stand, Judge White delivered the charge.

The judge consumed about two hours and was particularly emphatic in stating that if either of the defendants had been threatened or had had induc-ments held out to him by the police officers during the so-called third degree their statements thus secured should not be considered.

Both Mantir and Delorey appeared very grave during the charge.

6 O'CLOCK PRESIDENT TAFT

Says Country's Expenses Should be Cut by $50,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Today's long cabinet meeting was concerned very largely with routine matters that have accumulated since last August. Each member around the table had several items to take up and the discussion of these prolonged the meeting beyond the usual adjournment hour.

The president has not yet been able to get deep into the consideration of legislative questions and into the conferences with senators and representatives whom he wants to see. There was little chance today because the cabinet assembled at 11 o'clock and the remainder of his day was required for the pressing business of his office.

He is emphasizing to his congressional callers the situation with reference to the revenues and insisting that congress must curtail appropriations this winter. Former Senator Hemenway of Indiana, who is retained by the senate appropriations committee as an expert to advise about appropriations, told the president today that there had been an annual increase of fully $50,000,000 in an appropriation for several years.

The president urged him to work toward curtailing the appropriations this winter by as large a sum as that. The president does not want his party to go into the campaign next year burdened with charges of continued extravagance or of having to resort to the issue of certificates of indebtedness.

Secretary MacVegh informed the president at the meeting that he had decided upon a successor to Asst. Sec. of the Treas. James B. Reynolds, and Secretary Nagel also announced that he had found a successor to Asst. Sec. of the Interior, who was given to the public, although an early statement is expected.

There has been a long search for competent men to fill those places, as it is becoming more and more difficult to persuade successful men to come to Washington for the $5000 salary paid.

There is much talk in Washington nowadays about congressional investigations of some matters over which the president has direct authority, such as the sugar frauds and the Pullman charges. Very likely individual members of congress may offer resolutions to that end, but it is very doubtful if either investigation proceeds further than that. There is great aversion among the leaders of senate and house against entering upon such efforts. One argument is that such investigations only encourage agitation, and rarely get anywhere. The disposition will be to leave the president to handle those matters in his own way.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Major General Frederick D. Grant, commander of the department of the lakes, was forced to quit his home, 1406 Dearborn avenue, today by fire which originated in the basement and for a time threatened to consume the house.

General Grant assisted his wife in escaping by climbing out of a window to the porch roof and descending to the ground by a ladder which firemen raised.

Several of the servants were carried down ladders by the firemen.

COLONY OF INDIANS Will be Established in Nicaragua Early Next Year

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—To save the remnant of the Sioux tribe of Indians from extinction by disease a colony of Indians will be established in Nicaragua early in the new year. Chief Little-Bison, a full blooded Sioux, sailed from Boston on the steamer Espartero today for Nicaragua, where he will receive the deeds to 16,000 acres of land granted by the Nicaraguan government for the establishment of the colony. The project is supported financially by F. S. Dellenbaugh, head of the American Geographical society, and several wealthy New York persons. Little-Bison said before sailing today that there are less than 8000 full blooded Sioux on their reservation in South Dakota. This number is being lessened rapidly by disease which, it is thought, will be overcome by the semi-tropical climate of Central America. The migration of the Indians is expected to begin in January.

TO AID THE POOR

Rep. White Would Have State Buy Land for Them

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Two plans by which persons living in congested city districts may be assisted in securing homes of their own in the open country were presented to the Homestead commission yesterday afternoon by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Orlando D. Norcross of Worcester. Both plans were very similar, except in their minor details.

Representative White suggested that the state buy as much land as is necessary properly to try the experiment, and that this land be plotted out in such sizes as to furnish a comfortable home for each family desiring to secure it. He suggested that applicants should pay for this land just as insurance is now paid for, the yearly rates depending upon the age and expectancy of life of the applicant. In order that the state might average to get its money back, and that at the death of the purchaser the property be given to his estate, irrespective of the amount paid in.

Such a plan, he thought, would provide ample opportunity for men with small means to own their homes, and it would be a benefit to the state as well as the thrift which would necessarily follow such an opportunity, together with the benefit to be derived from the open air, would greatly decrease the numbers annually sent to state institutions, particularly to those treating tuberculosis.

He would accept as applicants only men of limited income, and would make it impossible for anyone having an income above a given amount to get such a home.

Asked by Chairman Bemis if this would not lead to paternalism, Representative White answered that paternalism exists today to an extent little realized; the natural tendency of government is that way, and it is only natural.

Chairman Bemis then asked: "Do you think paternalism means socialism?" Representative White's answer to this was an expression of his belief that the best way to combat socialism is to meet it with its own weapons, namely, by giving attention to minor details; the way to court socialism is to be dead to conditions, industrial and others.

The men who are really driving us toward socialism, he said, are the men who manipulate the sugar trusts and other similar manipulations, and not those who seek to have the state assist poor people to establish their own homes.

Mr. Norcross said he believed in this movement as above the most important and far-reaching that could be entered upon by the state. He presented a diagram showing that the city of Worcester is about three miles square and that its population to the acre is approximately 24 persons, yet if a circle one mile in diameter were added about the city the average density of population would be only nine to the acre.

He believed that if this movement could be popularized there would be no difficulty in finding men who would gladly contribute their money if they could be assured of a return of 2 1/2 or 3 per cent.

If 1,000,000 could be raised by individual subscription, he said, a company should be organized for doing this work; $100,000 should be set aside for contingencies and the balance, $900,000, should be devoted to home building, and it would provide 300 homes at $3000 each. Then these homes could be sold to applicants upon monthly payments, equal to what the applicants are now paying in rent and insurance.

In this way, he said, every person could have a home, and there is no reason why every resident of New England should not have a home. The great trouble with this section of the country, he said, is that New Englanders feel called upon to develop the west, and they try to keep their money at home. New England would be the richest place on earth.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith asked the commission to do something for the 75,000 homeless women in Boston; she said the suggestion that women should marry in order to secure homes is impracticable, as there are in Massachusetts 100,000 more women than men, and some means must be found of providing homes for the surplus. She will be given an opportunity later to go more into detail with respect to her ideas.

If you are interested in the success of the democratic party on election day go to the Lyon street school at 8 o'clock tonight. Your strong candidate, James E. O'Donnell, will be there at 8 o'clock.

BISHOP ANDERSON

Tendered Reception by the Knights of Columbus

Gathering of 1500 Greeted the Youngest Catholic Bishop in This Country — Addresses by Bishop Anderson and Rev. W. George Mullin.

The members of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus tendered a reception to Monsignor Joseph Anderson, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Boston and the youngest prelate in the country, in the city hall, last evening with a large and representative attendance. Bishop Anderson was accompanied from Boston by Rev. James Supple of St. Francis de Sales church, Charlestown, state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus and among the other clergymen noted on the stage were Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. of St. Patrick's, Rev. John J. Shaw of St. Michael's, Rev. George Nolan, O. M. I. of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Fr. Vliard, O. M. I. of Notre Dame de Lourdes, Rev. Dr. Kelcher, of St. Peter's; Rev. T. W. Smith, O. M. I. and Rev. L. F. Tishe, O. M. I., Sacred Heart; Rev. T. A. Walsh of Collinsville; Rev. Frederick Gorman of Winthrop; Rev. Frederick Delaney of the Holy Ghost hospital; Rev. Edmund T. Schofield of St. John's, North Chelmsford; Rev. Francis Mullin, Rev. John T. O'Brien, Rev. John F. Burns, Rev. W. George Mullin and Rev. James Fitzgerald.

The clergyman gathered in the parlors of the Knights' apartments and at 8 o'clock proceeded to the hall below escorted by the members of the Fourth Degree. The stage was prettily decorated in the national colors and from behind a hedge of greenery in the rear the young women of St. Peter's Adolphi club, directed by Prof. William Hovey, rendered a most acceptable selection. About every seat in the hall was taken, about 1500 being present. The ushers were: Dr. William A. Collins, Roger J. Lang, John J. Inder, Dr. F. R. Mahony, William F. Cawley and Walter S. Flynn.

The exercises opened with the selection "Merry Musicians" by the Mandolin club which made a fine impression on the large audience.

Grand Knight Andrew Molloy then briefly welcomed the guest and the gathering, after which James E. Donnelly sang "The New Born King."

Fr. Mullin's Remarks
"Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell council, was then introduced and he addressed the guest of honor in part as follows:

"The Catholic traditions of Lowell bid fair to be lengthened and perpetuated by the recurrence of a celebration like unto this. Such a cordial and brilliant gathering as this is ample proof of the deep abiding spirit of faith in your heart and a splendid tribute to your affection for a recognized superior."

"The privilege of according a reception to a bishop by the city of Lowell may be justly claimed as its right; a city which has been received so well and loved so keenly by such men as Fr. O'Brien, Fr. Garin, Fr. Joyce and dear Fr. Ronan of respected memory; a city that can boast of such churches as we have; a city that has been termed the home of bishops, has given to the church such men as the loving Allen, the scholarly Gavigan, Bishop Delaney of sainted memory, and finally our own archbishop, William H. O'Connell."

"Gladly do we then accept the occasion to show our love and esteem for our distinguished and revered guest of the evening. To you, Right Reverend Bishop, I bring the greeting of a devoted clergy, a loyal council of Knights of Columbus, and respectful and sincere Catholic people. We wish to assure you that it is with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation of your presence that we greet you, honor you and pledge you our loyal aid as faithful children. Speaking for the Lowell council may I say that you will ever find them willing and generous co-workers, ever ready to enlist in the cause of Catholicity, and ready to raise the Catholic Standard higher and higher. The members have been noted for the respect for the priesthood and authority, and it would seem as though the success they have attained has been a blessing from on high in return. So that today in all Boston archdiocese, not a better council can be found, one that is ready to do its duty to you and authority, than Lowell council, Knights of Columbus.

"We congratulate you on your elevation and distinction. We rejoice with you in the honor you have received as a marked tribute to your efficiency, worth, and we pledge through you, to our archbishop, loyalty, obedience and respect."

"We only ask that a career such as yours, young in years, but filled with work and rich in the honors of the church, may continue for many years to come. May we ask as we tonight place the few grains of incense and respect and loyalty upon the glowing coals of the fire of love burning in the center of your heart, that the fire may ever burn and the clouds of incense ever roll and rise to heaven as symbols of our one continual and mutual prayer for each other, and may the fragrance emitted and wafted on the air ever serve to attract us to each other and to remind us of the night when the Catholic people of Lowell assembled to do honor to the youngest, though no less beloved, bishop of the archdiocese of Boston, Right Reverend Joseph Anderson."

ANDREW MOLLOY,

At the conclusion of Fr. Mullin's remarks, Miss Katherine J. Mullin, a most promising young soprano, sang exquisitely the solo, "When the Heart is Young." It was Miss Mullin's first public appearance, and her sweet voice of wide range and rich quality won her many friends.

Bishop Anderson's Remarks

The guest of the evening, Rt. Rev. Joseph Anderson, was then introduced and he addressed the gathering informally. He said in part:

"I gratefully appreciate the kind greeting accorded me by the members of this council and the Catholics of Lowell. These words of kindly feeling and hearty greeting I take as an expression of your loyalty and devotion to the church and as a mark of your respect and reverence for the high office conferred on me by the Holy Father. You have already shown this mark of respect to others before me and in these days of irreligion it is most gratifying to have Catholic societies give expression in public manner of their faith and loyalty by such demonstrations as these, as they are a means of offsetting the antagonistic spirit of the age."

The frightful conditions in Europe give evidence of this terrible spirit of irreligion and are a warning note to us to be prepared to meet this spirit in our own country."

The spirit of anarchy and extreme socialism that is abroad in Europe has caused renegade Catholics to form what is known as the Anti-Clerical party which is opposed to religion and society. They have spread their doctrine among the laboring people and have so stirred them as to make them believe that the church is their enemy. The church stands for law and authority and in Germany and Belgium has triumphed over these warring forces where she has re-established herself with renewed strength. Now and are the conditions in France at the present time. The religious have been driven out with the apparent purpose of rooting out Christianity itself. It needs only the slightest effort to fan into anarchy and violence a movement of this kind."

In coming to accept your kind invitation tonight I have brought a message to you to make you realize your duty as a Catholic organization. These elements are at work in this country and the Catholic organizations must be awake and realize that there is something else besides being concerned about social enjoyment. The time has arrived for the Catholic duty to show itself. The moment has arrived. Already the Knights of Columbus have done excellent work along charitable lines and in the care of Catholic children, but another duty now confronts the order, and it is the beginning of what I might call "Social Work." We cannot allow these false doctrines to gain the ascendancy. It is a social age, but if we are to be actuated by Catholic principles the question is not "Am I my brother's keeper?" There is an obligation on us on behalf of our fellow man. He is our brother. We should be concerned about this social work. You have the knowledge of what to do and the right methods to pursue. There is need of you realizing your duty as citizens. A civic duty is a Christian duty. The welfare of society and movement alike should be given your consideration. That is my message to you this evening. I wish again to thank you for your greeting and also to wish you God's blessing."

The exercises in Associate hall closed with the singing of "Hail God, We Praise Thy Name" by the audience after which all related to the K. of C. chambers where an informal reception was held.

EDWIN I. ANDERSON

the Customs Frauds

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A new figure was introduced last night into the controversy surrounding the investigation of frauds charged in the American Sugar Refining Co., when Edwin I. Anderson, a former superintendent of docks for the company and a close personal friend of the late Theodore O. Havemeyer, announced through his attorneys that he is the man referred to by James B. Reynolds, former assistant secretary of the treasury, as the one who gave the department first specific information concerning the frauds.

Anderson has filed claims with the customs authorities for compensation, which he estimates will reach $1,000,000. For the past two years, he says, he has been engaged in furnishing evidence to the government and it was through him, he asserts, that Richard Parr, who now figures so prominently in the case, gained his information.

Anderson absolves Mr. Reynolds of any attempt to check the investigation, declaring that the former assistant secretary was at all times enthusiastic in his desire for prosecution. In fact, the first activity came as the result of encouragement which Mr. Reynolds gave him, he says.

Reviewing the case, both by means of affidavits which were made several days ago, and by verbal statements last night, Anderson says that the American Sugar Refining Co. requested his resignation after Mr. Havemeyer's death in 1903, on the theory that "he knew too much." Up to this time he had been in the company's employ for 32 years. At that time, he says, he had no positive knowledge that frauds were being committed but he suspected it and as a result of his suspicions he then undertook, he came into possession of what he calls positive proof that the government was being defrauded of at least $500,000 a year at the single refinery where he had been employed.

When he laid his evidence before the authorities at Washington, Anderson continued, the matter was at once taken up. He made several trips to Washington, meeting Colonel Gerry, chief of the customs department, an assistant secretary and others. Both Col. Gerry and Mr. Winthrop promised him, he says, that his claim for compensation should be allowed, and he accordingly went ahead with his investigations.

As does Parr, Anderson says that while his investigations were in progress he was constantly shadowed by detectives and was so far convinced that he was in danger of attack and possibly assassination that a special secret service agent was assigned to act as his bodyguard.

Discrediting Parr's claims to a share in the reward for furnishing this information, Anderson asserted that all the important information which the latter has obtained was secured, either from Anderson or from Anderson's friends and assistants.

In his affidavits, Anderson quotes Parr as saying in one of their daily conferences during the month of November, 1907:

"The government places a high valuation upon your services in this matter, and you will get under the law, between 25 and 35 per cent. of all the moneys recovered through this investigation." Parr added, according to Anderson:

"This is a big case. It is the kind of a case that President Roosevelt likes and you will get your full share of the proceeds, for you came around first of all with the information."

A letter indicating Anderson's conviction that the frauds would be found to involve many government employees at the New York customs house, was included among the exhibits attached to the affidavits.

Acting on Anderson's first letter offering his services to the treasury department, Acting Secretary Reynolds had suggested that the matter be taken up with the New York customs authorities. In reply Anderson said that he would rather drop the matter altogether than try to take it up through the New York customs officials "with all their probability of immediate leaks." He added pointedly:

"I am of the opinion that one might as well take the importers themselves into his confidence as to lay the matter before the customs house officials of this city."

MRS. STETSON

Again Before Directors
of the Church

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Twenty hours last Monday and ten yesterday, Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson of New York, accused of "mental malpractice," completed last night a close and secret conference with the board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the inner council rooms of the mother church.

As secret and uncommunicative as the doors and gates of the mother church, which remained locked and grated and barred, no word was vouchsafed throughout the day as to the meaning of the conference by Mrs. Stetson, the directors, or the Christian Science publications.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, at Monday morning, Mrs. Stetson, accompanied by her secretary, Ella Dunn, appeared at the corner entrance of the mother church on Fairmount street. Following a short scolding of the photographers by her secretary, Mrs. Stetson, gowned in gray and her face enveloped in a purple automobile veil, hurried across the walk into the church. A man, said to be Haynes Davis, a New York resident, who is believed to be looking after Mrs. Stetson's interests, entered the church soon after. Then came this board of five who Monday were also present at the hearing: Archibald McLellan, chairman; Stephen A. Chase, treasurer; John V. Dittmore, secretary; Addison V. Stewart and Ira D. Knapp, trustees.

Except for three of the members of the board who left the church for half an hour at 2 o'clock, no one was seen to leave or enter the church until 7 o'clock last night. If dinner was served in the church building it was not seen to be carried in, unless boxes which were thought to have been a prepared lunch taken from the Publications building next door about noon were for the conference. In this event it was taken to the church building by some other means than the generally known entrances and exits of the church.

Complete ignorance still prevails as to the status of the relations between the directors and Mrs. Stetson. It is generally believed that she is attempting to vindicate herself from the charges brought against her and which have recently resulted in her being deposed as a reader with the right to practice, for three years.

The only information concerning the hearing which anyone has been able to secure from the directors was given last night, when one of the board stated that the directors would continue their session at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and that it was presumed Mrs. Stetson would be in attendance.

Later last night the following signed statement was sent out by Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson through her secretary, Miss Ella Dunn:

"Our beloved leader, Mary Baker Eddy, has requested us all to unite with those in our church who are supporting the mother church directors. Today I have received a copy of her letter addressed to the trustees of the church.

"For twenty-five years I have gladly obeyed her leadership in every question. I have always found that by doing this I drew nearer to God. My students know that I have taught them to do likewise, without questioning her wisdom; therefore, they do not now need any word from me in addition to what our beloved leader has said to guide them at this hour. They will know that it is right for them to unite with those who supported the mother church directors in the judgment rendered against me. I myself have been obeying that judgment, and I shall continue to do so. I shall furthermore obey my leader by uniting with those who felt it was right to condemn me in their testimony. My leader's letter induces me to believe that I have been wrong where I felt that I was absolutely right.

"For 25 years I have watched and prayed for guidance and strength in correcting every error revealed to me by God and by my leader, or by any of my brethren."

The mother general of the Sisters of the Assumption, Rev. Sister Sainte-Monique, of the mother house at Nicolet, Que., is expected soon in this city by the local house of the order, whose members have charge of St. Louis' parochial school. She is coming on her annual tour of the American houses of the order.

OUT ON STRIKE

Their Places

BARRE, Vt., Nov. 17.—A complete paralysis threatens the granite industry in Vermont unless an adjustment of differences between the Manufacturers' Association and the Cutters' Union is reached within the next fortnight. Yesterday 4000 cutters in Barre, East Barre, Montpelier, Williamstown and Waterbury struck because of trouble in the sheds at Northfield, where a pneumatic bush hammer was objected to on the ground that it emitted so much dust that the cutters were unable to perform their work under conditions satisfactory to them. The strike of the cutters in the places mentioned threw 2000 polishers and tool-sharpeners out of work. The quarries and several other classes of employees are still at work, but if the trouble is not settled within a short time the 6000 now idle will be joined by thousands of other employees.

The cutters' union in Barre has communicated with James Duncan, of Quincy, Mass., secretary of the National organization, who is in Toronto, attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, of which he is vice president. If Mr. Duncan decides that the cutters shall return to work and agree to submit their case to a board of arbitration, it is thought the difficulty will be adjusted before it becomes a strike.

The manufacturers claim that the cutters in Northfield violated a three-year agreement and that the trouble in that town is of a trivial nature. Last Friday 200 cutters in Northfield struck as a protest against the pneumatic bush hammer, which they claim should be set up in a separate building. They claim that the bush hammer causes so much dust that it endangers their health and also impedes their work. The manufacturers say that under the agreement with the union that this grievance should have been referred to a board of arbitration.

In this city there is a feeling that the granite sheds will be shut down until the new year, as at this season work is usually slack and a suspension of two weeks in December occurs annually.

NATIONAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Pleas for the government regulation of natural monopolies were voiced last night at the joint convention of the National Municipal League and the American Civic Association by former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield and President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot of Harvard University. Both spoke of the conservation of natural resources and both declared that it was imperative that the government take immediate steps towards that end.

Congressman William S. Bennett of New York, who was the only other speaker of the evening session, delivered an address on "The effect of the immigrant on municipal politics."

HE TOOK POISON

Hand

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 17.—Frederick H. Thompson, aged about 60, one of the best out-of-door photographers in the country, and proprietor of a restaurant, committed suicide Monday night by taking poison at his rooms attached to the gallery of the Thompson Art company, 273 Middle street.

The exact time when he took the poison is not known, but as he asked a friend to open his door at 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning, it is supposed that it was about midnight.

Mr. Thompson had been pressed to meet his bills, and had recently renewed a mortgage for $1000. He said to a friend Monday that he could see no way out of his difficulties and expected to be forced to take his own life.

The friend tried to cheer him and went to a third man, a friend of both, who said, "He can have all the money he wants and I will have it ready for him in the morning."

Yesterday his friend called to tell Mr.

Thompson the good news, but it was too late.

Mr. Thompson was the proprietor of a restaurant on Congress street, but was most generally known as an out-of-door photographer, many of his pictures appearing in newspapers and magazines. He was universally liked and had the respect of all who knew him. He worried over his financial troubles, and until it was too late, did not take his friends into his confidence. He will be a great loss to the art-loving public. He did more, perhaps, than any other man to show to the world the beauty spots of picturesque Maine.

He was the friend of all the artists here, and they regarded him as one of their fraternity, even if he used the camera instead of the brush.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

JIM FLYNN

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan of Cambridge easily won the decision over Jim Flynn of Boston in a 12-round bout before the Armory Athletic association last night. The local boxer was no match for his skillful opponent and was sent to the floor five times.

The semi-final fight between Kid Sullivan of Newburyport and Walter Altieri of the navy, went eight rounds to a draw. The men are heavyweights. Tommy Furey of Attleboro knocked out his opponent, Young Sheehan of Manchester, N. H., in the first round.

ACCUSE MILLERS

Of Having Prepared
Flour to be Seized

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 17.—Charging that the millers had manufactured a lot of flour knowing that it would be seized and that they had not used as much adulterant in it as they ordinarily use, Pierce Butler of St. Paul caused Judge McPherson in the U. S. district court yesterday to express surprise and to declare that the matter would be fully investigated.

Judge McPherson ordered released 916 sacks of flour seized last summer, but specified that samples be retained for use when the case goes to trial at Council Bluffs on Jan. 15.

Mr. Butler, who was named by Atty. Gen. Wickham to represent the government at the hearing, entered a protest against the court's action and made the declaration that the flour had been specially prepared to meet an expected test.

LATEST CHARTER REVOKED

Newly Formed Federation in Ohio Will be Recognized

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 17.—The appeal of the Ohio State Federation of Labor from the revocation of its charter was dismissed by the American Federation of Labor today. It was voted, to recognize only the newly formed Ohio federation.

The convention authorized the calling of a convention of the warring factions of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Sept. 1 next to settle their dispute.

The revocation of the charter of the Ohio State Federation by the executive council for admitting to its membership seceding locals of the electrical workers was approved. The convention then adopted the report of its committee on laws that the appeal of the Ohio body be dismissed, although some of the delegates declared that the Ohio federation was being made the "goat" in the controversy. The executive council was directed to attempt to unify the trade unions of Ohio in the new state federation.

The plan of settling the disagreement among the electrical workers, recommended to the convention by its committee on laws, was adopted. It called for the appointment of a committee of three trade unionists to call the proposed convention of the electrical workers. The members of this committee are to be chosen by President Gompers, F. J. McNulty, president of the reorganized faction, and J. J. Held, leader of the so-called secessionists. The committee is to attend the proposed convention in an advisory capacity and to report to the executive council of the federation whether either faction has failed to promote the adjustment of the dispute. President McNulty and President Reid pledged their followers to the support of this plan.

The committee on laws reported that the Iowa federation admitted a violation of the federation law and recommended that upon compliance with the law their charter be restored. This was ratified by the convention.

In the cases of the central bodies of Cleveland, Toledo, Davenport, Cedar Rapids, Milwaukee and San Francisco, whose charters were revoked as a result of the electrical workers' controversy, the committee recommended that those organizations at once comply with the laws of the federation.

The committee took no action on appeals from Detroit and Indianapolis central bodies which have complied with the constitution of the federation.

Mrs. Jeane Stewart Ford who was arrested on a charge of having received $10,000 of the alleged stealings of Warriner spent the night in a cell in the women's department of the same jail. Bond for her was signed early today by a security bonding company and she was released, going at once to her sumptuous apartments. Attorneys for Warriner continued their negotiations for bondsmen.

IN POLICE COURT

Candid Offender Relieves the Monotony

The monotony of the regular, police court session was broken this morning during the trial of Michael Kivel, who was charged with being a common drunkard. Kivel is a well known character about town and so far as can be learned is his own worst enemy. He has a thirst for drink and when he wants it he generally manages to get it.

When he was asked to plead to the complaint charging him with being a common drunkard, he said he did not know what to plead. He said: "I suppose if my woman says that I am that I am, but I guess I'll not say not guilty."

Owing to the fact that several witnesses who were named by the complainant were not present the court decided to let the matter go over until tomorrow, he being held under $200 bonds for his appearance.

Kivel did not like the continuance business and grew rather fidgety. Just before the closing of the session he called Supt. Welch over to the cage within which he was confined and said: "Say, I'll die if I am locked up over night. Will I plead guilty?" "Do you wish to change your plea of not guilty?" asked the superintendent. "Well, will I?"

"I will not advise you," said Supt. Welch. "It is for you and not for me to say whether you plead guilty or not guilty."

"Well, tell His Honor that I will plead guilty." Supt. Welch informed the court and the only witness, the man's wife, who was also the complainant, was called. She was notified that she did not have to testify against her husband if she did not wish to do so. She admitted that she was sorry for making the complaint against him, but said that he was drunk every other day. Kivel denied the allegation and said:

"No man ever saw me drunk on Broadway."

"Did they ever see you drunk on any other way?" asked the court.

"Well, I don't know," was the answer.

Kivel said that he had been working on the sewer and if given a chance to go on probation he would allow his wife to go to city hall and draw his pay on Friday.

"You will do that, will you?" asked the court.

"Sure," was the reply.

"Well, that is very kind of you."

"Yes," continued Kivel. "If it was not for the fact that I was arrested and in court this morning, I could have got a job at the brewery."

"What was your intention; to drink up everything there?" asked Judge Hadley.

"No, I never thought of that."

"Well, I think that the best thing for you to do is to continue with your work on the sewer and keep away from the brewery," said the court.

"Do you think that you can get your work on the sewer again?" continued the court.

"Why, I can get a job anywhere," was the answer.

"Will you take the pledge if I give you another chance?"

"Sure thing."

"Where will you go?"

"Why I'll go to any clergyman who will do the job," was Kivel's answer.

Judge Hadley gave Kivel the name of a clergyman and told him that after having a talk with the probation officer to make his way to the place mentioned and take the pledge and keep it.

Kivel was then sentenced to four months in jail, sentence was suspended, and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

Wife Supports Husband

James McGrade, who looked the picture of health, was charged with failing to provide proper support for his wife, Annie M. He claimed that he was not strong enough to work and admitted that his wife worked every day and supported him.

Mrs. McGrade testified that for the past 15 months her husband had given her but $1.55.

He was given a suspended sentence of five months in jail and placed on probation for one year.

Stole Gloves

James Canole, attired in knee breeches and who did not appear to be a day over 14 years, but who claimed he was 18 years of age, was charged with stealing three pairs of gloves, each pair of the value of 50 cents, from the store of Moses Little, in Bridge St.

He said that he would plead guilty to stealing one pair, but denied that he had taken any more. Inasmuch as the young man was arrested this morning and his relatives did not have a chance to appear in court Judge Hadley decided to allow the case to go over until Friday morning.

ALLEGED SMUGGLER

Was Placed Under Arrest at Houlton, Me.

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 17.—A fight between two officers and an alleged smuggler at the New Brunswick Maine boundary last night resulted in the injury of the officers and the capture of the man for whom they had been searching. The man arrested is Wm. J. Kelley, 55 years old, of Richmond, N. B. The officers, Deputy U. S. Marshal Stevens of Portland and Deputy Collector Peters, were badly bruised, but not seriously hurt.

Since the night of April 17, 1902, when he is alleged to have beaten

Frank Burns of Fort Fairfield, a deputy collector of customs, so severely with a steel stake that Burns lay almost at the point of death for six months, the Maine authorities have been trying to take Kelley into custody. For this attack he was indicted on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Last night Deputy Marshal Stevens and Deputy Collector Peters stopped him just after he had crossed the line into East Houlton with a wagonload of turkeys and chickens. He was taken to Portland today and will be arraigned in the federal court tomorrow.

Fred Dufort, who it was alleged got drunk in Chelmsford, will spend the next 20 days in jail.

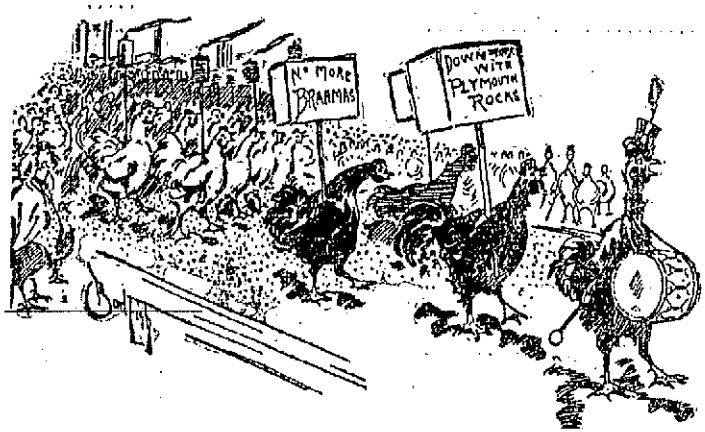

Patrick Beecher, released from the Taunton jail a few days ago, was before the court on a complaint charging him with being drunk. He was sentenced to the state farm and entered an appeal.

William H. Dever was also sentenced to the state farm and appealed.

Patrick J. Kane was sentenced to four months in jail. Gregg Reay was fined $6 and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

NOTE OF WARNING

Sec'y Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Schemes to defraud the farmer and the would-be farmer, meaning the city man who is attracted to the country by specious advertisements, are receiving the attention of the department of agriculture, and it is probable that Secretary Wilson in his forthcoming annual report will sound a note of warning to the over-credulous.

Vast tracts of almost pure sand left after the cutting of the pine trees are being advertised as farming lands of the finest description. Undrained swamps are described as priceless possessions and all sorts of inducements are held out to attract purchasers of these alleged worthless lands. A favorite device is to set many thousands of slips or cuttings of fruit trees on common range lands incapable of producing anything better than sage brush and another is to offer to the unwary seeds or bulbs of some remarkable hybrid plant that will produce thousands of dollars an acre.

The real character of these lands, agricultural department officials state, might easily be ascertained by inquiry of the state authorities.

NEW HAIR TREATMENT

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs, which get into your hair. There is a natural oil on your head that holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The new scalp treatment has stopped up the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one thing needed. Tonics, renewers, invigorators, and hair growers do not and can not remove the dirt that causes the trouble. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. This will put the hair and scalp in a healthy, natural condition, so that faded, lifeless hair resumes its natural color. There is no alcohol or ammonia in it, as they are said to make hair turn gray prematurely. Birt's Head Wash is made of Heling Soap, Cocoon Cocaine Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp, and any doctor will tell you so if you ask him. Don't use common hair soaps and shampoos. They often contain too much alkali, and that is one of the most harmful things you can put on your head.

LYMAN J. GAGE

Wealthy Widow

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The mystery of the $25,000 home that Lyman J. Gage, ex-secretary of the treasury, is building at Point Loma, Cal., the home of the Katherine Thayer Theosophical society, was partly solved when it was announced that on Thanksgiving day he was to marry Mrs. F. A. Ballou. She is the daughter of a wealthy merchant of San Diego and declares she was converted into theosophy by Mr. Gage. The former cabinet member is now seventy-three years old and this will be his third marriage. His first wife was Sarah Etheridge of Hastings, Minn., and they were married in 1864. She died in 1871, and in 1887 he married Miss Cornelia Washburn of Denver.

It is natural—at all events it is common—in advertising groceries to mention "low prices" as the chief inducement, but Quality should not be lost sight of, in fact it is vastly more important. The policy of this concern for years has been, and is today, QUALITY FIRST.

BEATEN BY MOB

Italian Roughly Used After He Had Shot a Man

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Michel Constantino, 25, of 111 Franklin street, East Boston, was taken to the East Boston relief hospital last night suffering from severe body and head wounds after he had shot down James Mullon of 214 Chelsea street, at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets, and had himself been pursued and borne down by the blows of an infuriated group of men who had witnessed the attempted homicide.

The shooting took place at about 20 minutes of 9. That more men were not hit by the flying bullets is remarkable, and largely due to the prompt action of Policeman Tallon, who succeeded in landing both prisoner and victim at the Relief-hospital on Porter street in time for a winning struggle to be commenced to save their lives.

Mullon will live. The Italian was badly used by the bystanders, who rushed upon him just after the fracas and badly beat him.

As near as can be learned, Michel Constantino and one or two others were engaged in a rather heated argument in a saloon at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets, and the Italian was forced to leave by the tide of people before he could satisfy his grievance. Mullon and some friends reached inside for some minutes, and then stepped into the street from a door at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets. As they did so Constantino stepped in from the side of the door on Orleans street with a drawn revolver. He leveled it straight at Mullon and with the report his man dropped to the sidewalk.

At this moment a number who had witnessed the affair from the other side of the street and those within the saloon rushed the sidewalk and captured Constantino before he had a chance to make good his escape. Officer Tallon was able to restore order and took the two men to the hospital in the ambulance from station 7.

If you believe in honesty, sincerity and courage, go to ward 4, Lynn street, schoolhouse, tonight at 8 o'clock, and listen to a man who has said—who is not afraid to do right—that man is James E. O'Donnell.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned desire to thank all those who by words of consolation, acts of kindness and floral offerings endeavored to lighten her sorrow in the hour of her bereavement on the death of her beloved mother, Mrs. Johanna Sullivan, to each and all who extend her heartfelt thanks and will ever treasure their sympathetic kindness.

the cars of State's Attorney Robert yesterday and the troops were sent for. All night they did sentry duty about the mine and railroad cars containing the mine inspectors and nurses and the private coach of President Harding of the St. Paul road. During the night tons of water were forced down in the burning mine through the hoist shaft. Fire Chief Moran and Captain Kenney with engine 30 and a squad of Chicago firemen are in charge of this work.

The thoroughness of the persons directing the relief will make physical hardship and suffering improbable if sufficient funds are received. A card index system is employed by S. C. Kingsley, superintendent of the United charities of Chicago, and E. P. Bicknell, director of the National Red Cross.

The following census are typical ones these men will have charge of:

Louis Gallo, 49, his two brothers and his oldest son, John, 18, also were among the victims. Louis leaves a widow and seven children, the eldest of whom is Annie, aged 13.

SIR THOS. LIPTON

Will Challenge for Race for the America's Cup

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge for a race for the America's cup to be sailed in 1911. Sir Thomas made this statement just before sailing for Europe today on the steamer Lusitania.

Sir Thomas has been here for several weeks to learn the attitude of the members of the New York Yacht club on the question of modification of the rules governing the America's cup. It is not known whether he obtained assurance from the club's members that a challenge would be received under the present racing rules of the New York Yacht club under which the Irish yachtsman desires to contest.

A number of yachtsmen were at the pier to bid Sir Thomas a safe voyage home. Before sailing Sir Thomas said: "I will challenge for a race in 1911. I cannot, of course, tell what attitude the New York Yacht club will take in the matter. It is up to them. I am sure they will give the question full consideration. I believe they are just as anxious as anybody else for a race. They are good sportsmen and I am fully aware that they will do the right thing."

"I would have challenged for a race next summer, but it would have been impossible to get a boat ready for next season."

"If the New York yachtsmen insist on a challenge under the present rules for the international cup races I would stand no chance to win and that would not be sport. I shall issue my challenge with the largest type of boat to conform as far as possible with their ideas. I have been very kindly treated here by the people I have met and they have been very hospitable to me."

Members of the New York Yacht club said today that until Sir Thomas' challenge had been formally laid before them no definite statement could be made regarding its acceptance. Leading members of the club held the opinion that the old racing rules should govern contests for the America's cup.

REFORMS FOR IRELAND

T. P. O'Connor Says They Have Come by Peaceful Means

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and president of the United Irish League of Great Britain, was tendered an informal reception at the American house yesterday afternoon by the Boston central branch of the United Irish League.

The attendance was not confined to members of the league, invitations having been extended to friends of the Irish cause generally. About 100 persons, including several women, took advantage of the opportunity to pay their respects to the distinguished envoy and to hear what he had to say about the success of his present mission to this country.

Mr. O'Connor had just returned from his western trip. After the hand-shaking Judge Augustine J. Daly, president of the Boston central branch, called the meeting to order.

Mr. O'Connor spoke for nearly an hour, telling of the success of his mission to this country, of the benefits to the Irish cause that would be derived from it, and of what had been accomplished through the proceeds of previous similar missions to this and other countries.

Boston a Central Position
The speaker said he regarded Boston as one of the central spots of the fight for Ireland. He spoke of the big meeting recently held in Tremont temple, and of the generous contributions of money to the cause made at that time. He had since visited many cities in the west, and in the main the example of Boston has been followed, and altogether this has been one of the most successful missions a representative of the Irish party has had in the past 20 years.

In Chicago, where there was a monster meeting, no public subscription was called for, but after the meeting 20 or 25 men got together and in less than half an hour $5000 was raised. Joseph Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, who was one of the party, said Chicago ought to raise $25,000, and Mr. O'Connor was invited to come to that city again before he started for home.

In St. Mr. O'Connor said, there was the same generosity and enthusiasm. Toledo and Columbus were rivals as to which would contribute the larger amount, and about $1500 was subscribed in each place.
Before leaving London Mr. O'Connor said that John Redmond told him that he thought $25,000 would be a fair amount to expect from the nation. Already $20,000 has been cabled across by T. B. Fitzpatrick, the national treasurer of the U. I. L. of America, and before he leaves this country, Mr. O'Connor said, he thinks $50,000 will be subscribed.

Stupendous Reforms
Speaking of what had been accomplished by what had been sent there in previous years, Mr. O'Connor said he had been in politics 25 years, and at the beginning of his career he had no idea or hopes of seeing in his lifetime the reforms that have already been secured. The dreams of those days have already been realized. More than half the land of Ireland is now in the hands of peasant proprietors, and when the amended land bill with the compulsory sale clause had passed into law the land war in Ireland will be over. The bill provides for the payment of a lot of money to the landlords, but its passage is conditional upon the landlords' promise to assist in the solution of the congested districts problem. The passage or rejection of the bill lays in the hands of the Irish members.

All of the reforms already brought about have been secured through peaceful, persistent and effective agitation by the Irish members of parliament and those who supported them financially and morally. Far less important reforms than these, which run by amount to a revolution, said Mr. O'Connor, had been secured at enormous cost of money, and even blood. The money sent from here has been returned a thousandfold in what had been saved in rack rents, which had been abolished through the efforts of the Irish members of parliament. At present these number 81; in the next parliament they will number 83.

Mr. O'Connor said the party was unable to keep all its members in London during the present long session because of lack of funds. He believed that every member should be there all the time, for the fate of the British empire, in the sense of its government, may be decided any night.

Education Campaign Needed
He graphically described how the powerful ministry of Gladstone was deposed shortly after midnight one night in 1885. Six times during the present ministry the Irish party has been in a position to depose it, but has refrained because it did not wish to jeopardize the land bill now before it. "I expect to be in Chicago," said Mr. O'Connor, "a week from next Wednesday, and by that time it is probable that there will be a division on the budget in the house of lords. If the budget is rejected I think we can tell not only the number of years, but the number of months that separate Ireland from home rule."

Mr. O'Connor said he was surprised at the scanty knowledge shown in this country of the conditions in Ireland. He believed there should be a campaign of education here, so that people could keep in touch and sympathy with what had been accomplished and what was planned.

Among the attentive listeners to Mr. O'Connor's talk were T. B. Fitzpatrick, A. Shuman, Michael J. Jordan, Michael Maynes, Michael H. Morrison, John O'Callaghan, Very Rev. M. J. McLaughlin of County Mayo, Ireland, Fr. Mahon of Roxbury, Dr. P. J. Timmons, Dr. Henry McLaughlin, Daniel P. Sullivan, B. A. Toland, Senator Duane of Waltham, Daniel Fitzgerald of New York, Col. P. J. Nevin and M. P. Curran.

Mr. O'Connor went to Haverhill last night. Tonight he will speak in Providence, which will be the last meeting he will address in New England. Governor Knickerbocker, ex-Gov. Higgins, ex-Mayor P. J. McCarthy and a number of other influential citizens of Providence are actively engaged in arranging for his visit.

Mr. O'Connor expects to start home in about three weeks.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William Hillier and Miss May Bartlett were united in marriage last night by Rev. George B. Dean at the parsonage of St. Paul's M. E. church. Only immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at 57 Lawrence street, at which Mr. and Mrs. Hillier received their numerous friends and the congratulations showered upon them. Miss Bernice Brodie presided at the piano, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillier left on an early evening train for an extended trip to Canada. After their return they will make their home in this city.

DRACUT

The warrants for a special town meeting to be held in Grange hall, Dracut Centre, on Tuesday evening November 23, at 8 o'clock, have been posted and the routine of the business that will come before the meeting is contained in four articles which are as follows:

Article I. "To choose a moderator to preside over the meeting."
Article II. "To see if the town will vote to authorize and instruct the town treasurer to borrow with the approval of the selectmen a sum of money not to exceed $1000 for one year, for the purpose of exterminating the brown rat and gypsy moths."

Article III. "To see if the town will vote to authorize and instruct the town treasurer to borrow with the approval of the selectmen a sum of money not to exceed $4000 for not more than five years, to be used under the provisions of chapter 179, acts of 1908, and instruct the selectmen to petition the highway commission for an allotment under said chapter and acts."

Article IV. "To see if the town will vote to determine what road shall be expended on."

15 MORE FIREMEN

Aldermen Voted Their Salaries for December

PERMANENT MEN TO BE ADDED TO DEPARTMENT

Clark Road Improvement Held Up Temporarily—Committee Appointed to Consider Purchase of Building Bath House Purposes—Oakland Sewer Expense Was Steep

The board of aldermen met in regular session last night and voted unanimously to appropriate $1375 from the general treasury fund to pay the salaries of fifteen more firemen, permanent men, in December. Ten or twelve of the new men will go to the first station in Centralville.

Chairman Gray called the board to order at a few minutes before 9 o'clock. James Brosnan, appointed health commissioner, was confirmed under suspension of rule 13.

Thomas P. Duffy asked for permission to move a building from Victor street to Carolyn street, and a hearing was ordered at the next meeting.

Councilman Tracey's joint order for the appointment of a joint committee to consider the purchase of a building in Church street for bath house purposes was adopted. Chairman Gray named Aldermen Cheney and Stevens on the committee representing the board.

The recommendation of the street committee that the lines of Clark road be defined was read. There was no estimate of the cost in the order accompanying the communication, and Alderman Dexter asked for information in this connection.

Alderman Dodge outlined the work of the committee in getting the matter in shape, and said the cost would be between $600 and $700, the money to be taken from the appropriation.

Alderman Conners, another member of the committee, favored the alterations.

Alderman Dexter moved that action be postponed until the next meeting, pending a definite estimate of the cost. Alderman Walworth seconded, and the motion became a vote.

Other recommendations from the committee on streets were sent to the city clerk's office for seven days under the rules.

A relic of last year's sewer campaign came before the board, when Chairman Gray asked the members to certify to the cost of the Oakland sewer, so-called, and to declare the assessments. The cost was $54,610.53, and the assessment only $2337.75.

A recess of ten minutes was ordered, and when the board came together again the recommendation of the committee on appropriations came up.

The matter of transferring $6000 from the appropriation to pave Merrimack and Middlesex streets to the general treasury fund was adopted.

The order setting aside $1000 for the health yard labor was adopted.

For fifteen additional firemen, $1275, representing wages in December, was voted.

For soldiers relief $1400 was voted from the general treasury fund.

By vote $500 was transferred from park department labor to park department sundries.

CHICAGO DOCTOR

Denies That He Murdered His Wife

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Dr. Haldane Clemenson took the witness stand yesterday to refute the charge that he murdered his wife. He was pale but composed.

The defendant was preceded as a witness by his mother, Mrs. Isahel Clemenson, who denied telling anyone that the way Dr. Clemenson treated his wife was shameful, or that the race suicide theory had been upheld by her in her son's home.

Dr. Clemenson testified that after the birth of his first child his wife's health was frail.

Describing his wife's condition preceding the night of her death Dr. Clemenson said: "About 3 o'clock I awoke. She was pale, cold and perspiring. I stayed up with her for an hour, giving her medicine twice. Then I put her to bed again and she seemed all right. At noon next day I telephoned from my office to my mother, who was at my home. She said Nora was all right."

"On the night of Mrs. Clemenson's death we had a light dinner and I conversed with Nora about a patient I was attending. We went to bed about 10 o'clock.

"About 6 a. m. I awoke. I had a feeling of nausea. I touched my wife with my foot. She was cold and did not answer. I saw a six-ounce bottle on a chair beside the bed; also a glass.

Witness said he telephoned for a doctor and then returned to the bedroom. He thought his wife had committed suicide and to hide the shame he thought of making it look to be the deed of a burglar. "I scattered everything in the house in disorder and hid some things that I wanted to make believe were stolen," he said. "I scattered burnt matches about the floor."

CAN BUY OPIUM

At Deer Island, Says George Steele

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—A prisoner at Deer Island can get all the opium he wants if he has the money to pay for it, according to a statement made to Judge Wait yesterday by George A. Steele, of Dorchester, in the superior criminal court.

Steele, who was charged with forgery and larceny, declared that all his offences were due to his addiction to the use of opium. He asked the judge not to send him to Deer Island, where opium could be had, but to let him go to a sanitarium till cured of his desire for opium, and then sentence him if he decides to.

Steele has been to both Deer Island and the state prison, and is at present on parole from state prison.

Judge Wait decided to turn Steele over to the care of Probation Officer Keefe for two months, in order to allow him to go to a sanitarium. Steele will have to get someone to put up $300 bonus for him, however.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MET

A well attended meeting of the Woman's association of the Kirk Street church, was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank K. Stearns, 122 eleventh street. Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. John A. Simpson being the hostesses.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. C. H. Taintor representing the Church Building society. She gave an interesting address describing her work in that society.

Miss Louise Gibson sang a solo during the meeting. Light refreshments were served and a social hour followed the meeting.

MORE MONEY VOTED

To City Departments by Appropriations Committee

The committee on appropriations met last night to consider the requests of departments for more money. The committee was also confronted with the proposition to add 15 men to the fire department and the committee voted to recommend the appropriation of $1375 for salaries for the new firemen for December.

The committee voted $1000 for the health yard labor and $1400 for soldiers' relief. Transfers of $8000 from the street department to the general treasury fund and $800 from the park department labor to park department sundries were also voted.

Supt. Newell F. Putnam of the street department had a number of transfer bills bearing on the Middlesex and Merrimack streets paving. These transfers amount to about $13,000.

A high compliment was paid Supt. Putnam of the street department for the manner in which he kept down expenses in his department.

It was voted to recommend the transfer of $1375 for 15 extra firemen to the committee.

Chief Hosmer gave the committee information as to his plans, in the event of new firemen being placed on the pay roll. He said he wanted five men for the hose company in Centralville and either three or four for the truck, while either two or three would do for the protective.

The committee discussed the proposition at some length. As to the condition of the general treasury fund, it was said that there was over $5000 available from the "late" corporation tax, which together with $8000 to be turned back by the street department and $500 coming back from "Little Canada" park appropriation, would make $11,500. Against this, however, was an over-estimate by the committee of about $3000 for liquor license revenue, and the net total general treasury fund visible to the naked eye was about $8500.

After further discussion the question came to a vote, and there were four in favor and three against, as follows: Yes—Aldermen Dexter, Gray, Councilman Davis. No—Aldermen Stevens, Councilmen Qua and Jewett.

The park department's request for a transfer of $500 from labor to sundries was considered. Hon. John J. Pickman, chairman of the park commission, was present, as was Supt. Whittell of the department to give information to the committee. The officials presented figures showing the expenditures from 1904 to 1908 inclusive, on park improvements. During these years the sum of $20,005.54 has been expended in improvements out of the department's maintenance fund. Fort Hill has had $4756.77 expended upon it, while the South common has benefited to the ex-ent of $6588.43. Mr. Pickman admitted that the department had been somewhat slow in the matter of improvements on the North common, but he declared the park commission had been earnest in its efforts to give this spot a full measure of attention.

It was voted to transfer $500 from wages to sundries.

The sum of $1400 was voted to soldier's relief in the state aid department.

The health department asked for $3400 for nine weeks' yard labor. The committee voted $1000, with the understanding that more would be voted after the committee received more information. But for the action of the committee, there would be no pay for yard laborers next week.

Favorable action was taken in the matter of recommending a transfer of $6000 from the street department to the general treasury fund. Adjourned.

Laid at Rest

Funeral of Alonzo D. Greeley at Pelham

The funeral of the late Alonzo D. Greeley, originator of the famous "Pelham Songs," took place from his home in Pelham, N. H., yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended, all the neighboring cities and towns being represented. A beautiful feature of the service was the singing of a large choir consisting of many members of the old choir which sang in the local church when the deceased was organist, augmented by the younger voices of the present choir.

Solon W. Stevens of Tewksbury presided at the organ and the body was being borne from the house played "Round About the Starry Throne," the favorite hymn of the deceased. The choir sang: "Still, Still With Thee," and "Come Unto Me." Warren Hamblett sang "Only Remembered." Selections from the scriptures were read by Rev. J. L. Hoyle and an address was given by Rev. C. L. Merriam of Derry, N. H.

There was present a large delegation from Gen. Stark colony of Pilgrim Fathers, also a delegation from Ancient York lodge of F. and A. M. of Lowell, of which the deceased was a member, the following members of which lodge acted as pall-bearers: William H. Worcester, Henry J. Fay, P. B. Peavey and James G. Marshall.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful.

The burial was in the family lot in the old cemetery at Pelham Centre.

AT ST. MICHAEL'S
The Holy Hour service will be held at St. Michael's church at 7:30 tomorrow evening.

SHOOTS TO KILL

Boston Man Attempted Suicide in Street

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Michael W. Donovan, 38, of 11 Walk-Hill street, Forest Hills, attempted suicide by shooting himself in his wife's presence in front of 116 Hyde Park avenue last night.

He was taken to the City hospital with a bullet wound in his head, and his condition is reported as critical.

Donovan has been married but three years, and according to the story given to the police last night by his wife, had been acting strangely all day.

Just before 6 o'clock he left the house in such a mood that his wife, fearing that something might happen to him, followed him, at times begging him to return home with her. This he refused to do, and when he reached Hyde Park avenue, he drew the revolver, placed it to his head before Mrs. Donovan could intervene and pulled the trigger.

The man fell upon the sidewalk following the report and many persons who had heard the sound of the shot hurried up, finding the wife weeping pitifully over the prostrate form.

The heart-broken woman was cared for by Adella Franklin and Anna Whittemore of 2 Walk-Hill St., and John McDonald of 14 Elm street, West Roxbury, notified the police.

After Mrs. Donovan had somewhat recovered from the shock she followed the ambulance which bore her husband to the City hospital, but the surgeons there could give her little comfort, as they found that the bullet had entered the brain, and that the man's condition was such that they placed his name on the dangerous list.

GIRL SUES CITY

Because She Was Expelled From School

FITCHBURG, Nov. 17.—Margaret Pauline Jones, 14, through her father, William Jones, is suing the city of Fitchburg on account of her expulsion from school. The suit is for $5000.

It is said to be the first case of the kind ever tried in this state. The trial opened yesterday before Judge Wm. H. Dana in the Worcester county superior court in this city.

In the spring of 1908 the Jones girl was a pupil at the Ashburnham street school in the eighth grade. The principal was George F. Hopkins, who established in the school a miniature city, with a mayor, board of aldermen, etc., chosen from among the pupils.

The Jones girl was one of the policemen. One day a towel was stolen. She was one of those held responsible. As a result the little girl refused to be longer as policeman and the principal sent her home.

Probably the trial will last two or three days. City Solicitor John F. McGrath appears for the city and Attorney David L. Walsh represents the Jones girl.

PASS BAD DIMES

Thousands of Them Circulated in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Counterfeit dimes of fine workmanship, bearing the date of 1908, are finding free circulation in Boston. Thousands of them have been passed, it is believed.

The discovery of the bad money was first made by the Boston Elevated a week ago.

One of the employees in the treasury department noticed an almost imperceptible difference in the weight of two 10 cent pieces, one bearing the date of 1908, the other that of 1903.

The handiwork of each was so similar that the fine details could not be detected with the naked eye. They were put under a microscope, however, and it was found that the 1908 coin lacked the fine detail of the scroll work in the later one, although the lettering and figuring were almost identical.

Orders were issued to each employee of the elevated to be on the lookout for 1908 dimes. As late as Monday one conductor is known to have taken 18 of the bad dimes, and many of them were passed on other conductors.

It is believed that the coins are being made in Boston, as this is the first city to have discovered the counterfeits, but so cleverly have they been handed out that their origin is a mystery.

The coin is made of silver and some other metal lighter than is regularly used. They appear nearly as bright as those of the date of 1908. They compare exactly in size and thickness with the genuine, while the lettering is perfect. The head design and scroll work cannot be told from that of the regular 10-cent piece by the naked eye.

MINISTERS' UNION

MET AND ELECTED OFFICERS FOR THE YEAR

At a meeting of the Lowell Ministers' union held Monday at the Y. M. C. A., a considerable important business was transacted, including the election of officers for the ensuing year.

Following the election of Mr. Reynolds, the gospel singer at Calvary meetings rendered two selections and Mr. Stahl, the evangelist, gave an address upon "How to Make Our Preaching Effective."

The officers resulted as follows: President, Rev. N. T. Whitaker, D. D.; vice president, Rev. S. W. Cummings, D. D.; secretary-treasurer, Rev. J. B. Briggs.

AGENT WHO BARED SUGAR FRAUDS; DOCKS WHERE FALSE SCALES WERE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Following in connection with the weighing frauds the special cabinet meeting at which the president discussed the sugar trust scandals it was announced in Washington that a sweeping investigation was to be made and that no power, political or otherwise, could turn the federal departments from their purpose of punishing the men "higher up" who are believed to have been directly responsible for the frauds. Simultaneously with the cabinet meeting men indicted in New York were arraigned before Judge Hand of the United States district court. In the further investigations Richard Parr, now of the customs service, who discovered the weighing scandals while he was acting as a special agent of the treasury department, will be an important witness. This picture shows the sugar docks in Williamsburg, where much of the false weighing was perpetrated.

WOMAN SENTENCED

On Charge of Attempting to Obtain a Diamond

LAWRENCE, Nov. 17.—Dora Cronin, alias Mame Pearl Lincoln, 50 years old, was sentenced in police court yesterday to three months in the house of correction on the charge of attempting to obtain a diamond under false pretences from Mrs. Susan A. Porter. An appeal was taken and sureties fixed at $300.

The defendant represented, it is alleged, that she was a clairvoyant, and by her occult power could find a diamond brooch and two diamond ear jewels, valued at $700, which Mrs. Porter had lost. She produced the property all right, but the police were skeptical as to the way in which she came in possession of it and placed her under arrest, after she had said that she found the jewels underneath a mat in the hall.

In consideration of her efforts in restoring the jewels an agreement had been made by Mrs. Porter, it is claimed, by which one of the diamonds of the brooch should be reset into a ring for "madame."

Asked by Inspector Thompson, who was with Inspector Woodcock when the arrest was made, why she placed a chain to which a watch was attached about Mrs. Porter's neck and also turned a clock toward the wall with instructions not to disturb either, as the spell would be broken, she said that this was "part of the business."

She had come to Mrs. Porter's home, 262 Essex street, for the ostensible purpose of engaging a room. She soon detected a "troubled look" on Mrs. Porter's face, and inquiring the cause learned that a loss had been sustained. She divined that the loss had been "something bright" and in turn was told that diamonds were gone.

Answer This Question

When a remedy has lived for over thirty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their very lives to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

We challenge the world to show any other one remedy for a special class of disease which has attained such an enormous demand and maintained it for so many years as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the famous woman's remedy for woman's ills. Unless it is a very good medicine and the claims made for it are honest, such a record would have been impossible—fraud or misrepresentations would long ago have been detected and the business gone into oblivion. Read this unsolicited letter:—

Melbourne, Iowa:—"I suffered for many years with female troubles, inflammation, and bearing-down pains, so that I was unable to do my work."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended, and I am so thankful for the great good it has done me, I feel that I am a living advertisement for this medicine as I have influenced so many of my friends to use it, so thankful am I that it restored me to health."—Mrs. Clara Watermann, R. D. 1, Melbourne, Iowa.

When a woman like Mrs. Watermann is generous enough to write such a letter as the above for publication, she should at least be given credit for a sincere desire to help other suffering women. For we assure you there is no other reason why she should court such publicity.

We say it in all sincerity and friendship—try this medicine.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

STETSON HEARING

Resumed by Directors of Church

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Despite reiterated pledges of loyalty and devotion to Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the Christian Science leader, the hearing given Mrs. Augustus Stetson, former first reader and at present pastor emeritus of the New York Christian Science church, as to her teachings as a healer, was continued today by the directors of the mother church.

It was Mrs. Stetson's third day before the board. She came from her hotel in an automobile and then stepped quickly through the narrowly opened door of the church without pausing to answer questions.

CITY OF LOWELL

Receives About $140,000 From Corporation and Other Taxes

The city of Lowell has received from the state on account of corporation tax the sum of $105,225.86. That amount is for this year and was paid the city by check from the state treasurer.

Last year's corporation tax for Lowell was $61,358.15. Under the old law, the city or town in which each individual stockholder lived was credited with his share of the tax upon the corporation in which he held stock. Under the new law, the non-resident's individual share of his corporation tax is divided equally between his place of residence and the place in which his holdings are located.

Bank Tax

The national bank tax paid the city by the state this year was received on Monday and amounted to $3744.34. Other reimbursements to the city from the state included, state aid $17,250; military aid $1669; soldiers' relief $120; street railway tax $10,324.41.

AWARDED $6000

Woman Had Originally Sued for $5000

PITTSBURG, Nov. 17.—Forced to give up her seat on an excursion train to an intoxicated negroess, separated from her sick babe who was on a seat with her and ejected from the train by railroad men in a lonely stretch of country, because she refused to submit to the alleged outrage, was the story submitted to a jury yesterday by Mrs. Mary Crowley in her suit in a local court for $5000 damages against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad company. The result was that the sympathetic men in the box awarded the plaintiff $6000, $1000 more than she asked.

LEBEL LIBEL CASE

Demurrer Argued Before Judge Sanderson

The case of Rosanna Lebel of this city vs. the Boston Post Publishing Co. for alleged libel was argued before Judge Sanderson in the superior court today. This is a most unusual case, and is a result of a suit heard long ago of Mrs. Nellie D. Prince against a local physician, who sued for $25,000, claiming that while being treated by the physician at the time he killed her. The Boston Post at the time printed an article relative to the case and by mistake published a photograph of Mrs. Lebel, instead of Mrs. Prince, and placed Mrs. Prince's name under the picture together with certain statements relative to the case. Major William H. Bent appeared for the plaintiff and argued that the case was one to go before a jury and argued on a demurrer, claiming that there had been no harm done and that the story did not refer to Mrs. Lebel, but to Mrs. Prince. The court took the case under advisement.

The case of Charlotte A. Mills of this city vs. Edward J. Mills for cruelty and desertion was heard, and the libel case was taken under advisement by Judge Sanderson at its conclusion.

THE WALSH CASE Answer of the Government Filed

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—District Attorney Edward Sims today filed the answer of the government to the petition of John R. Walsh convicted of misappropriating the funds of the Chicago National bank for a re-hearing of his appeal to the federal court of appeals. After the ceremony a reception was held at immediate friends at the home of the bride's parents, 8 Nichols street. After an extended honeymoon, including New York, Philadelphia, Washington and points south, Mr. and Mrs. Finnerty will be home to their friends at 8 Nichols street after Jan. 1st.

TELEPHONE DEAL

More Color Lent to the Report

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The report that the controlling interest in the Western Union Telegraph Co. obtained by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. would lead to a closer community of interest between those companies and the Postal Telegraph Co. and probably an ultimate merger of the three companies was given more color today when officials of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. frankly said that the Postal company was the largest single stockholder in their company.

President Theodore Vail of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is in Boston today, it was said, conferring with other high officials of the company and just what the future plans of the new combination are in regard to the Postal's interest and other matters could not be learned in his absence.

Despite the renewed statement today of officials of the postal company that their company was not affected by the transfer of the Gould Western Union interests to the Telephone company, and would conduct its business on an independent basis as heretofore, it is believed by many financial circles that the announced merger is but the first step toward the final consolidation of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., the Postal Telegraph Co., the Commercial Cable Co., and the Western Union Telegraph Co.

TARIFF BOARD

Presented at the White House Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh called at the White House today and formally presented to the president the members of the new tariff commission. These are: James B. Reynolds, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury; Frank Estey of Yale, who is chairman of the board, and Alvin H. Sanders of Chicago.

Secretary MacVeagh and the members of the board discussed with the president the work of the new board in some detail. It was the first time the president had met the members since their appointment last summer.

Before leaving the conference Mr. Reynolds took up with the president some details of the sugar trust frauds in New York insofar as the charges against him by Assistant Surgeon Parr were concerned.

Mr. Reynolds explained briefly his connection with the case as he has already outlined it in a formal statement given out several days ago.

THE SOPHOMORES

MAY RESUME THEIR WORK UNDER SUSPENDED SENTENCE

ORONO, Me., Nov. 17.—The seven university of Maine sophomores who were suspended for hazing may resume their work immediately under suspended sentence, according to an announcement made today by the faculty. The statement was in reply to a communication on Nov. 15th by the students and was in part as follows:

"The faculty regret that rash action by the undergraduate body at the time the suspensions were announced made impossible at that time consideration of any amelioration of the sentence. The faculty is unable to grant the petition, but in consideration of the statement that you willingly abandon all forms of hazing and because its members desire to deal as leniently as possible with those students who were suspended for hazing the committee on discipline has voted that the execution of the remainder of the sentence against the remainder of the sophomores be suspended. This action is subject to the approval of the board of trustees at its approaching meeting. The effect of this vote is that the seven suspended sophomores may resume their work immediately under suspended sentence."

KILLED HER CHILD

Because Man She Loved Threatened to Leave Her

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—A remarkable murder story was revealed here this afternoon following the confession of Mary Butson Howard, a negro woman, that she had killed her eight-year-old daughter because Raymond Carver, the man she loved, threatened to leave her unless the child was sent away.

Taking her offspring into Palmer's woods near Seat Pleasant, Md., last week Tuesday, the woman said she slashed her child's throat with Carver's razor. Then covering the body with leaves she returned to Washington. The body was found last Friday and the police put the woman through the "third degree." She at first insisted that she had left the child with relatives but finally broke down and confessed.

The woman will be turned over to the Maryland authorities. She said Carver had nothing to do with the murder.

6 O'CLOCK PRESIDENT TAFT

Says Country's Expenses Should be Cut by $50,000,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Today's long cabinet meeting was concerned very largely with routine matters that have accumulated since last August. Each member around the table had several items to take up and the discussion of these prolonged the meeting beyond the usual adjournment hour.

The president has not yet been able to get deep into the consideration of legislative questions and into the conferences with senators and representatives whom he wants to see. There was little chance today because the cabinet assembled at 11 o'clock and the remainder of his day was required for the pressing business of his office.

He is emphasizing to his congressional callers the situation with reference to the revenues and insisting that congress must curtail appropriations this winter. Former Senator Henderson of Indiana, who is retained by the senate appropriations committee as an expert to advise about appropriations, told the president today that there had been an annual increase of fully $50,000,000 in an appropriations for several years.

The president urged him to work toward curtailing the appropriations this winter by as large a sum as that. The president does not want his party to go into the campaign next year burdened with charges of continued extravagance or of having to resort to the issue of certificates of indebtedness.

Secretary MacVeagh informed the president at the meeting that he had decided upon a successor to Asst. Sec. of the Treas. James B. Reynolds, and Secretary Nagel also announced that he had found a successor to Asst. Sec. of the Interior, James H. McHugh, of commerce and labor. Neither name, however, was given to the public, although an early statement is expected.

There has been a long search for competent men to fill these places, as it is becoming more and more difficult to persuade successful men to come to Washington for the $5000 salary paid.

There is much talk in Washington nowadays about congressional investigations of some matters over which the president has direct authority, such as the sugar trusts and the Ballinger charges. Very likely individual members of congress may offer resolutions to that end, but it is very doubtful if either investigation proceeds further than that. There is great aversion among the leaders of senate and house against entering upon such efforts. One argument is that such investigations only encourage agitation, and rarely get anywhere. The disposition will be to leave the president to handle these matters in his own way.

COLONY OF INDIANS Will be Established in Nicaragua Early Next Year

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—To save the remnant of the Sioux tribe of Indians from extinction by disease a colony of Indians will be established in Nicaragua early in the new year. Chief Little Blown, a full blooded Sioux, sailed today from Boston on the steamer Espirito Santo for Nicaragua, where he will receive the deeds to 16,000 acres of land granted by the Nicaraguan government for the establishment of the colony. The project is supported financially by

F. S. DeJembaugh, head of the American Geographical society, and several wealthy New York persons. Little Blown said before sailing today that there are less than 8000 full blooded Sioux on their reservation in South Dakota. This number is being lessened rapidly by disease which, it is thought, will be overcome by the semi-tropical climate of Central America. The migration of the Indians is expected to begin in January.

TO AID THE POOR

Rep. White Would Have State Buy Land for Them

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Two plans by which persons living in congested city districts may be assisted in securing homes of their own in the open country were presented to the Homestead commission yesterday afternoon by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Orlando D. Norcross of Worcester. Both plans were very similar, except in their minor details.

Representative White suggested that the state buy as much land as is necessary, properly to try the experiment, and that this land be plotted out in such sizes as to furnish a comfortable home for each family desiring to secure it. He suggested that applicants should pay for this land just as insurance is now paid for, the yearly rates depending upon the age and expectancy of life of the applicant, in order that the state might average to get its money back, and that at the death of the purchaser the property be given to his estate, irrespective of the amount paid in.

Such a plan, he thought, would provide ample opportunity for men with small means to own their homes, and it would be a benefit to the state as well, as the thrift which would necessarily follow such an opportunity, together with the benefit to be derived from the open air, would greatly decrease the numbers annually sent to state institutions, particularly to those treating tuberculosis.

He would accept as applicants only men of limited income, and would make it impossible for anyone having an income above a given amount to get such a home.

Asked by Chairman Bemis if this would not lead to paternalism, Representative White answered that paternalism exists today to an extent little realized; the natural tendency of government is that way, and it is only

Chairman Bemis then asked: "Do you think paternalism means socialism?" Representative White's answer to this was an expression of his belief that the best way to combat socialism is to meet it with its own weapons, namely, by giving attention to minor details, the way to combat socialism is to be dead to conditions, industrial and others.

The men who are really driving us toward socialism, he said, are the men who manipulate the sugar trusts and other similar monopolies, and not those who seek to have the state assist poor people to establish their own homes.

Mr. Norcross said he thought this movement as about the most important and far-reaching that could be entered upon by the state. He presented a diagram showing that the city of Worcester had about three miles square and that its population to the acre was approximately 24 persons, yet if a strip one mile wide were added about the city the average density of population would be only nine to the acre.

He believed that if this movement could be popularized there would be no difficulty in finding men who would gladly contribute their money if they could be assured of a return of 2 1/2 or 3 per cent.

If $1,000,000 could be raised by individual subscription, he said, a commission should be given to carry out this work; $100,000 should be set aside for carrying out the work, and the balance, $900,000, should be devoted to home building, and it would provide 300 homes at $3000 each. Then these homes could be sold to applicants upon monthly payments, equal to what the applicants are now paying in rent and insurance.

In this way, he said, every person could have a home, and there is no reason why every resident of New England should not have a home. The great trouble with this section of the country, he said, is that New Englanders feel called upon to develop the west, when they keep their money at home New England would be the richest place on earth.

Mrs. Charlotte Smith asked the commission to do something for the 5,000 homeless women in Boston; she said the suggestion that women should marry in order to secure homes is impracticable, as there are in Massachusetts 100,000 more women than men, and some means must be found of providing homes for the surplus. She will be given an opportunity later to go more into detail with respect to her ideas.

If you are interested in the success of the democratic party on election day go to the Lyon street school at 8 o'clock tonight. Your strong candidate, James E. O'Donnell, will be there at 8 o'clock. Advertisement. DENIS SULLIVAN, 56 Merril st.

BISHOP ANDERSON

Tendered Reception by the Knights of Columbus

Gathering of 1500 Greeted the Youngest Catholic Bishop in This Country — Addresses by Bishop Anderson and Rev. W. George Mullin

The members of Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus tendered a reception to Monsignor Joseph Anderson, D. D., auxiliary bishop of Boston and the youngest prelate in the country, in the associate hall, last evening with a large and representative attendance. Bishop Anderson was accompanied from Boston by Rev. James Supple of St. Francis de Sales church, Charlestown, state chaplain of the Knights of Columbus and among the other clergymen noted on the stage were Rev. William O'Brien, P. R. of St. Patrick's, Rev. John J. Shaw of St. Michael's, Rev. George Nolan, O. M. I. of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Fr. Viand, O. M. I. of Notre Dame de Lourdes; Rev. Dr. Keleher, of St. Peter's; Rev. T. W. Smith, O. M. I. and Rev. L. F. Tighe, O. M. I., Sacred Heart; Rev. T. A. Walsh of Collinsville; Rev. Frederick Gorman of Winthrop; Rev. Frederick Delaney of the Holy Ghost hospital; Rev. Edmund T. Schofield of St. John's, North Chelmsford; Rev. Francis Mullin, Rev. John T. O'Brien; Rev. John F. Burns, Rev. W. George Mullin and Rev. James Fitzgerald.

The clergyman gathered in the parlors of the Knights' apartments and at 8 o'clock proceeded to the hall below escorted by the members of the Fourth Degree. The stage was prettily decorated in the national colors and from behind a hedge of greenery in the rear the young women of St. Peter's, Maudlin club, directed by Prof. William Hovey, rendered a most acceptable selection. About every seat in the hall was taken, about 1600 being present. The ushers were: Dr. William K. Collins, Roger J. Lang, John J. In-

The exercises opened with the selection "Merry Musicians" by the Mandolin club which made a fine impression on the large audience.

Rev. Mullin's Remarks

Rev. W. George Mullin, chaplain of Lowell council, was then introduced and he addressed the guest of honor in part as follows:

"The Catholic traditions of Lowell bid fair to be lengthened and perpetuated by the recurrence of a celebration like unto this. Such a cordial and brilliant gathering as this is ample proof of the deep abiding spirit of faith in your heart and a splendid tribute to your affection for a recognized superior."

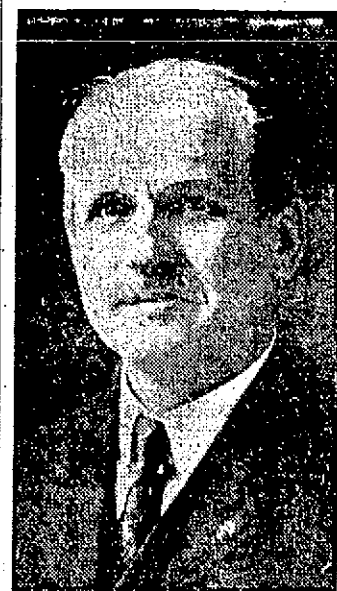

"The privilege of accorded a reception to a bishop by the city of Lowell may be justly claimed as its right; a city which has been received so well and loved so keenly by such men as Fr. O'Brien, Fr. Garin, Fr. Joyce and dear Fr. Ronan of respected memory; a city that can boast of such churches as we have, a city that has been termed the home of bishops, has given to the church such men as the loving Alien, the scholarly Garrigan, Bishop Delaney of sainted memory, and finally our own archbishop, William H. O'Connell."

end Bishop, I bring the greeting of a devoted clergy, a loyal council of Knights of Columbus, and respectful and sincere Catholic people. We wish to assure you that it is with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation of your presence that we greet you, honor you and pledge you our loyal aid as dutiful children. Speaking for the Lowell council may I say that you will ever find them willing and generous co-workers, ever ready to enlist in the cause of Catholicity and ready to raise the Catholic Standard higher and higher. The members have been noted for the respect for the priesthood and authority, and it would seem as though the success they have attained has been a blessing from on high in return. So that today in all Boston archdiocese, not a better council can be found, one that is ready to do its duty to you and authority than Lowell council, Knights of Columbus."

"We congratulate you on your elevation and distinction. We rejoice with you in the honor you have received as a marked tribute to your efficiency, worth, and we pledge through you, to our archbishop, loyalty, obedience and respect."

church, may continue for many years to come. May we ask as we tonight place the few grains of incense and respect and loyalty upon the glowing coals of the fire of love burning in the center of your heart, that the fire may ever burn and the clouds of incense ever roll and rise to heaven as symbolic of our one continual and mutual prayer for each other, and may the fragrance emitted and wafted on the air ever serve to attract us to each other and to remind us of the night when the Catholic people of Lowell assembled to do honor to the youngest, though no less beloved bishop of the archdiocese of Boston, Right Reverend Joseph Anderson."

At the conclusion of Fr. Mullin's remarks, Miss Katherine L. Mullin, a most promising young soprano, sang exquisitely the solo "When the Heart is Young." It was Miss Mullin's first public appearance, and her sweet voice of wide range and rich quality won her many friends.

Bishop Anderson's Remarks

The guest of the evening, Rt. Rev. Joseph Anderson, was then introduced and he addressed the gathering informally. He said in part:

"I gratefully appreciate the kind greeting accorded me by the members of this council and the Catholics of Lowell. These words of kindly feeling and hearty greeting I take as an expression of your loyalty and devotion to the church and as a mark of your respect and reverence for the high office conferred on me by the Holy Father. You have already shown this mark of respect to others before me and in these days of irreligion it is most gratifying to have Catholic societies give expression in public manner of their faith and loyalty by such demonstrations as these, as they are a means of offsetting the antagonistic spirit of the age."

The frightful conditions in Europe give evidence of this terrible spirit of irreligion and are a warning note to us to be prepared to meet this spirit in our own country.

The spirit of anarchy and extreme socialism that is abroad in Europe has caused renegade Catholics to form what is known as the Anti-Cleric party which is opposed to religion and society. They have spread their doctrine among the laboring people and have so stirred them as to make them believe that the church is their enemy. The church stands for law and authority and in Germany and Belgium has triumphed over these warring forces where she has re-established herself with renewed strength. How sad are the conditions in France at the present time. The religious have been driven out with the apparent purpose of rooting out Christianity itself. It needs only the slightest effort to fan into anarchy and violence a movement of this kind.

In coming to accept your kind invitation tonight I have brought a message to you to make you realize your duty as a Catholic organization. These elements are at work in this country and the Catholic organizations must be awake and realize that there is something else besides being concerned about social enjoyment. The time has arrived for the Catholic duty to show itself. The opportunity is rich. Already the Knights of Columbus have done excellent work along charitable lines and in the care of Catholic children, but another duty now confronts the order, and it is the beginning of what I might call "Social Work." We cannot allow these false doctrines to gain the ascendancy. It is a selfish age, but if we are to be actuated by Catholic principles the question is not "Am I my brother's keeper?" There is an obligation on us on behalf of our fellow man. He is our brother. We should be concerned about this social work. You have the knowledge of what to do and the right methods to pursue. There is need of your realizing your duty as citizens. A civic duty is a Christian duty. The welfare of society and government alike should be given your consideration. That is my message to you this evening. I wish again to thank you for your greeting and also to wish you God's blessing."

The exercises in Associate hall closed with the singing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," by the audience after which all repaired to the K. of C. chambers where an informal reception was held.

EDWIN I. ANDERSON

the Customs Frauds

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A new figure was introduced last night into the controversy surrounding the investigation of frauds charged in the American Sugar Refining Co., when Edwin I. Anderson, a former superintendent of docks for the company and a close personal friend of the late Theodore O. Havemeyer, announced through his attorneys that he is the man referred to by James B. Reynolds, former assistant secretary of the treasury, as the one who gave the department first specific information concerning the frauds.

Anderson has filed claims with the customs authorities for compensation, which he estimates will reach $1,000,000. For the past two years, he says, he has been engaged in furnishing evidence to the government and it was through him, he asserts, that Richard Parr, who now figures so prominently in the case, gained his information.

Anderson absolves Mr. Reynolds of any attempt to check the investigation, declaring that the former assistant secretary was at all times enthusiastic in his desire for prosecution. In fact, the first activity came as the result of encouragement which Mr. Reynolds gave him, he says.

Reviewing the case, both by means of affidavits which were made several days ago, and by verbal statements last night, Anderson says that the American Sugar Refining Co. requested his resignation after Mr. Havemeyer's death in 1903, on the theory that "he knew too much." Up to this time he had been in the company's employ for 22 years. At that time, he says, he had no positive knowledge that frauds were being committed but he suspected which he then undertook, he came into possession of what he calls positive proof that the government was being defrauded of at least $500,000 a year at the single refinery where he had been employed.

When he laid his evidence before the authorities in Washington, Anderson continued, the matter was at once taken up. He made several trips to Washington, meeting Colonel Gerry, chief of the customs department of the treasury, Beckman Winthrop, an assistant secretary and others. Both Col. Gerry and Mr. Winthrop promised him, he says, that his claim for compensation should be allowed, and he accordingly went ahead with his investigations.

As does Parr, Anderson says that while his investigations were in progress he was constantly shadowed by detectives and was so far convinced that he was in danger of attack and possibly assassination that a special secret service agent was assigned to act as his bodyguard.

Discrediting Parr's claims to a share in the reward for furnishing this information, Anderson asserted that all the important information which the latter has obtained was secured, either from Anderson or from Anderson's friends and assistants.

In his affidavits, Anderson quotes Parr as saying in one of their daily conferences during the month of November, 1907:

"The government places a high valuation upon your services in this matter, and you will get under the law, between 25 and 35 per cent. of all the moneys recovered through this investigation," Parr added, according to Anderson.

"This is a big case. It is the kind of a case that President Roosevelt likes and you will get your full share of the proceeds, for you came around first of all with the information."

A letter indicating Anderson's conviction that the frauds would be found to involve many government employees at the New York customs house, was included among the exhibits attached to the affidavits.

Acting on Anderson's first letter offering his services to the treasury department, Acting Secretary Reynolds had suggested that the matter be taken up with the New York customs authorities. In reply Anderson said that he would rather drop the matter altogether than try to take it up through the New York customs offices "with all their probability of immediate leaks."

He added pointedly:

"I am of the opinion that one might as well take the importers themselves into his confidence as to lay the matter before the customs house officials of this city."

to work and agree to submit their case to a board of arbitration. It is thought the difficulty will be adjusted before it reaches greater proportions.

The manufacturers claim that the cutters in Northfield violated a three-year agreement and that the trouble in that town is of a trivial nature.

Last Friday 200 cutters in Northfield struck as a protest against the manufacturers' bush hammer, which they claim should be set up in a separate building. They claim that the bush hammer causes so much dust that it endangers their health and also impedes their work. The manufacturers say that under the agreement with the union the grievance should have been referred to a committee and then if not settled, to a board of arbitration.

In this city there is a feeling that the granite sheds will be shut down until the new year, as at this season work is usually slack and a suspension of a few weeks in December occurs annually.

MRS. STETSON
of the Church

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Twenty hours: ten Monday and ten yesterday, Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson of New York, accused of "mental malpractice," completed last night a close and secret conference with the board of directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the inner council rooms of the mother church.

As secret and uncommunicative as the doors and gates of the mother church, which remained locked and grated and barred, no word was vouchsafed throughout the day as to the meaning of the conference by Mrs. Stetson, the directors, or the Christian Science publications.

Promptly at 9:30 o'clock, yesterday morning, on Monday morning, Mrs. Stetson, accompanied by her secretary, Ella Dunn, appeared at the corner entrance of the mother church on Fairmount street. Following a short scolding of the photographers by her secretary, Mrs. Stetson, gowned in gray and her face enveloped in a purple veil, hurried across the walk into the church. A man, said to be Haynes Davis, a New York reader, and who is believed to be looking after Mrs. Stetson's interests, entered the church soon after. Then came the board of five who Monday were also present at the hearing: Archibald McLellan, chairman; Stephen A. Chase, treasurer; John V. H. Henry, secretary; Addison V. Stewart and Ira D. Knapp, trustees.

Except for three of the members of the board who left the church for half an hour at 2 o'clock, no one was seen to leave or enter the church until 7 o'clock last night. If dinner was served in the church building it was not seen to be carried in unless boxes which were thought to have been a prepared lunch taken into the Publications building next door about noon were for the conferees. In this event it was taken to the church building by some other means than the generally known entrances and exits of the church.

Complete ignorance still prevails as to the status of the relations between the directors and Mrs. Stetson, but it is generally believed that she is attempting to vindicate herself from the charges brought against her and which have recently resulted in her being deposed as a reader with the right to practice for three years.

The only information concerning the hearing which anyone has been able to secure from the directors was given last night, when one of the board stated that the directors would continue their session at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and that it was presumed Mrs. Stetson would be in attendance. Late last night the following signed statement was sent out by Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson through her secretary, Miss Ella Dunn:

"Our beloved leader, Mary Baker Eddy, has requested us all to unite with those in our church who are supporting the mother church directors. Today I have received a copy of her letter addressed to the trustees of the church."

"For twenty-five years I have gladly obeyed her leadership in every question. I have always found that by doing this I drew nearer to God. My students know that I have taught them to do likewise, without questioning her wisdom; therefore, they do not now need any word from me in addition to what our beloved leader has said to guide them at this hour. They will know that it is right for them to unite with those who supported the mother church directors in the judgment rendered against me. I myself have been obeying that judgment, and I shall continue to do so. I shall furthermore obey my leader by uniting with those who felt it was right to condemn me in their testimony. My leader's letter induces me to believe that I have been wrong where I felt that I was absolutely right."

"For 25 years I have watched and prayed for guidance and strength in correcting every error revealed to me by God and by my leader, or by any of my brethren."

The mother general of the Sisters of the Assumption, Rev. Sister Sainte-Monique, of the mother house at Nicolet, Que., is expected soon in this city by the local house of the order, whose members have charge of St. Louis' parochial school. She is coming on her annual tour of the American houses of the order.

OUT ON STRIKE

Their Places

BARRE, Vt., Nov. 17.—A complete paralysis threatens the granite industry in Vermont unless an adjustment of differences between the Manufacturers' Association and the Cutters' Union is reached within the next fortnight. Yesterday 4000 cutters in Barre, East Barre, Montpelier, Williamstown and Waterbury struck because of trouble in the sheds at Northfield, where a pneumatic bush hammer was objected to on the ground that it emitted so much dust that the cutters were unable to perform their work under conditions satisfactory to them.

The strike of the cutters in the places mentioned threw 2000 polishers and tool-sharpeners out of work. The quarrymen and several other classes of employes are still at work, but if the trouble is not settled within a short time the whole new field will be joined by thousands of other employes.

The cutters' union in Barre has communicated with James Duncan, of Quincy, Mass., secretary of the National organization, who is in Toronto, attending the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, of which he is vice president. If Mr. Duncan decides that the cutters shall return to work and agree to submit their case to a board of arbitration, it is thought the difficulty will be adjusted before it reaches greater proportions.

The manufacturers claim that the cutters in Northfield violated a three-year agreement and that the trouble in that town is of a trivial nature.

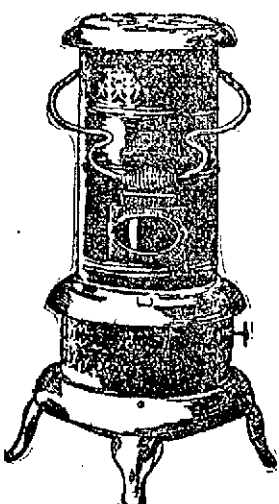

Last Friday 200 cutters in Northfield struck as a protest against the manufacturers' bush hammer, which they claim should be set up in a separate building. They claim that the bush hammer causes so much dust that it endangers their health and also impedes their work. The manufacturers say that under the agreement with the union the grievance should have been referred to a committee and then if not settled, to a board of arbitration.

In this city there is a feeling that the granite sheds will be shut down until the new year, as at this season work is usually slack and a suspension of a few weeks in December occurs annually.

NATIONAL MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Plans for the convention of the national municipal league and the American Civic association for former Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield and President Emeritus Charles V. Eliot of Harvard university. Both spoke of the importance of natural resources and both declared that it was imperative that the government take immediate steps towards that end.

Congressman William S. Bennett of New York, who was the only other speaker of the evening session, delivered an address on "The effect of the immigrant on municipal politics."

HE TOOK POISON

When Aid Was Near at Hand

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 17.—Frederick H. Thompson, aged about 60, one of the best out-of-door photographers in the country, and proprietor of a restaurant, committed suicide Monday night by taking poison at his rooms attached to the gallery of the Thompson Art company, 273 Middle street.

The exact time when he took the poison is not known, but as he asked a friend to open his door at 4 o'clock on Tuesday morning, it is supposed that it was about midnight.

Mr. Thompson had been pressed to meet his bills, and had recently renewed a mortgage for $1000. He said to a friend Monday that he could see no way out of his difficulties and expected to be forced to take his own life.

The friend tried to cheer him and went to a third man, a friend of both, who said, "He can have all the money he wants and I will have it ready for him in the morning."

Yesterday his friend called to tell Mr.

Thompson the good news, but it was too late.

Mr. Thompson was the proprietor of a restaurant on Congress street, but was most generally known as an out-of-door photographer, many of his pictures appearing in newspapers and magazines. He was universally liked and had the respect of all who knew him. He worried over his financial troubles and, until it was too late, did not take his friends into his confidence. He will be a great loss to the art loving public. He died more, perhaps, than any other man to show to the world the beauty spots of picturesque Maine.

He was the friend of all the artists here, and they regarded him as one of their fraternity, even if he used the camera instead of the brush.

"TWIN" SULLIVAN

HAD AN EASY TIME DEFEATING JIM FLYNN

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Jack "Twin" Sullivan of Cambridge easily won the decision over Jim Flynn of Boston in a 12-round bout before the Armory Athletic association last night. The local boxer was no match for his skillful opponent and was sent to the floor five times.

The semi-final fight between Kid Sullivan of Newburyport and Walter Alter of the navy, went eight rounds to a draw. The men are heavyweights. Tommy Furer of Attleboro knocked out his opponent, Young Sheehan of Manchester, N. H., in the first round.

ACCUSE MILLERS

Flour to be Seized

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 17.—Charging that the millers had manufactured a lot of flour knowing that it would be seized and that they had not used as much adulterant in it as they ordinarily use, Pierce Butler of St. Paul caused Judge McPherson in the U. S. district court yesterday to express surprise and to declare that the matter would be fully investigated.

Judge McPherson ordered released 945 sacks of flour seized last summer, but specified that samples be retained for use when the case goes to trial at Council Bluffs on Jan. 15.

Mr. Butler, who was named by Atty. Gen. Wickersham to represent the government at the hearing, entered a protest against the court's action and made the declaration that the flour had been specially prepared to meet an expected test.

FOUNDER OF HOME FOR GIRLS IS DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Chas. business, try The Sun "Want" column.

N. Crittenton of New York, widely known as the founder of the Florence Crittenton rescue homes for girls, died last night of pneumonia. He had been ill less than a week. He was 76 years old.

Mr. Crittenton founded seventy-three rescue homes in this country and several in Japan and China, which he named in memory of his daughter Florence, at whose dying request he entered the mission work.

Mr. Crittenton was on a tour visiting the many rescue homes throughout the country and arrived in San Francisco ten days ago.

FRANK MARSHALL LOST

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 17.—Frank J. Marshall of Brooklyn, N. Y., yesterday lost his first game to J. W. Showalter of Georgetown, Ky., in the series for the chess championship of the United States. Marshall withdrew after the 24th move. Marshall has won three. Showalter won one, and there has been one draw game. Today the champions will play here again.

SULLIVAN ELECTED COLONEL

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Lieutenant Colonel John J. Sullivan of Boston was last night elected colonel of the Ninth regiment, Massachusetts Volunteer militia, succeeding Colonel William H. Donovan of Lawrence, who resigned. But one ballot was necessary for electing Colonel Sullivan receiving 30 ballots out of 32, two being blank.

The New Woman

is one who enjoys perfect health, who is capable of doing her work, whether at the loom or in the kitchen, in the counting-house or taking her part at a social event, with unimpaired vim and vigor. That's the kind of women the nation needs.

Unfortunately, many women are physical wrecks, constantly under the cloud of ill-health, often the victims of high-strung nerves. The cause is not hard to find. Errors of diet, haste in eating, lack of exercise and inattention to certain bodily functions, all play their part. Once the germ of disease finds its lodgment, if left to do its work, it will quickly undermine the entire fabric of bodily tissue. Prevention is better than cure. Whoever has used Beecham's Pills

THE BEEF SUPPLY.

The meat barons of America may soon experience a drop in their trade with England. American meat sells cheaper in England than it does here, and yet we are told that it is the high price of grain and other causes that make the price of meat so very high in this country. The beef trust can send live cattle over to England and sell the beef there much cheaper than in this country. But the English markets are beginning to purchase their beef cattle from the Argentine Republic. The prospect is, that in a short time they may drop the American importation of beef altogether. That would be a serious blow to the beef trust, but it might help to reduce the prices in this country.

FACTORY DINING ROOMS DESIRABLE.

The factory or workshop is not as a rule the place to dine, yet thousands of those who carry their dinners to the mills eat where they work all day. This is not calculated to promote the health of the operatives for, as a rule, the air is filled with dust or else charged with certain gases that are not likely to help the appetite.

Some factories have provided large dining rooms for such operatives as do not go home to dinner. These rooms are plainly furnished to be sure, but they are clean and inviting. The air is also more pure than that in the factory where the machinery is whirling during the day. These rooms, too, are provided with reading matter on which the employees can use their spare moments on something intellectual. It would add greatly to the comfort of the employees in the large factories if some such place were provided by each to be used as a dining room during the noon hour.

THE MINE DISASTER IN ILLINOIS.

It seems that there is great need of more security for miners. Every little while the country is shocked by a fearful mine disaster in which hundreds are entombed.

The holocaust at the St. Paul coal mine, Cherry, Illinois, is an example of what happens far too often, leaving hundreds of men entombed victims of fire and probably buried under thousands of tons of earth, while their widows and orphans are cast helpless and penniless upon the world.

The inspection of mines, we presume, is like the inspection of banks. The work is entrusted to men who take it for granted that everything is all right. Somebody is responsible for these disasters, and the government is not doing its duty if it does not have steps taken to prevent the almost regular occurrence of such holocausts.

DEMOCRATS MAKE YE NO MISTAKE.

In the approaching caucuses the democrats should remember that they are not to vote for the mayor of the city, but they are merely to select from the list of candidates the one who, they have reason to believe, will be the strongest at the polls and, therefore, the most likely to defeat his republican opponent.

In this light voters are liable to be misled by the number of candidates and to vote for some candidate who if nominated would stand no chance of election. Votes given to such a candidate are merely thrown away.

When colleges are to enter an athletic meet in which they are to contest for honors with other institutions, they always try out their men and pick the very best. So it is with nations; when they send representatives to uphold their honor in any contest they make sure to send their best men, the men most likely to win the victory. To do anything else would be to invite defeat. And so should the democrats do in selecting a candidate for mayor.

That you have known Candidate A., B., or C. for a number of years and found him a pretty good fellow does not justify you in voting for him at the caucuses unless after due consideration of all the candidates you honestly believe him to be the strongest politically to set up against the republican candidate.

It is utterly useless for any voter to support a second, third or fourth rate candidate. Find out who is strongest politically, not alone with democrats but with the citizens at large, vote for that candidate, and you will have the pleasure of seeing him elected mayor of Lowell.

Voters who support a weak candidate because he belongs in their ward are deliberately inflicting an injury on the party, because they are throwing away their votes on an impossibility, whereas by voting intelligently they might assist in selecting a man who can be elected. This is one of the great reasons why the democratic party suffers so many defeats—because the voters consider the candidacy of men who can never be elected instead of picking out the strongest man, politically speaking, to pit against the republican nominee.

It seems that in the past democrats have been voting very blindly and very foolishly at the caucuses as in many instances they have nominated men whose defeat was a certainty from the minute their selection was announced. In such instances the democrats betray their party and pave the way for a republican victory. Will they do that this year or will they examine the several candidates calmly, carefully, intelligently and decide conscientiously which one will make the strongest man, not only with his own party but the citizens generally on election day?

A large number of citizens look to the democrats this year to select a candidate who will appeal to the voters of both parties as honest, upright and fully capable from training and experience to give the city a safe, progressive and economic administration of affairs.

Remember, then, when you go to the polls you are not going to vote for a man for mayor but to help your party pick the strongest of all the candidates, the man who will most certainly score a victory on election day by defeating his opponent.

SEEN AND HEARD.

A man is lucky not to have any worse luck than he has.

People seldom talk to much unless they know too little.

Many a girl who is fond of jewelry has no use for a rolling-pin.

Occasionally a man discovers that he has a friend who really is his friend.

When painted the new iron fence on the canal in Ann street will look fine and dandy.

It doesn't make any difference whether a fellow is a "homehead" or if he has a cranial of "solid ivory," sooner or later he is made to realize that "chickens come home to roost." It is well that it is so.

The new sign that adorns the La Scala and Voyons theatres is being very favorably commented upon. The new sign tells of the Brunswick railway and billiard and pool gardens which but goes to show that Messrs. Bunker & Hennessy continue to add to the attractiveness of their establishment.

DO IT TODAY.

"Forever and ever the train goes by—The train of the marching years—Sunshine, and starbeam, and cloud in the sky."

And under them smiles and tears: Never a pause, but on and on, The grave years pass along,

With their battles lost and their vict'ries won.

And their mighty, motley throng.

"We stand on the place To-day has given To make or to mar our lot."

We may fill it up to the brim with heaven,

Or blur it with stain and blot, Bravely may toil for the good and true, Earnestly strive and pray; But the good or the ill we may do Must be done in the span of To-day."

He was a suburbanite and had gone to the depot early as usual, and obtained a seat in one of the coaches of the 5 o'clock train. He wore, as he always did, an outfit of clothing that gave him the appearance of a dandy.

And his air matched his suit. Just as the train was about to pull out an old farmer caught his way into the overcrowded coach. He squirmed and squeezed himself down the aisle until he arrived at a point beside the well-dressed suburbanite. The men were related from a business standpoint.

One was a customer and the other was a milkman. They spoke the one somewhat haughtily, the other formally.

The seated man felt obliged to make some remark. He noticed that the milkman carried a parcel. He noticed further that it bore a label indicating that it contained chalk. "I see you have some chalk there," the customer said.

"Yes," said the milkman. The customer gazed at the package for several seconds and then his countenance suddenly lighted up. It was apparent that he had come into the possession of an idea. "I see," he said, in a rather loud tone of voice, at the same time looking at a passenger who sat opposite him, "chalk for milk, eh?"

The passengers laughed, but the farmer didn't. "No, not exactly," he replied slowly. "You see I've done so much chalking up for milk up at your house lately that I had to by another box."

Thomas Nelson Page, in his biography of General Robert E. Lee, tells of the many offers of positions of honor that were made to the soldier at the conclusion of the war between the north and south. He refused them all, except the offer of the presidency of Washington college, which he took at a very small salary. One of the positions that he declined was that of president of an insurance company. It was proposed, according to the biographer, that General Lee should receive a salary of $50,000 a year, which was a much larger salary two decades ago than it is now. General Lee declined this offer on the ground that he was not at all familiar with the insurance business. Then the representative of the company showed his hand. "But general," he said in his most persuasive manner, "you would not be expected to do any work. What we wish is the use of your name." General Lee shook his head. "Do you not think," he asked, "that if my name is worth $50,000 a year, I ought to be very careful about taking care of it?" That ended the interview.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

The production of "The House of a Thousand Mirrors" by the "Loell" Grayce and her company at the Opera House last evening proved a decided surprise. It is not often that a company appearing at popular prices follows an organization that has presented the same at high rates of admission. Yet it is still more rare that a cheaper organization makes a much more decided hit than the original one. Such was the case last evening. The rendition of that odd drama was most pleasing. There was a life and animation about the four acts that held the audience enraptured while the attention to detail was marked and appreciated. Miss Grayce made an ideal heroine, Mr. Harris a dignified Bates while coit Edmund Abbey and J. Sydney Stacy scored heavily in their respective roles.

"When Knighthood Was in Flower" which will be given this evening, has been attracting special attention. This delightful romantic play is well known hereabouts as one of the most charming and enterprising offerings of its kind. Miss Grayce is said to be most winsome and bewitching as the vixenish heroine, while the stage setting and costumes are said to be rich and magnificent. "The Secret Orchard" tomorrow afternoon will be found an interesting play of Parisian life and the higher circles. "The Devil" tomorrow night is one of those dramatic sensations that has attracted attention the world over.

"DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE."

At the Lowell Opera House Monday night the famous "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be presented with Frederick W. Pierce, in the leading role, supported by Marie Rostell. His work is said to be excellent, and he has received some very complimentary notices by both press and public.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD."

That perennial favorite, Denman Thompson's charming drama of New England rustic life, "The Old Homestead," is playing its 24th season, and will shortly be seen here. There seems to be no abatement in the interest manifested by the audience of this play in this old New England play.

Until Denman Thompson gave us this natural and original picture, the Yankee farmer of the stage was a mere buffoon, far removed from nature. An elaborate scenic production has been provided for this season. Among those in the cast are Earl Redding, Fred Clare, Charles Clark, Gus Kramel, and Frederick Anita Fowler, besides a number of the old favorites. The famous double quartet of farm voices and the Grace church choir of 20 voices are still the musical features of the performance. "The Old Homestead" comes to the Opera House next Wednesday, Nov. 24. Matinee and night.

"EAST LYNN"

Lovers of the emotional drama, and their names are legion, will be pleased to learn that the greatest of all emotional dramas, "East Lynn," will be at the Opera House next Thursday, Nov. 25. Lady Isabel, as depicted by Miss Arden in the lighter scenes of the play, is most effective and charming, while the depth and variety of her ripened art renders her scenes in the more sombre portions of the drama models of intensity and passion.

ELSIE JANIS

When Elsie Janis and the company which supports Charles Dillingham's youthful star in "The Fair Co-Ed" set forth on a brief New England tour the players will travel in a special train, while Miss Janis will go over the highways and byways by auto. Miss Janis comes to the Opera House soon.

"Uncle Charles of Charleston" is a decided novelty in the way of a one-act play at Hathaway's theatre, this week. The most delicious burlesque is introduced into the action of the piece, and when the piece is finished, one really feels that he isn't so bad after all. James R. McCann plays the part of the second-story worker imitatively and his supporting company is equal to the tasks imposed.

Luigi Marabini, the Italian ice sculptor, does some remarkably interesting work with huge cakes of ice. Marabini first modelled in dough, at a noted Viennese hotel. Later he made images out of candy, and finally, in London carved from ice. There vaudeville agents snapped him up and took him to this country.

The remainder of the bill is lively. The acts are: McDavitt & Kelley, eccentric dancers; Mabelle Adams, Gypsy violinist; Farrell-Taylor, trio, comedians; Sam Doty, comedian; Morgan and Chester, in a farce, and the Hathaway scope, with brand new films.

Performer does some he gives every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, with special seats at the matinees for women.

STAR THEATRE

The last opportunity to see the great Detello, female impersonator, and Miller and Princeton's big musical act will be tonight, as two new vaudeville acts will be presented tomorrow, including Turner Bros., the greatest and funniest act anywhere in the world, and Gertrude Laupont, singing comedienne. New pictures will be shown Friday. It is amazing to the hundreds of patrons how such a big show can be presented for five cents, which allows a seat. The theatre is always warm, clean and cozy.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today will be the last of the showing of the excellent bill at the Theatre Voyons, the big hit of which is the duet "In the Gloaming" sung by Jack Manchester and Mrs. Bales. "The Night of M. Vallette" and the other numbers on the picture bill please all and the variety is great. Tomorrow afternoon the first showing will be made of Pathe's film "The Girl of the Year."

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

There will be another good amateur show at the Academy of Music tonight. The feature biograph picture is entitled "The Light That Came," a charming love romance between a blind musician and a poor working-

Germs in Her System

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer That Goes With It.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a more mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the shuff, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Resall Muc-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Resall Muc-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Resall Muc-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Resall Remedies in Lowell only at our store—The Resall Store, Hall & Lyon Co., 67-69 Merrimack street.

SPURNED SISTER

Threw Herself in Front of Electric Car

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—With the words, "God bless my baby" on her lips, Mrs. Helen Burns, spurned wife and sister, died last night as a result of injuries received when she threw herself in front of a street car. Mrs. Burns was 24 years old. She was married four years ago to Charles Burns, a manufacturer of New York. Burns was a divorced man, but shortly after a baby came to him and his new wife he became reconciled to the first wife and secured a second divorce. The cast-off wife made her way here a short time ago, leaving her baby with the father.

Last night a tragic sequel to this broken romance was enacted on the street in front of the home of Mrs. Burns' mother. Mrs. Burns' mother, it appears, was willing to have her daughter live with her, but the brother, Walter Penders, refused, saying he could not support them. The girl walked into the street and leaped beneath a moving car and was crushed to death.

MANY ASPIRANTS

For Mayoralty Honors in the City of Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—With a wealth of aspirants for mayoralty honors at the city election in January, the first under the provisions of the recently adopted new city charter which eliminates party designations, a committee of citizens is having considerable difficulty in uniting upon a leader who will represent and receive the support of the best interests of the city. The matter will be acted upon at a meeting of a non-partisan committee of 150 citizens tonight and it is reported that a smaller committee which has been investigating the qualifications of several candidates is divided between Jas. J. Storrow, president of the chamber of commerce, and former United States Sub-Treasurer Joseph H. O'Neill.

Within a few hours after the voters had decided two weeks ago that in the future there should be no political conventions for municipal officers and that each candidate should be placed in nomination through the endorsement of five thousand citizens, half a dozen well known men had sprung into the field and were actively at work securing the necessary number of names.

Among these were former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, as well as his successful opponent, George H. Board, the present mayor; Frederick J. Brand, chairman of the board of aldermen, and N. H. Taylor, a journalist.

A number of the business men and heavy taxpayers, believing that the office should seek the man, and not the man the office, held a meeting at which all political parties were represented and the matter was placed in charge of a committee of 150. This committee appointed two smaller bodies of nine each, one to select a candidate for mayor and the other a candidate for the school committee. These committees will report tonight and with the decision by the large committee the municipal campaign will probably begin.

YACHT WRECKED

All on Board but One Were Saved

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Eugene Higgins' yacht Varuna lies today a total wreck on the northwest coast of the island of Madeira. While the vessel is pounding in a storm on a rocky shore and is reported as likely to break up at any moment all on board of her with possibly one exception have been saved.

This information was received in this city today by the board of marine underwriters in a cablegram from its agent at Funchal, Madeira. According to today's advices the Varuna, one of the largest of American steam yachts, although in an upright position, is full of water. With the change of the wind to the westward the Varuna has practically no chance of escaping and will pound on the rocks in the vicinity. The wind is blowing hard. No particulars as to the manner in which those aboard got clear of the vessel have been received. It was stated, however, that the majority of the yacht's passengers and crew had arrived safely at different villages on the north coast of the island.

The Varuna was on her 28th trip across the Atlantic. At Mr. Higgins' offices here it was said today that although the make-up of his yachting party was not known it was believed that he took several friends with him when the yacht sailed from Marseilles which was her last known port of call. Mr. Higgins is a multi-millionaire and a member of many yacht clubs.

AND DECIDED TO ORGANIZE AN EDUCATIONAL CLUB

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held last night. There was a large attendance of members and considerable business was transacted. Vice President James Tully occupied the chair. Nine new members were admitted and a committee of three was appointed to organize an educational class for the benefit of the members. This class will prepare applicants for the civil service examinations to be held in the future.

There is considerable interest in the bowling league, and every Monday evening a knockout tournament is held with suitable prizes. A tournament will be held soon with ten teams entered. The society will hold its second ladies' night this evening in the hall in Stackpole street. The literary committee has charge of the evening's program, and it is expected that a large attendance will be present. Refreshments will be served.

MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

BALTIMORE, Nov. 17.—The laymen's missionary movement for the evangelization of the world which began its Baltimore convention with a big banquet at Fifth Regiment armory last night, continued its session today at Albright's Lyceum theatre. At the forenoon session addresses were delivered by Dr. Parker, president of the Anglo-Chinese college, Shanghai; Dr. J. C. McNaughton of Smyrna, and Dr. Ray of Richmond, Va.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Samuel H. Hines lodge, Knights of Pythias, was held last night. At the conclusion of the business meeting, C. C. Jordan called P. C. Robert J. Fullerton, president of the eighth district committee to the chair, who in an appropriate speech welcomed the committee on behalf of the lodge.

Grand Master of Exchequer, W. P. Beaman, of Somerville, spoke interestingly and he was followed by the P. C. Isaac W. McArthur, deputy grand chancellor of S. H. Hines lodge, who

WARRIORS OF YALE AND HARVARD WHO WILL CLASH IN CAMBRIDGE, NOV. 20

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—The annual clash between Yale and Harvard in the stadium at Cambridge, Mass., should furnish a fitting climax for one of the most successful seasons of football history. The two great rival colleges have seldom shown eleven of such promise. Neither has met defeat despite a long schedule, and no opposition has been as yet able to score on the Bulldogs. Harvard, playing perhaps slightly stronger colleges, does not enjoy a clean slate. But Percy Haughton's followers have never been pushed to the limit of their resources and, like Yale, have retained their trumps for the struggle that will mark the season's close. Yale is the logical favorite. The fact that old Eli had so easily disposed of all comers so far is bound to make Coach Jones' eleven the long end of the wagering. The results of the games that the two elevens engaged in justify such speculation. Yale beat Princeton 17 to 0, closed up in a measure in the second half. Dartmouth fell before Harvard, but the Green and White was able to score a field goal for three points against the Crimson's dozen. Dartmouth held the Tigers to a tie a week earlier and even to the minds of most critics outplayed the jungle aggregation. The work of Yale against Princeton was undoubtedly the more impressive. Harvard was fought to a standstill by Dartmouth in the first half. The Crimson did not have things much easier in the second period, for it was then that all the scoring was done. Yale scored in both sections against Princeton, one of the most peculiar things about the history of Yale-Harvard football is that never since the two teams played their first game in 1876 has Harvard been able to win two successive games from Yale. Several times Harvard has badly beaten Yale, but for some reason or other Yale never permitted her great foe to turn the trick twice in succession. This is a precedent that Harvard hopes to overthrow Nov. 20 and that Yale is determined she shall not. There is every incentive to Harvard to play desperately football this year. This is due to the fact that of the twenty-seven games which Yale and Harvard have played the Crimson has won but four to nineteen for Yale. There have been four tie games with 0-0 scores, and five times the two teams have not met. Last season Vic Kennard's lot beat Yale by a score of 4 to 0. The probable lineup of the elevens is as follows: Harvard—Browne, left end; McKay, left tackle; L. Whittington, left guard; P. Whittington, center; Fisher, right guard; Fish, right tackle; L. Smith, right end; O'Flaherty, quarterback; Corbett, left halfback; P. Smith, right halfback; Minot, fullback. Yale—Kilpatrick, left end; Hobbs, left tackle; Andrus, left guard; Cooney, center; Goebel, right guard; Lilley, right tackle; Vaughan, right end; Howe, quarterback; Philbin, left half back; Francis, right half back; Coy, fullback. Remarkable picture caught by camera man during recent Yale-Princeton struggle shows Cooney, Eli's giant center, breaking through the Tigers' line in first half of game.

WHIST PARTY

WAS HELD IN ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE HALL

A very pleasant whist party was held last night at St. Joseph's college hall by Mrs. Theophile Dequire, president of L'Association de Notre Dame de Bonsecours, who is president also of the refreshment table at the coming festival of the association. The proceeds of last night's party are for the benefit of the table.

Mrs. Dequire was ably assisted by Mrs. Samuel J. Bernier and Misses Adele Michael, Elsie Germain and Apollonie Caron, who secured. Frank Ricard was general manager, and Samuel J. Bernier and George Fontaine awarded the prizes. Miss Aurea Champagne and Mr. Lucien Champagne furnished a pleasing musical program. The winners of the prizes were: Mrs. Richard, Edmund Charlier, Mrs. Holsvert, Mrs. Lucille Valenard, H. Allard, C. Lessard, Mrs. P. Genard, Mrs. Malvina Gagne, Josephine Bussieres, Alice Banville, U. Toustine, Eugene Ricard, Mrs. Geo. Fontaine, Ernestine Champagne, Bertha Germain, Marie Hamel, Mrs. Belleville, M. L. Michael, Phillis Mercier.

BILLERICA

The parishioners of St. Andrew's church gathered at Father Mathew's hall last night and discussed plans for a reunion to be held on Dec. 9. The meeting was called to order by President Menuey of the Father Mathew society, who extended the use of the hall to the people of the parish.

After brief remarks by Rev. Fr. Foley, Thomas F. Sheridan was chosen permanent chairman, and Daniel J. Fitzpatrick was named secretary. Fr. Foley was unanimously elected treasurer.

The following heads of the various committees were appointed: Entertainment, Charles E. Fairbrother, music, Edmund H. Costello; honorary table, Miss Frances Rogers; ladylike table, Miss Ellysha Blake; refreshments, Mrs. Julia Kelly, chairman, Miss Nellie Cowdry, assistant; printing and advertising, T. F. Sheridan, D. J. Fitzpatrick, Rev. Fr. Foley, Joseph P. Menuey; reception committee, John Hughes, chairman,

BOWLING NOTES

Some Exciting Contests on the Alleys

There were some close and exciting contests on the alleys last night, nearly all of the local leagues having games scheduled. In the Manufacturers' league the Merrimacks defeated the Boott team and the Shaws trounced the Massachusetts.

The game between the Burkes and St. Peters in the Catholic league resulted in a victory for the former team. In the Odd Fellows league, Merrimack Valley and Wamecet won their games, the former defeating Integrity lodge while the latter put it all over Excelsior lodge.

FOOTBALL NOTES

Unbeaten elevens in the football arena have narrowed down to Harvard, Yale, Lafayette, New York university, Pennsylvania State and Minnesota. Of these only three, Harvard, Yale and Minnesota, have won all of their games, and only Yale has not been scored on. Of the six unbeaten teams, only New York university has scored less than 100 points and she has made close to it—showing how offensive strength has counted in making a successful season. Yale, with 201 points for herself and none for opponents, is easily at the top in the scoring table. One other team, however, has passed the 200 point mark. The Carlisle Indians have 223, and are again in the lead. Had Harvard and Yale bucked up against some of the teams the Indians have they could have had 403 points by this time if they had wanted them.

The Princetonians closed their season with opponents having practically one-half as many points as the Tigers themselves, 101 to 50 being the exact figures. That is an unusual record for a team of Princeton's standing. It looks like pronounced defensive weakness, when, in reality, it was offensive. That the Tigers fell down badly this year. Nearly half of their 101 points were made against one team, Harvard. One team, Vermont, has the same figures on each side of the ledger, 33 for and against opponents.

Total scores to date are as follows: Harvard, 103-9 (eight games); Yale, 201-0 (nine games); Princeton, 101-

50 (nine games); Pennsylvania, 129-32 (nine games); Cornell, 118-18 (seven games); Navy, 54-56 (seven games); Dartmouth, 88-18 (eight games); Brown, 75-47 (eight games); Lafayette, 150-12 (six games); Carlisle, 203-73 (ten games); Fordham, 72-12 (six games); New York University, 94-18 (six games); Syracuse, 97-75 (eight games); Williams, 90-35 (seven games); Pennsylvania State, 161-11 (five games); Amherst, 17-57 (seven games); Wesleyan, 83-44 (eight games); Virginia, 12-11 (five games); Gettysburg, 40-38 (five games); Pittsburg, 77-17 (six games); Lehigh, 77-51 (seven games); Colgate, 123-46 (seven games); Villanova, 80-27 (six games); Bowdoin, 66-50 (eight games); Holy Cross, 36-24 (seven games); Georgetown, 59-31 (six games); Maine, 42-71 (eight games); Washington and Jefferson, 109-20 (six games); Franklin and Marshall, 136-16 (seven games); Stevens, 12-126 (five games); Vermont, 38-38 (seven games); Trinity, 112-49 (seven games); Tufts, 33-51 (seven games); Minnesota, 153-12 (six games); Chicago, 121-84 (six games); Michigan, 160-22 (six games).

Accounts of the Cornell-Chicago game told of one play which had readers guessing. It was the play in which Cornell was said to have lost the ball on downs because there wasn't a sufficient part of the pizskin over the Chicago goal line. At that time a rule which says the "touchdown is made when the ball lawfully in possession of a player is declared dead by the referee, any part of it being on, above or behind the opponent's goal line," it was evident that either the referee or the historians were wrong. Here is what really happened, as narrated by Walter Egan:

"Referee Hackett, realizing the importance of the play, ferreted into the tangled bunch and got his hands on the ball as Simson was trying to shove it over the goal line. As the players untangled the crowd awaited the verdict with breathless expectancy. The players rose from the heap one by one, and when the last one got up the ball rested within six inches of the goal line and the day was saved for Chicago."

There was all sorts of discussion at New Haven as to whether a touch-back or a safety had been made following the first blocked kick, yet there couldn't have been a play in which it would have been easier to tell which was which. There wasn't any doubt whatever which side the impetus came from, and there would have been about as much sense in arguing that a touch-back had been made as in calling it a goal from the field. Nine out of ten safeties result from blocked kicks under precisely the same circumstances as Princeton made this safety.

Brown wants to smear the Indians in order to make up some ground lost by successive defeats at the hands of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale, and the Indians want to trim Brown in order to regain some vanished prestige. That's one motive in common which the rivals will have when they bump into each other at the Polo Grounds next Saturday.

Capt. Reed of the Vermont team congratulated Capt. Regnier of Brown last Saturday and told the latter that Brown was the best team in Vermont. Brown was the best team in Vermont. That observation should make food for reflection for Dartmouth folks. Vermont played Dartmouth early in the season, holding the Hanoverians to a 0 to 0 score, but of course Capt. Reed might have had reason to revise his opinion had his team met Dartmouth late in the year.

Bowl Presented to Boston Museum

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—What is considered the finest specimen in the world of a Persian rhyas lustre bowl, valued at more than $8000, and nearly 700 years old, has been given the Boston Museum of Fine Arts by Mrs. J. Montgomery Sears, who met a tragic death in an automobile accident in Rhode Island several months ago. The piece is intended as the foundation of a J. Montgomery Sears memorial collection of Persian ware in the new museum building.

CHIEF PINCHOT

Has Not Issued Ultimatum to President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—"The story that I have issued an ultimatum to the president like the recent 'conspiracy' is merely a silly fabrication. Of course I have done nothing of the kind nor anything that could be twisted into that meaning. The president was good enough to express his satisfaction with my work and I am going ahead with it."

Gifford Pinchot, the government's chief forester, in a statement issued today thus disposed of the reports published this morning that he had sent a letter to the president threatening to resign if secretary of the interior Ballinger remained in the cabinet.

Secretary Ballinger was one of the cabinet callers at the White House today and when he left the executive offices he displayed his usual good humor in listening to many questions as to the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot feud. The secretary said that he had merely taken up routine departmental matters with the president. Mr. Ballinger is entirely content with the situation and has made no recommendations to the president as to any action he should take regarding the controversy which has been waged for the past three or four months with little or no participation in it by the principals themselves.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE CONVENTION

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—The National municipal league convention opened today at a number of interesting papers following the business session. Tonight the members will join with members of the American Civic Association in a banquet.

City police departments were discussed by Prof. August L. Hutton, professor of political science in Cleveland University, Cleveland, and Arthur Woods who was fourth deputy police commissioner of New York under Gen. H. H. Hutton.

Richard Henry Dana of Cambridge, Mass., in a paper on "Municipal contracts" advocated taking such contracts out of politics.

NOTE OF WARNING REV. DR. SHAHAN

Sec'y Wilson

Has Been Made a Domestic Prelate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Schemes to defraud the farmer and the would-be farmer, meaning the city man who is attracted to the country by specious advertisements, are receiving the attention of the department of agriculture, and it is probable that Secretary Wilson in his forthcoming annual report will sound a note of warning to the over-credulous.

Vast tracts of almost pure sand left after the cutting of the pine trees are being advertised as farming lands of the finest description, undrained swamps are described as priceless possessions and all sorts of inducements are held out to attract purchasers of these alleged worthless lands. A favorite device is to set many thousands of slips or cuttings of fruit trees on common range lands incapable of producing anything better than sage brush and another is to offer to the unwary seeds or bulbs of some remarkable hybrid plant that will produce thousands of dollars an acre.

The real character of these lands, agricultural department officials state, might easily be ascertained by inquiry of the state authorities.

NEW HAIR TREATMENT

The air is full of floating dust, dirt and disease germs, which get into your hair. There is a natural oil on your head that holds the dust fast, and in a short time you have dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The pores in your scalp are stopped up, the hair roots get no nourishment, and then your hair begins to fall out. Cleanliness is the one thing needed. Tonic, re-nourishers, invigorators, and hair growers do not and can not remove the dirt that causes the trouble. You need Birt's Head Wash, the new scientific preparation. This will put the hair and scalp in a healthy, natural condition, so that faded, lifeless hair resumes its natural color. There is no alcohol or ammonia in it, as they are said to make hair turn gray prematurely. Birt's Head Wash is made of Refined Soap, Cocom Cocoon Oil, White of Eggs, Glycerine and Salicylic Acid. There are no better things than these known for cleansing the hair and scalp, and any doctor will tell you so if you ask him. Don't use common soaps and shampoos. They often contain too much alkali, and that is one of the most harmful things you can put on your head.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, rector of the Catholic university of America has just received from Rome the papal brief creating him domestic prelate of the pontifical court, with rank of monsignor. This new honor is regarded here as a recognition of Dr. Shahan's intellectual attainments and of his services in behalf of the Catholic university and of education in general.

LYMAN J. GAGE

To Marry Mrs. Ballou,
Wealthy Widow

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The mystery of the $25,000 home that Lyman J. Gage, ex-secretary of the treasury, is building at Point Loma, Cal., the home of the Katherine Tingley Theosophical society, was partly solved when it was announced that on Thanksgiving day he was to marry Mrs. F. A. Ballou. She is the daughter of a wealthy merchant of San Diego and declares she was converted into theosophy by Mr. Gage. The former cabinet member is now seventy-three years old and this will be his third marriage. His first wife was Sarah Etheridge of Hastings, Minn., and they were married in 1864. She died in 1874, and in 1887 he married Miss Cornelia Washburn of Denver.

GEO. CROKER SERIOUSLY ILL
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—No change was reported today in the condition of George Croker, the California millionaire, who lies seriously ill at his home here on Fifth avenue. Mr. Croker is suffering from cancer of the stomach and his brother, William Croker, said today that the patient's condition was such that the length of his life was problematical.

QUALITY

It is natural—at all events it is common—in advertising groceries to mention "low prices" as the chief inducement, but Quality should not be lost sight of, in fact it is vastly more important. The policy of this concern for years has been, and is today, QUALITY FIRST.

SCENES ATTENDING ILLINOIS MINE HORROR; STATE ATTORNEY AND A GALLANT RESCUER.

THE STATE TROOPS

Are on Guard at Scene of the Mine Disaster

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 17.—State troops were on the ground today when the sun rose on the scene of Saturday's disaster in the St. Paul coal mine where 300 men are still entombed.

Before dawn the daily pilgrimage of women to the mine began. The faithful vigil of the women has been relaxed only a few hours each day, though little hope is entertained that a living man or boy will be found when the mine is opened. The delay in recovering the bodies has driven scores of women almost to desperation. Hints of a possible demonstration against the state officers or mine officials reached the ears of State's Attorney Eckert yesterday and the troops were sent for.

All night they did sentinel duty about the mine and railroad cars containing mine inspectors and nurses and the private coach of President Harding of the St. Paul road. During the night the burning mine through the hoist shaft. Fire Chief Horan and Captain Kenney with engine 40 and a squad of Chicago firemen are in charge of this work.

The thoroughness of the persons directing the relief will make physical hardship and suffering improbable. A card index system is employed by S. C. Kingsley, superintendent of the united charities of Chicago, and E. P. Bicknell, director of the National Red Cross. The following cases are typical ones these men will have charge of:

Louis Gabelto, 49, his two brothers and his oldest son, John, 18, also were among the victims. Louis leaves a widow, who is a chronic invalid and six dependent children, the youngest five years old.

Joe Zouka, 35, perished. He leaves a widow and seven children, the eldest of whom is Anne, aged 13.

The shooting took place at about 25 minutes of 9. That more men were not hit by the flying bullets is remarkable, and largely due to the prompt action of Policeman Tallon, who succeeded in landing both prisoner and victim at the Relief hospital on Porter street in time for a winning struggle to be commenced to save their lives.

Mullen will live. The Italian was badly used by the bystanders, who rushed upon him just after the flames had badly beat him.

As near as can be learned, Mullen, Constantino and one or two others were engaged in a rather heated argument in a saloon at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets, and the Italian was forced to leave by the side door before he could satisfy his grievance. Mullen and some friends remained inside for some minutes and then stepped into the street from a door at the corner of Orleans and Summer streets, and had himself been pursued and borne down by the blows of an infuriated group of men who had witnessed the attempted homicide.

SIR THOS. LIPTON

Will Challenge for Race for the America's Cup

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Sir Thomas Lipton will challenge for a race for the America's cup to be sailed in 1911. Sir Thomas made this statement just before sailing for Europe today on the steamer Lusitania.

Sir Thomas has been here for several weeks to learn the attitude of the members of the New York Yacht club on the question of modification of the rules governing the America's cup. It is not known whether he obtained assurance from the club's members that a challenge would be received under the present racing rules of the New York Yacht club under which the Irish yachtsman desires to contest.

A number of yachtsmen were at the pier to bid Sir Thomas a safe voyage home. Before sailing Sir Thomas said: "I will challenge for a race in 1911. I cannot, of course, tell what attitude the New York Yacht club will take in the matter. It is up to them. I am sure the club will give the question full consideration. I believe they are just as anxious as anybody else for a race. They are good sportsmen and I am fully aware that they will do the right thing."

"I would have challenged for a race next summer, but it would have been impossible to get a boat ready for next season."

"If the New York yachtsmen insist on a challenge under the present rules for the international cup races I would stand no chance to win and that would not be sport. I shall issue my challenge with the largest type of boat."

Members of the New York Yacht club said today that until Sir Thomas challenge had been formally laid before them no definite statement could be made regarding its acceptance. Leading members of the club held the opinion that the old racing rules should govern contests for the America's cup.

REFORMS FOR IRELAND

T. P. O'Connor Says They Have Come by Peaceful Means

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and president of the United Irish League of Great Britain, was tendered an informal reception at the American house yesterday afternoon by the Boston central branch of the United Irish League.

The attendance was not confined to members of the league, invitations having been extended to friends of the Irish cause generally. About 100 persons, including several women, took advantage of the opportunity to pay their respects to the distinguished envoy and to hear what he had to say about the success of his present mission to this country.

Mr. O'Connor had just returned from his western trip. After the hand-shaking Judge Augustine J. Daly, president of the Boston central branch, called the meeting to order.

Mr. O'Connor spoke for nearly an hour, telling of the success of his mission to this country, of the benefits to the Irish cause that would be derived from it, and of what had been accomplished through the proceeds of previous similar missions to this and other countries.

Boston a Central Position

The speaker said he regarded Boston as one of the central spots of the fight for Ireland. He spoke of the big meeting recently held in Tremont temple, and of the generous contributions of money to the cause made at that time. He had since visited many cities in the west, and in the main the example of Boston has been followed, and altogether this has been one of the most successful missions a representative of the Irish party has had in the past 20 years.

In Chicago, where there was a meeting, no public subscriptions were called for, but after the meeting 20 or 25 men got together and in less than half an hour $8000 was raised. Joseph Medill McCormick of the Chicago Tribune, who was one of the party, said Chicago ought to raise $25,000, and Mr. O'Connor was invited to come to that city again before he started for home.

In St. Mr. O'Connor said, there was the same generous and enthusiastic Toledo and Columbus were rivals as to which would contribute the larger amount, and about $1500 was subscribed in each place.

Before leaving London Mr. O'Connor said that John Redmond told him that he thought $25,000 would be a fair amount to expect from the mission. Already $20,000 has been cabled across by T. E. Fitzpatrick, the national treasurer of the U. I. L. of America, and before he leaves this country, Mr. O'Connor said, he thinks $50,000 will be subscribed.

Stupendous Reforms

Speaking of what had been accomplished by what had been sent there in previous years, Mr. O'Connor said he had been in politics 28 years, and at the beginning of his career he had no idea or hopes of seeing in his lifetime the reforms that have already been secured. The dreams of those days have already been realized. More than half the land of Ireland is now in the hands of peasant proprietors, and when the amended land bill with the compulsory sale clause had passed into law the land war in Ireland will be over. The bill provides for the payment of a lot of money to the landlords, but its passage is conditional upon the landlords' promise to assist in the solution of the congested districts problem. The passage or rejection of the bill lays in the hands of the Irish members.

All of the reforms already brought about have been secured through peaceful, persistent and effective agitation by the Irish members of parliament and those who supported them financially and morally. Far less important reforms than these, which really amount to a revolution, said Mr. O'Connor, had been secured at enormous cost of money, and even blood. The money sent from here has been returned a thousandfold in what had been saved in rack rents, which had been abolished through the efforts of the Irish members of parliament. At present these number 81; in the next parliament they will number 83.

Mr. O'Connor said the party was unable to keep all its members in London during the present long session because of lack of funds. He believed that every member should be there all the time, for the sake of the British empire, in the cause of its government, may be decided any night.

Education Campaign Needed

He graphically described how the powerful ministry of Gladstone was disposed shortly after midnight one night in 1885. Six times during the present mission the Irish party has been in a position to depose it, but has refrained because it did not wish to jeopardize the land bill now before it. "I expect to be in Chicago," said Mr. O'Connor, "a week from next Wednesday, and by that time it is probable that there will be a division on the budget in the house of lords. If the budget is rejected I think we can tell not only the number of years, but the number of months that separate Ireland from home rule."

Mr. O'Connor said he was surprised at the scanty knowledge shown in this country of the conditions in Ireland. He believed there should be a campaign of education here, so that people could keep in touch and sympathy with what had been accomplished and what was planned.

Among the attentive listeners to Mr. O'Connor's talk were T. B. Fitzpatrick, A. Shuman, Michael J. Jordan, Michael Maynes, Michael H. Morrison, John O'Connell, Very Rev. At. J. McHugh, Dr. P. J. Timmons, Dr. Henry McLaughlin, Daniel P. Sullivan, M. A. Toland, Senator Duane of Waltham, Daniel Fitzgerald of New York, Col. P. J. Nevins and M. P. Curran.

Mr. O'Connor went to Haverhill last night. Tonight he will speak in Danvers, which will be the last meeting he will address in New England. Gov. Pothier, ex-Gov. Higgins, ex-Mayor P. J. McCarthy and a number of other influential citizens of Providence are actively engaged in arranging for his visit.

Mr. O'Connor expects to start home in about three weeks.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. William Hillier and Miss May Bartlett were united in marriage last night by Rev. George B. Dean at the parsonage of St. Paul's M. E. church. Only immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were present. Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at 57 Lawrence street, at which Mr. and Mrs. Hillier received their numerous friends and the congratulations showered upon them. Miss Bernice Brodie presided at the piano, and refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillier left on an early evening train for an extended trip to Canada. After their return they will make their home in this city.

DRACUT

The warrants for a special town meeting to be held in Grange hall, Dracut Centre, on Tuesday evening November 23, at 8 o'clock, have been posted and the routine of the business that will come before the meeting is contained in four articles which are as follows:

Article I. "To choose a moderator to preside over the meeting."

Article II. "To see if the town will vote to authorize and instruct the town treasurer to borrow with the approval of the selectmen a sum of money not to exceed $1000 for one year, for the purpose of exterminating the brown-tail and gypsy moths."

Article III. "To see if the town will vote to authorize and instruct the town treasurer to borrow with the approval of the selectmen a sum of money not to exceed $4000 for not more than five years, to be used under the provisions of chapter 173, acts of 1905, and instruct the selectmen to petition the highway commission for an allotment under said chapter and acts."

Article IV. "To see if the town will vote to determine what road said money as voted under article 3, shall be expended on."

causes nine-tenths of all sickness. Indigestion followed by headache, general listlessness, despondency, enfeebled action of the mind and body, cold, clammy feet and hands and paleness are sure signs of poor circulation. If not taken in time, serious trouble will follow. That feeling comes from sluggish blood.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

The World's Greatest Medicine will brighten you. A teaspoonful 3 or 4 times a day in half a glass of milk or water will make you strong and healthy. It enriches the blood, strengthens the circulation and tones up the whole system. It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, producing a liquid food, requiring no digestion, which is one of the most effective tonic stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only. All druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Medical booklet sent free to anyone who writes.

15 MORE FIREMEN

PERMANENT MEN TO BE ADDED TO DEPARTMENT

Clark Road Improvement Held Up Temporarily—Committee Appointed to Consider Purchase of Building Bath House & Purposes—Oakland Sewer Expense Was Steep

The board of aldermen met in regular session last night and voted unanimously to appropriate $1375 from the general treasury fund to pay the salaries of fifteen more firemen, permanent men, in December. Ten or twelve of the new men will go to the fire station in Centralville.

Chairman Gray called the board to order at a few minutes before 9 o'clock. James Brusman, appointed health commissioner, was confirmed under suspension of rule 13.

Thomas F. Duffy asked for permission to move a building from Victor street to Carolyn street, and a hearing was ordered at the next meeting.

Councilman Tracey's joint order for the appointment of a joint committee to consider the purchase of a building in Church street for bath house purposes was adopted. Chairman Gray named Aldermen Cheney and Stevens on the committee representing the board.

The recommendation of the street committee that the lines of Clark road be defined was read. There was no estimate of the cost in the order accompanying the communication, and Alderman Dexter asked for information in this connection.

Alderman Badger outlined the work of the committee in getting the matter in shape, and said the cost would be between $500 and $700, the money to be taken from the street appropriation. Alderman Connors, another member of the committee, favored the alterations.

Alderman Dexter moved that action be postponed until the next meeting, pending a definite estimate of the cost. Alderman Wainwright seconded, and the motion became a vote.

Other recommendations from the committee or streets were sent to the city clerk's office for seven days under the rules.

A relic of last year's sewer campaign came before the board, when Chairman Gray asked the members to certify to the cost of the Oakland sewer, so-called, and to declare the assessments. The cost was $54,510.53, and the assessment only $238.75.

A recess of ten minutes was ordered, and when the board came together again the recommendation of the committee on appropriations came up.

The matter of transferring $6000 from the appropriation to pave Merrimack and Middlesex streets to the general treasury fund was adopted.

The order setting aside $1000 for the health yard labor was adopted.

For fifteen additional firemen, $1375, representing wages in December, was voted.

For soldiers relief $1400 was voted from the general treasury fund.

By vote $500 was transferred from park department labor to park department sundries.

CHICAGO DOCTOR

Denies That He Murdered His Wife

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Dr. Haldane Cleminson took the witness stand yesterday to refute the charge that he murdered his wife. He was pale but composed.

The defendant was preceded as a witness by his mother, Mrs. Isiah Cleminson, who denied telling anyone that the way Dr. Cleminson treated his wife was shameful, or that the race suicide theory had been upheld by her in her son's home.

Dr. Cleminson testified that after the birth of his first child his wife's health was frail.

Describing his wife's condition preceding the night of her death Dr. Cleminson said: "About 3 o'clock I awoke. She was pale, cold and perspiring. I stayed up with her for an hour, giving her medicine twice. Then I put her to bed again and she seemed all right. At noon next day I telephoned from my office to my mother, who was at my home. She said Nora was all right."

"On the night of Mrs. Cleminson's death we had a light dinner and I conversed with Nora about a patient was attending. We went to bed about 10 o'clock.

"About 5 a. m. I awoke. I had a feeling of nausea. I touched my wife with my foot. She was cold and did not answer. I saw a six-ounce bottle on a chair beside the bed; also a cloth."

Witness said he telephoned for a doctor and then returned to the bedroom. He thought his wife had committed suicide and to hide the shame he thought of making it look to be the deed of a burglar. "I scattered everything in the house in disorder and hid some things that I wanted to make believe were stolen," he said. "I scattered burnt matches about the floor."

CAN BUY OPIUM

At Deer Island, Says George Steele

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—A prisoner at Deer Island can get all the opium he wants if he has the money to pay for it, according to a statement made to Judge Wait yesterday by George A. Steele of Dorchester in the superior criminal court.

Steele, who was charged with forgery and larceny, declared that all his fences were due to his addiction to the use of opium. He asked the judge not to send him to Deer Island, where opium could be had, but to let him go to a sanitarium till cured of his desire for opium, and then sentence him if he decided to.

Steele has been to both Deer Island and the state prison, and is at present on parole from state prison.

Judge Wait decided to turn Steele over to the care of Probation Officer Keefe for two months, in order to allow him to go to a sanitarium. Steele will have to get someone to put up $300 bonus for him, however.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MET. A well attended meeting of the Woman's association of the Kirk Street church, was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Frank E. Stearns, 122 Eleventh street. Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. John A. Simpson being the hostesses.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. C. H. Taintor representing the Church Building society. She gave an interesting address describing her work in that society.

Mrs. Louise Gibson sang a solo during the meeting. Light refreshments were served and a social hour followed the meeting.

STETSON HEARING

Resumed by Directors of Church

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Despite reiterated pledges of loyalty and devotion to Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the Christian Science leader, the hearing given Mrs. Augustus Stetson, former first reader and at present pastor emeritus of the New York Christian Science church, as to her teachings as a healer, was continued today by the directors of the mother church.

It was Mrs. Stetson's third day before the board. She came from her hotel in an automobile and then stepped quickly through the narrowly opened door of the church without pausing to answer questions.

CITY OF LOWELL

Receives About $140,000 From Corporation and Other Taxes

The city of Lowell has received from the state on account of corporation tax the sum of $105,223.56. That amount is for this year and was paid the city by check from the state treasurer. Last year's corporation tax for Lowell was $61,353.15. Under the old law, the city or town in which each individual stockholder lived was credited with his share of the tax upon the corporation in which he held stock. Under the new law, the non-resident's individual share of his corporation tax is divided equally between his place of residence and the place in which his holdings are located.

Bank Tax
The national bank tax paid the city by the state this year was received on Monday and amounted to $3744.34. Other reimbursements to the city from the state included, state aid $17,259; military aid $1669; soldiers' relief $420; street railway tax $10,824.41.

AWARDED $6000

Woman Had Originally Sued for $5000

PITTSBURG, Nov. 17.—Forced to give up her seat on an excursion train to an intoxicated negro, separated from her sick babe who was on a seat with her and ejected from the train by railroad men in a lonely stretch of country, because she refused to submit to the alleged outrage, was the story submitted to a jury yesterday by Mrs. Mary Crowley in her suit in a local court for $5000 damages against the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroad company. The result was that the sympathetic men in the box awarded the plaintiff $6000, $1000 more than she asked.
